539 ON PAY ROLL OF GOVERNMENT LINKED TO REDS

Listed as Members of Radical League.

A list of 200 government employés in key positions named by the Dies committee as members of the American League for Peace and Democracy, which has been identified as a communist front organization, will be found on page 7.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—An uproar on the floor of the house followed the publication today of a list of 539 government officials and employés who are members of the American League for Peace and Democracy, an organization which has the financial support of the communist party of America.

Representative Dempsey, who assailed release of list of names

The Dies committee on un-American activities made the list public over the strenuous protests of administration supporters. More than 200 of the employés named occupy positions of trust and importance in the government, receiving salaries ranging up to $10,000 yearly. Most of the remainder are employed in relatively minor capacities.

Sixteen in Navy Department.

Sixteen of the league members were revealed as navy department employés and five members are employed in the war department. They occupy positions as draftsmen, engineers, and machinists. Many witnesses have testified before the committee that members of communist front organizations are required to give information concerning their work to the communist party when called upon to do so.

Among the more prominent league members listed were: Edwin S. Smith, member of the National Labor Relations board, and Louis Bloch, member of the Maritime Labor board, each of whom receives $10,000 a year from the government.

Other high government officials listed and their salaries were: Oscar L. Chapman, assistant secretary of the interior, $9,000; Mordecai Ezekiel, director of the Agricultural Adjustment administration, $8,000; Merrill G. Murray, director of analyst division, Social Security board, $7,000; Harry Lamberton, chairman of the league, attorney for the Rural Electrification administration, $6,000; T. E. O'Callahan, public relations counsel, R. E. A., $8,000; Willard W. Beatty, chief of Indian affairs bureau, $7,500, and Carroll Daugherty, chief economist, department of labor, $7,000.

Causes Storm in House.

The committee action stirred the house to excited debate for the first time at this special session. Representative Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.] called upon those named to repudiate their connections with the communistic organization or resign from the federal pay roll. Representative John M. Coffee, radical Democrat from Washington, denounced the committee for attempting to intimidate government employés and declared that the administration should condemn Chairman Martin Dies [D., Tex.] and his colleagues on the committee.

It was learned that the committee had been subjected to pressure from house leaders and government officials of high rank in an endeavor to suppress the list. Representative John J. Dempsey of New Mexico, New Deal member of the committee, planned a motion to reconsider the committee's decision to release the list.

Committee Is Condemned.

Dempsey was late for the morning session, and Representative Noah M. Mason [R., Ill.] insisted that the list should be released. Dempsey, arriving a few minutes later, bitterly condemned the committee and engaged in an altercation with Mason which occasioned angry words and table pounding.

In the house debate Representative Jerry Voorhis [D., Cal.], a left winger who opposed extension of the

X-RAY OF AN ALIEN-MINDED AMERICAN

Hunt Insane Winnie Judd, Trunk Killer

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 25 [Special].—Gov. Bob Jones made a personal investigation tonight into the method by which Winnie Ruth Judd, trunk slayer of two women, escaped from the Arizona State Hospital for the Insane.

Her absence was disclosed at noon today when attendants turned back the sheet of her bed. The form they thought was that of a sleeping Mrs. Judd was instead made of boxes, bottles, and cakes of soap. She had stayed away from a dance for inmates last night to arrange the ruse.

Hospital attachés were questioned by Y. C. White, executive secretary to the governor, to ascertain whether the killer, who is under sentence to be hanged if she ever recovers her sanity, was aided in her escape.

Prosecuting Attorney Richard Harless of Maricopa county, who is assisting in the investigation, said any possible criminal action in connection with Mrs. Judd's escape would await her recapture and the disclosure of responsibility for her flight.

Skeleton Key Opens Lock.

It was disclosed that only one locked door stood between Mrs. Judd and freedom. That one door was equipped with an ordinary house lock that can be opened with the common skeleton keys procurable in many stores.

Mrs. Alice Yager, an attendant in the half-block long ward in which Mrs. Judd slept with other women inmates, said she put Mrs. Judd to bed at 10:50 p. m. last night. Fifteen minutes later she returned and found Mrs. Judd sitting on the edge of the bed.

About an hour later Mrs. Judd appeared at the home of her aged parents, the Rev. and Mrs. H. J. McKinnell, a mile from the hospital. She stayed 15 minutes, then vanished into the night, they told police.

Leaves Letter to Governor.

She left with her mother a rambling and somewhat incoherent letter addressed to Gov. Jones. In the letter, which Mrs. McKinnell delivered to the governor's office, she said she would telephone the executive regarding a proposal to return.

"I'm only leaving to see my father and my husband," she wrote. "I'll come back when you promise that Dr. Saxe [Dr. Louis J. Saxe, hospital superintendent] quits persecuting me. He took my privileges away because he hates me."

Her husband, Dr. W. C. Judd of Los Angeles, now a patient in the veteran's hospital at Sawtelle, Cal., expressed the hope that she would surrender. Altho they had been separated before the slayings in 1931, Dr. Judd has stood by his wife.

Altho the Rev. Mr. McKinnell, former pastor in Darlington, Ind., and his wife insisted they did not know their daughter's whereabouts, Sheriff Lon Jordan said he wouldn't be surprised if Mrs. McKinnell produced the fugitive momentarily.

Authorities operated on the theory she still is in Phoenix, but they notified many cities, particularly those along the Mexican border.

Slayer of Two Nurses.

The Judd trunk murder cases provided a sensation eight years ago. Mrs. Judd, then 26 years old, killed Agnes Anne Leroi and Hedvig Samuelson, two young nurses with whom she had lived, in a fit of jealousy in a Phoenix bungalow on Oct. 16, 1931.

Their dismembered bodies were found two days later in Los Angeles in trunks which dripped blood. Mrs. Judd surrendered after a widespread hunt. Brought to trial, she twice was sentenced to be hanged. In 1933 she was adjudged insane and confined in the state hospital.

GOVERNMENT SPENDS 3 BILLION SINCE JULY 1; DEFICIT IS 1⅓ BILLION

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25 (AP).—Federal spending passed $3,000,000,000 today after less than four months of the fiscal year.

The treasury said it had spent $3,040,436,961 and had received revenues of $1,686,004,851, leaving a deficit of $1,354,432,109 accumulated since July 1.

Last year, when revenues were somewhat larger and expenditures somewhat smaller, the deficit on the corresponding date was $1,054,879,522.

Borrowing to pay for the deficit has brought the federal debt to a record high of $40,964,964,869, about $2,500,000,000 more than a year ago.

Slug Casket Worker; Hint Strike Trouble

Joseph Lowicz, 27 years old, a worker at the Central Metallic Casket company, 2333 Logan boulevard, was attacked by two men yesterday and beaten so severely with auto jack handles that he was still in the Walther Memorial hospital early today. He was also robbed of his automobile.

The attack occurred at Hoyne avenue and Walton street while Lowicz was on his way from his home at 2006 Walton street to the casket plant. It was the second instance of violence believed to have grown out of a strike called against the company in August by the Casket Makers union, local 166, an American Federation of Labor affiliate.

Bomb Superintendent's Home.

The first was the stench bombing on Oct. 8 of the home of Willard O. Hedrick, 807 South boulevard, Evanston, factory superintendent. Police questioned officials of the union, who denied any part in the bombing. Last night Hedrick said the plant is picketed constantly but that there had been no open violence there. Loyal workers, so far, have not required protection.

"Only about 35 men went on strike," he said. "They were in the minority but they are trying to force a closed shop."

Lowicz said he did not know his assailants, who are being sought by the police from the vague descriptions the victim was able to give.

Beat Baker and Helper.

Another violent episode was reported to police by John Vecchioni, 45 years old, owner of a bakery at 516 North Leavitt street. He said four men entered his place yesterday morning, beat him and his assistant, Frank Fifer, and told him he had better get out of business.

"Then they smashed the front door," he continued, "and took Fifer's watch. They poured some bad smelling liquid over all the flour, eggs, and sugar. I don't know what it's all about. Fifer and I belong to the bakers' union."

Special British Department to Aim Propaganda at U. S.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Britain today revealed it has set up a special section of the ministry of information to direct an increasing flow of propaganda into the United States. Lord MacMillan, minister of information, said the ministry had been streamlined, with special attention being paid to America. He added the section set aside for a propaganda barrage on the United States "is quite special and not put in the same category as relations with the others [countries]."

SOVIETS REJECT ENGLISH RULES ON CONTRABAND

Protest Regulations Are Unlawful.

'Fantastic,' London Says

LONDON, Oct. 26, Thursday (AP).—The British Press association quoted an unnamed London authority on international law today as saying soviet Russia's objection to the British contraband list was "fantastic."

"The old time distinction of contraband as such articles as rifles and ammunition has gone by the board," he was quoted as saying. "Any government can declare that anything of use to the army is contraband."

He said the soviet complaint apparently was based on the declaration of London drafted at an international conference in 1909 and added: "The declaration of London was never ratified by any country and it went west in the first week of the great war. Therefore its provisons have never had any validity whatever."

MOSCOW, Oct. 25 (AP).—Soviet Russia tonight refused to recognize the validity of Great Britain's contraband regulations and informed the London government that she reserved the right to claim compensation for any losses incurred in enforcement of them.

In a note handed to British Ambassador Sir William Seeds by Assistant Foreign Commissar Vladimir Potemkin, the soviet government declared it considered the British contraband list a violation of the principles of international law.

The Russian note, replying to British notification of the contraband list and the establishment of contraband control ports, said:

"The announcement by unilateral act of the British government list of goods proclaimed war contraband in the note of Sept. 6 violates the principles of international law which found their general expression in the international declaration of regulations of naval warfare of Feb. 26, 1909, gravely impairs the interests of neutral countries and destroys international trade.

Cites Goods Included.

"By including in its lists of contraband such articles and goods as fuel, paper, cotton, fodder for agricultural animals, footwear, clothing and materials for their manufacture and even all foodstuffs—bread, meat, butter, sugar and other foodstuffs—the British government in fact proclaims contraband basic articles of mass consumption and creates the possibility of unlimited arbitrariness in classing all articles of popular consumption as war contraband.

"This inevitably leads to profound disorganization of the supply of the peaceful civil population with necessities, gravely endangers the health and lives of the peaceful population and portends innumerable calamities for the masses of people.

"It is known that universally recognized principles of international law do not permit air bombardment of peaceful populations of women, children and aged people.

Rejects Note as Invalid.

"On the same grounds the soviet government deems it not permissible to deprive a peaceful population of foodstuffs, fuel and clothing and thus subject children, women and aged people and invalids to every hardship and to starvation by proclaiming goods of popular consumption as war contraband.

"Proceeding from the above, the soviet government declares that it does not agree to the note of the British government of Sept. 6 and refuses to recognize any validity of this note.

"The government of the U. S. S. R., similarly declares that it does not agree to the British note of Sept. 11 and that it does not recognize any validity of this note which informs of unilateral institution by the Brit-

LINKING 3D TERM BOOM WITH WAR AROUSES PARTY

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace, who today launched a third term boom for President Roosevelt as a war measure, set the Washington political pot to boiling over.

The most extraordinary aspect of the Washington reaction to the utterance of Secretary Wallace in San Francisco was the refusal of most administration leaders in congress to comment and the critical attitude manifested by the few Democrats who did permit themselves to be quoted.

Republicans generally reflected the view that what they long have suspected is coming true. This was that the war emergency would be seized upon by the New Dealers to justify a Roosevelt third term on the theory that the country should not "change horses when crossing a stream."

Wallace touched off the third term boom in a press conference at San Francisco.

Feels Nation Needs Talent.

"Since the outbreak of the war in Europe," he said in response to a question, "it has become apparent that the country needs the talents and training of Mr. Roosevelt, not only in meeting problems of the country that arise out of the situation abroad but in handling domestic problems."

The secretary paused, contemplated that asseveration with satisfaction, and then proceeded with a careful weighing of each word, according to the press dispatches.

"Mr. Roosevelt's background," he went on, "seems to equip him with exceptional qualifications as a helmsman to steer the country thru both foreign and domestic troubles to a safe harbor.

"The President's experience and foreign contacts, which have extended over a period of 45 years, put him in a very unusual position to understand what's up in the foreign field."

Echoes Ickes' Boom.

Several months ago Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes began shouting for a third term for the President, but Wallace is the first cabinet member to attempt to capitalize the war crisis in the interest of the reëlection of Mr. Roosevelt.

No comment was obtainable from the White House, where it was apparent, however, that the Wallace utterance was regarded with the utmost complacency. More surprising was the disturbance it created among the Democratic leaders on Capitol hill.

"This is no time to discuss such matters!" snapped Senator Sherman Minton [D., Ind.]. "There will be plenty of time for that next year."

Senator Elbert D. Thomas [D., Utah], another administration supporter, adopted a similar attitude.

What both these Democratic leaders deplored was that Wallace should be introducing a partisan issue in the midst of the Democratic love feast over the neutrality repealer.

Fear Defeat on Repealer.

Among Democratic senators who have been at odds with the administration, but now are supporting the President on the neutrality repealer, are Josiah W. Bailey N. C.], Edward R. Burke [Neb.], Harry F. Byrd [Va.], Walter F. George [Ga.], Guy M. Gillette [Ia.], Carter Glass [Va.], William H. King [Utah], Millard E. Tydings [Md.], and Frederick Van Nuys [Ind.].

It was patently the fear of some administration leaders that Secretary Wallace's statement would upset the political applecart and jeopardize passage of the neutrality repealer.

Senator Burke said that just because he is supporting the administration bill to repeal the arms embargo, it should not be assumed that he has yielded one iota in his opposition to the third term idea.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, a leading Republican presidential possibility, expressed amazement that the war should be urged as a reason for a third term.

"I am unable to understand," he said, "why a war against unprecedented dictatorial power abroad should be a reason why America must embrace unprecedented executive authority at home. Secretary Wallace has made another enthusiastic error."

Gary Goes Rockefeller One Better—Hands Out Quarters

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 25 (AP).—Gary Gray, 37 years old, a small man who earns his living at odd jobs, stood on a busy street in the downtown business section today handing out quarters to passersby. "I'm going Rockefeller one better," he said. "John gave out dimes. It's my money isn't it?" Some persons, suspecting a ruse, refused the coins.

CITY OF FLINT'S SAILORS SAFE IN RUSSIAN PORT

Reds Free Nazi Prize Crew; Ship Held.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25 (AP).—Laurence A. Steinhardt, American ambassador to Moscow, reported to the state department tonight that the soviet foreign office had assured him that the forty-two American officers and crew members of the City of Flint were safe aboard the freighter at Murmansk, northern Russia. The state department indicated that further details were expected soon.

The status of the crew had been the principal concern of American authorities since the freighter was seized by a German raider, and was taken by a German prize crew to Tromsoe, Norway, then to the isolated Russian port 200 miles above the Arctic Circle.

German Crew Released.

MOSCOW, Oct. 25 (AP).—The soviet Russian government tonight announced the release from internment of the German prize crew of 18 men which sailed the American freighter City of Flint to Murmansk. It was understood that the Germans were not being put back aboard the vessel.

The announcement by Tass, the soviet news agency, added that marine authorities at Murmansk, to which the City of Flint was taken on Monday, had decided that the need of repairs to the Flint's machinery had necessitated taking the steamer to port.

Will Examine Cargo.

"For the time being," Tass said, the steamer will remain tied up at Murmansk for "precise verification of the composition of its cargo."

[This announcement appeared to indicate that soviet authorities had agreed with Germany on at least one point, that necessity compelled the City of Flint to put in at a neutral port. This point may prove important in determining final disposition of the ship under international law. The announcement indicated, also, that another German contention, that the ship was carrying contraband, still was under examination.]

Seek Facts in Berlin.

BERLIN, Oct. 25 (AP).—Germany and the United States of America attempted today to unravel the circumstances relating to the Nazi seizure of the American freighter City of Flint which Germans said carried a contraband cargo for England.

An authorized German source said the captured freighter had a "good cargo" and that the Germans were asking soviet Russia to let them have it back from Murmansk.

[What the Germans meant by "good cargo" was not explained.]

American Chargé d'Affaires Alexander Kirk visited Baron Ernst von Weizsaecker, secretary of state in the German foreign office, and was told that Germany was discussing the question with Russia. This was the first acknowledgment that Germany officially knew of the ship's seizure.

The American consul at Hamburg was understood to have called upon the German prize court for information on the legality of the seizure.

Called "Unseaworthy."

German quarters informally said the ship was taken because of contraband aboard. She was taken to Tromsoe, these quarters said, because she was "not seaworthy." For a similar reason, it was indicated, she was then taken to Murmansk, where the prize crew was "detained."

[Dispatches from Oslo, Norway, said the City of Flint, in charge of the German crew, put in at Tromsoe Friday night and discharged British sailors who had been rescued at sea. A Norwegian explanation held that the prize crew had a right to call at a neutral port for supplies and resume its journey within 24 hours. A representative of the American legation at Oslo called at the foreign office yesterday to discuss the call of the City of Flint at Tromsoe. Norwegian warships were in the harbor at the time.]

Charge Maps Concealed.

The "unseaworthiness" of the City of Flint, German quarters said, was caused by the American crew's concealment of maps essential for navigation. Hence, they said, the ship could not proceed safely thru the war areas of the North and Baltic seas.

[A statement in Russia that the freighter was being held only temporarily led to expressions of confidence in Washington, D. C., that she would be released. The view was taken in Washington that Russia, if she opened her ports to German vessels and their prizes, would be going beyond the limits of neutrality.]

Soviet Holds 20 Ships.

NARVIK, Norway, Oct. 25 (AP).—The skipper of a Swedish tramp steamer arriving from Archangel, Russian Arctic port, reported today that 20 foreign freighters were being held in that port by Russian authorities.

He said that the vessels could not get their loadings and that Russian authorities forbade them to leave. He said many of the crews were running short of food.

His ship was permitted to leave Archangel, he said, only after a Swedish diplomatic protest to Moscow backed by Swedish refusal to permit a Russian ship of the same tonnage to leave a Swedish port.

STOP 21 AMERICAN SHIPS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25 (AP).—The state department disclosed tonight that 21 American vessels, including the City of Flint, had been detained by belligerents since Sept. 1 for examination of papers or cargo. The City of Flint, seized by the Germans, was taken to a Russian port.

Twelve ships were detained by the British, six by the French, and three by the Germans, the department asserted. It noted that all cases of detention may not have been reported.

Most of the vessels were held for a few days or a week for examination of papers or cargo and then released. The British still are holding two, the Sundance of the South Atlantic Steamship company, which was detained in London on Oct. 11, and the Oakman of the Lykes Brothers Steamship company, detained on Oct. 13.

Cargoes Are Requisitioned.

The cargoes of two ships were requisitioned by the British. One of these, the Saccarappa of the South Atlantic Steamship company, was carrying phosphate and cotton; the other, the Warrior of the Waterman Steamship corporation, was carrying phosphate.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull said at his press conference today that where cargoes had been taken from American ships by the British they were purchased from the owners. The only complaints by owners of the vessels, he said, have been of delay in releasing the ships after examination, and the department has made efforts to expedite their release.

Germans Free Ships.

Aside from the City of Flint, which was seized by a German raider and taken to Murmansk, on Kola bay, Russia, the ships intercepted by German authorities have been held only for a matter of hours. With regard to the City of Flint, the state department merely noted that details were unknown.

The Lykes company's Hybert was detained on Sept. 10 by a German submarine. In two hours, after its papers were examined, it was allowed to proceed, but was warned not to use its radio for 24 hours. A German submarine halted the Wacosta of the Waterman corporation on Sept. 9 for three hours while its papers were examined and its holds searched.

Judge Desort Transferred to Divorce Court Bench

The executive committee of the Superior court yesterday transferred Judge Rudolph Desort from the law to the chancery division. There he will hear divorce cases. Judge Paul McWilliams of Litchfield was assigned to hear the cases that had been on Judge Desort's calendar. Judge W. W. Damron of Harrisburg is to hear the cases of Judge John P. McGoorty, who has been ill. The changes will be effective next Monday.

British Planes Over Germany

Air miles from London to cities in Germany over which, it was reported yesterday, British planes had made night flights. There was no information as to the starting point of the planes, which probably would sweep in arc indicated by dotted line to avoid flying over neutral Holland.

DID YOU NOTICE?

Items Which Weren't Headlined in Recent War News

Secretary of State Cordell Hull announced that the government learned that only a small portion of the cargo of the American freighter City of Flint, which was taken by a German prize crew to a Russian harbor, was on the German contraband list. From Norfolk, Va., came word from the wife of Jesse V. Robertson, third assistant engineer on the freighter, who wrote her that the boat was "loaded to the hilt with contraband cargo."

Private conversations in Belgium reveal dissatisfaction by neutrals that such big powers as America and Italy are virtually immune from the treatment accorded weaker powers whose boats are detained by the British while being searched for contraband.

Charles Boyer, popular French movie actor now stationed with the army in southwestern France, probably will be recalled to undertake a propaganda mission to America, according to reports from Paris.

Acting under strict regulations concerning medical prescriptions, Germany's medical leader, Dr. Conti, has cut down the dose of castor oil to a maximum of 1⅜ ounces.

John Gray Faron and George Kidder-Smith, Princeton graduates, were arrested in Sweden when the police thought they showed too much interest in military objectives near a child welfare institution they were photographing. They were released after a two hour interrogation.

Residents of Riehen, Switzerland, thought the toy balloons which drifted down on city streets came from a nearby carnival. Investigation disclosed they carried excerpts of a Hitler speech. The balloons apparently had been released in Baden, and were intended for French soldiers across the Rhine. A vagrant wind changed their route, however.

Germany ordered special premilitary training for members of the Hitler Youth organization who are between the ages of 16 and 18. In this fashion, it was explained, the army will be assured of already partly trained recruits.

FRENCH SEIZE SHIP CARRYING OIL TO GERMANY

PARIS, Oct. 25 (AP).—Maritime authorities announced today that a French armed trawler had taken the 7,910 ton Norwegian tanker Elise into an unidentified French port with 11,000 tons of oil which they said was consigned to Germany. The authorities said the Elise was halted and boarded off Cape Finisterre, on the northwest coast of Spain, while en route from Syria to Rotterdam.

63 Seamen Lost.

LONDON, Oct. 25 (AP).—Sixty-three seamen, probably East Indians, were reported missing today after the sinking yesterday of the Glasgow steamer Clan Chisholm. The Clan Line, owners of the ship, told the British Press association: "We understand that only 17 of the native crew of 80 have been rescued. All the European officers were saved." The press association said the Clan Chisholm was "sunk off the Spanish coast, presumably by a U-boat while on a homeward voyage to Britain."

Dutch Hear Heavy Gunfire.

ZANDVOORT, The Netherlands, Oct. 25 (AP).—Many persons in this west coast resort town reported hearing sounds of heavy gunfire this morning, seemingly coming from the North sea. There were later indications the firing might have come from Netherlands' coastal batteries shooting at belligerent planes over Dutch territory.

FOOD BLAMELESS IN DYSENTERY AT MARINE HOSPITAL

Tests of food used at the United States Marine hospital, 4141 Clarendon avenue, have shown that it is not the source of the attack of dysentery which struck 25 patients a week ago, hospital authorities said yesterday. Physicians said food samples were analyzed in the hospital's laboratory and also by the Chicago health department, and found free of contamination. All victims have recovered or are recovering, physicians said. No new cases have been found, and no quarantine has been imposed.

PEACE, SECURITY, LIBERTY BRITISH WAR AIMS—EDEN

Hitler Forced War on Us, Empire Told.

LONDON, Oct. 25 (AP).—Anthony Eden, dominions minister, in a broadcast to the empire tonight said the war aim of Great Britain was "an international order that shall be respected for religious toleration, for the denial and not the worship of an aggressive nationalism, for liberty, security, and peace."

He declared Adolf Hitler had forced the war upon Britain by "flagrant breaches of faith," but already had "lost the initiative."

"The aggressor's early advantage is spent," Eden said.

Sees Good Coming from War.

Recalling the world war, he continued: "We are determined this time good will come out of the sacrifices now demanded."

Eden said ministers of the dominions who are coming to London for coördination talks would discuss the scheme for rapid expansion of the air force with training centered in Canada.

"No action the German forces can take will influence this development, which has no parallel in the world's history," Eden said. "This time it is the new world which is offering its help to determine the future of the old."

Refuses Armed Truce.

Eden declared that the outcome of the war could not be in question and that a "patchwork peace, an armed truce must be utterly unacceptable to us."

"It is not because we love war, but because we hate it, that we are determined to go on this time until we have finally made an end of a system that has grown to power on breaking promises and glorifying force," he said. "This time we must not only win the war, but win the after war and the latter may prove the most difficult task."

The air ministry announced that Royal Air Force scouting expeditions had succeeded in reaching Berlin, Hamburg and Magdeburg in night flights. Magdeburg is the site of a branch of the Krupp munition works, 200 miles from the German coast.

Recruits Auxiliary Corps.

The war office began recruiting an auxiliary military corps of men from 35 to 50 to insure the maintenance of all kinds of supplies to the British armies.

Suspension of football betting pools kicked back with announcement of a 10 per cent drop in postal revenues for September as compared with a year ago.

The postoffice handled bet payments, which were required to be made by postal order. Postoffice receipts from the pools traffic last football season were $13,469,644.

Pools were banned at the outbreak of war lest the traffic burden the postal staff. Pool promoters have been seeking approval for a substitute arrangement.

Publisher Quits Ministry.

Lord Camrose, publisher of the Daily Telegraph, who was appointed chief assistant to Lord McMillan, the minister of information, Sept. 18, told the house of lords "I have managed to organize myself out of a job."

"I have arranged with Lord MacMillan that I should no longer occupy an official position in the ministry itself," he said during debate on the much-criticized ministry which controls propaganda and censorship.

Lord Camrose explained that he had joined to help "with press matters which now have been removed."

STEAL $1,475 FURS FROM HOTEL.

A $1,200 mink coat and a $275 fur jacket were taken yesterday from the room of Miss Eleanor Burke in a hotel at 1020 Lawrence avenue, she reported to Summerdale police.

AMERICAN GUNBOAT WATCHES OVER NAZI SHIP IN MEXICAN PORT

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 25 (AP).—The American gunboat Erie of the neutrality patrol stood guard tonight over the German freighter Havelland in the harbor of Manzanillo on the Mexican Pacific coast to see that she does not violate regulations of the American neutrality zone.

The Erie and American planes from Panama were ordered to search for the Havelland last week when the freighter failed to appear at Panama for transit thru the canal. The cargo vessel left Punta Arenas, Costa Rica, Oct. 8. The planes located the Havelland at sea and radioed the Erie. The Erie trailed the Havelland, but did not halt or search her.

It was reported the Havelland was having engine trouble and is seeking to transship her cargo of cocoa, oil, sugar, and copra, originally destined to American ports, to American ships.

20 GERMAN WAR CHIEFS GATHER IN A SECRET PARLEY

Nazis Threaten to Rain Bombs on England.

BERLIN, Oct. 25 (AP).—Military leaders met at the chancellery today and observers wondered whether the conference was concerned with Germany's avowed "fight to the finish" against Great Britain and France.

More than 20 generals and staff officers attended the meeting, which lasted several hours. Foreign circles said Adolf Hitler participated in at least part of the conference.

The German press with one voice echoed Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop's "fight to the finish" speech at Danzig last night with such assertions as "there will be no stopping now."

Threaten to Bomb England.

The National Zeitung of Essen, close to Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, aviation minister and No. 2 Nazi, intimated once again that bombs may shower on the British Isles as Nazi patience over Britain's "inability to understand" apparently neared an end.

"The moment has come when the war desired by England must rain down upon the British Isle itself," National Zeitung said.

"The patience of a people has limits. In their boundless indignation the German people to a man now turn against the British war inciters in order, by a fight which hereafter will be relentless, to creat the necessary guarantees for their security from such irresponsible machination."

Nazis regarded as favorable the reaction in neutral countries, especially Italy, to Von Ribbentrop's address expressing German determination to fight on.

Pins War Guilt on British.

"This leads to the belief,' said an article entitled "Fight!" in the Boersen-Zeitung, "that not only the meaning and full implication of Von Ribbentrop's statement are understood but that the full measure of Britain's war guilt is recognized."

Military authorities declined to comment on British claims that reconnoitering planes flew over Berlin, Hamburg, and Magdeburg last night.

Army to Recall 1,300 Junior Reserve Officers

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25 (AP).—The war department announced plans today to recall approximately 1,300 junior reserve officers to six months' active service for the first of the year, provided congress makes funds available. Additional officers are needed to command the expanded ranks ordered by President Roosevelt, it was explained.

GETS 30 DAYS FOR LARCENY.

Fred Hurt, 31 years old, 3750 Broadway, was found guilty of larceny yesterday and was sentenced by Judge Harold P. O'Connell to 30 days in the county jail. Hurt was charged with stealing $107 from a tavern at 3808 Broadway.

Hurt in Car Crash

MRS. WINSTON CHURCHILL.

LONDON, Oct. 25 (AP).—Mrs. Winston Churchill, wife of the first lord of the admiralty, suffered bruises and shock last night when her automobile skidded and crashed into a store in Surrey. She was reported recovering today at Admiralty House.

HOUSE TO VOTE FOR ARMS BAN, FISH PREDICTS

Representative Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.], predicted last night that the attempt to remove the arms embargo provision from the neutrality act will be defeated by at least ten votes in the house of representatives. He addressed members of the Chicago Association of Credit Men at a dinner in the Palmer House.

"The vote in the house will be close," Fish said. "The administration the war profiteers, and the internationalists who feel that we should meddle in Europe's new war will be on pins and needles until the last ballot is counted. But I believe that the house, unlike the senate, will decide in favor of maintaining the arms embargo."

BRITAIN IS URGED TO TURN INDIA INTO DEMOCRACY

BOMBAY, Oct. 25 (AP).—A resolution urging that Britain "apply the principles of democracy to India" plunged the Bombay state assembly into excited debate today.

Debate on the resolution is likely to last several days. It was offered by Prime Minister Bal Gangadhar Kher and called for Britain to regard India as an "independent nation entitled to frame her own constitution."

The resolution was similar in tone to criticism which nationalist followers of Mohandas K. Gandhi have leveled at Britain's proposal that discussion of constitutional reform in India be postponed until after the war.

STUDENTS SIGN PLEA TO AVOID FOREIGN WARS

A petition declaring against American participation in a foreign war is being circulated among students of the professional schools on the Chicago campus of Northwestern university by the school's Young Republican club. More than 200 law students already have signed. The club president, J. Kenneth Baird, will present the petition to United States Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] at the Young Republicans' state convention Sunday in the Knickerbocker hotel. Senator Nye is to be the speaker.

QUEBEC'S VOTERS OUST PREMIER IN ROW OVER WAR

Duplessis' Cabinet Beaten by Liberal Party.

QUEBEC, Que., Oct. 25 [Canadian Press].—The Union Nationale government of the province of Quebec, fighting for provincial autonomy, was defeated in a wartime election today by the Liberals, the party of the dominion government at Ottawa.

The turnover was of landslide proportions. Final results of the balloting as tabulated by the Canadian press showed the Liberals had won 68 of the 86 seats in the provincial legislature. The Union Nationale won 15 seats, National party 1, and Independent party 1.

The outcome represented a gain of 54 seats for the Liberals and a loss of 61 by the Union Nationale. Voting in one constituency, Charlevoix-Saguenay, was deferred until Nov. 16.

Godbout Returns to Power.

Former Premier Adelard Godbout, provincial head of the Liberals, returns to power as a result of the election.

Premier Maurice Duplessis of Quebec had called the election for support in his contention that war expenditures of the dominion government were being made at the expense of relief and other problems in his province. His supporters said the Union Nationale administration was Quebec's only safeguard against conscription.

The election result was a victory for the party of Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada, under whose leadership Canada went to war at the side of Great Britain.

Mackenzie King labeled the election proof of Quebec's unity with the rest of Canada in prosecution of the war against Germany. The prime minister said the election was called by Duplessis as a "clear challenge" to Canada's entry into the war and had Duplessis won the result would have been "hailed throughout Nazi Germany."

Mackenzie King has three ministers in his cabinet from Quebec, each of whom had announced he would resign from the dominion government if the party should be defeated in the Quebec provincial balloting.

Six Cabinet Men Defeated.

Premier Duplessis himself was elected, but at least six of his cabinet ministers were defeated. They were William Tremblay, minister of labor; Henri Auger, minister of colonization; Bona Dussault, minister of agriculture; Anatole Carignan, minister of roads, Joseph Bilodeau, minister of municipal affairs, and T. J. Coonan, minister without portfolio.

Mayor Camillien Houde of Montreal was elected as an independent in Montreal-St. Mary division in a race against four other candidates.

The three major parties agreed in their campaign on the issue of war participation. All opposed conscription and none advocated complete divorce from the war. Duplessis, however, made a strong campaign on the basis of provincial autonomy.

Served in Taschereau Cabinet.

Godbout, who will become the next premier of Quebec, spoke for full voluntary effort in the war.

He is about 50 years old and formerly was a professor in a school of agriculture in St. Anne de la Tocatiere, about 80 miles below the city of Quebec. He left the school to become minister of agriculture in the provincial cabinet of Louis A. Taschereau from 1930 to 1936. When Taschereau resigned on June 11, 1936, Godbout was sworn in as premier.

The Inquiring Reporter

The Question.

Where Answered.

On Michigan avenue.

The Answers.

George A. Brandenburg, 313 North Austin boulevard, writer—I haven't given it much thought. But when India demonstrates greater ability to govern itself it should be given the opportunity. Turbulent world conditions don't point however, to an early realization of India's self-government hopes.

Miss G. E. Schroeder, 162 East Ontario, cashier—I don't care whether India gets home rule or not. We should be thinking about solving our own country's problems. Our most pressing question is that of neutrality and keeping out of the war in Europe.

A. A. Kokendorfer, 61 East Cedar street, salesman—I should think so. In a land of 350,000,000 people there must be enough educated leaders to guide the destinies of the country. It may be just propaganda of the British that India is not able to look after itself.

Donna Reade, 653 Gordon terrace, actress—I am now an American citizen, but I was a Canadian subject for many years. And I know the advantages of home rule to Canada since 1926. It would be a good thing if India were given greater independence.

R. E. Wilmot, 721 Hinman avenue, Evanston, business man—I don't know much about it. I think I would incline toward more self-government than it has now. The ultimate objective—if India shows its capacity for it—should be a dominion status like that of Canada.

NAZIS OPEN FIRE WITH WORDS ON WESTERN FRONT

Propaganda Takes Place of Shells.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 25. — French troops waiting in their trenches or in the underground galleries of the Maginot line for the big German attack are being subjected to an unexpected kind of bombardment.

Instead of high explosives the blandishments of German propaganda are hurled at them several times daily by powerful loudspeakers installed in the Nazis' front lines.

This use of the propaganda arm at the front, perfected during the Spanish civil war, already had been seen on the western front in the earlier stages of the war, but the Germans seemed to have given it up.

Renewed On Larger Scale.

In the last two days, however, their propaganda bombardments have started again on a large and more systematic scale. German loudspeakers are heard mainly along the calm Rhine front. For a while the French could not discover how the loudspeakers were installed.

Then they learned that they were carried by camouflaged trucks which ran close to the front, blared out a short speech in French and maybe a song or two, and then slipped away to another spot to repeat the performance.

Yesterday at one point on the front French observers spotted a German propaganda truck. The French sent a few bursts of machine gun fire at it, and the truck scurried toward the rear.

Break Into Song Themselves.

The usual reaction of the poilus, however, is to yell "change the record" or to break into song themselves, the words generally being unprintable and the theme uncomplimentary to the enemy.

The Germans are trying to build up the idea that the French are fighting this war not for themselves, but for Great Britain.

Orthodox propaganda broadcasts by radio for the civilian population work tirelessly on the same theme, mainly thru talks by the former French journalist, Paul Ferdoonnett, who is called "the traitor of Stuttgart," and two assistants, likewise French. Last night the Stuttgart broadcasters, dipping into history, tried to weaken the British-French front by recalling how the British had treated Joan of Arc.

[The British burned Joan of Arc at the stake in Rouen, France, on May 30, 1431. The Maid of Orleans, as she was called, had led French forces against the British in the war between the two countries.]

Work Under Enemy Light.

In the early days of September the German front line propagandists made numerous attempts to fraternize with the French soldiers.

For instance, one night when French soldiers were unloading barges in the port of Strasbourg, on the Rhine, a powerful searchlight suddenly was turned on them from the German bank of the Rhine. The soldiers naturally dived for cover, expecting a bombardment, but instead a powerful loudspeaker blared out the following message:

"French comrades, go back to your work. We are not going to fire, we just wanted to help you out by giving you some light. We are doing the same kind of work on our bank.

Warn Guns to Open Up.

Sometimes the German loudspeakers even warned the French that their batteries were going to send a few shells over and indicated approximately where they would land.

The two French communiques today revealed a continued lack of extensive military action on the western front. The night communique said:

"Our reconnaissance units and those of the enemy have shown a certain activity in the course of the day. We repulsed a German detachment in the region close to the Moselle [river]."

The morning communique said:

"On the whole, the night has been quiet. Patrol and artillery activity to the west of the Saar."

[The German communique yesterday said "west of Voelklingen enemy rear guards to the strength of one company which were still on German soil were attacked and thrown back across the border. Otherwise no special actions.]

French Civilians Move.

BASEL, Switzerland, Oct. 25 (AP).—French civilians began a complete withdrawal today from another six mile strip along the Rhine river frontier from Strasbourg south of a point below the Swiss frontier. When this move is completed the area abandoned will extend 12 miles back from the Rhine.

Observers have reported a large contingent of British troops was moving gradually into the Rhineland, first adapting themselves to life in the third line of Maginot fortresses at the Vosges mountains, then moving forward into the second line of defenses on the eastern slopes of the Vosges.

TOKIO AIRMEN BOMB AMERICAN COMPOUND IN CHINA SECOND TIME

SHANGHAI, Oct. 25 (AP).—A delayed dispatch to the American embassy reported that Japanese airmen had bombed the compound of Yale-in-China at Yuanling in Hunan province on Sept. 21. One building was damaged, but there were no casualties.

Japanese bomb compound [1] and hurl propaganda at Chinese [2].

The same compound was damaged by bombs on Aug. 18.

Japanese troops today began a "peace offensive" by means of huge loud speakers. They called on Chinese troops in the vicinity of Hangchow to abandon their anti-Japanese sentiments and listen to the stop-war plea of Wang Ching Wei, former premier of China who now is coöperating with the Japanese.

The loud speakers were set up on the mile-wide Chientang river, ish government of a system of control of merchant ships of neutral countries in ports specially designated for this purpose by the British government.

"The soviet regards as wholly unfounded and arbitrary the demand for obligatory calling of these ships at the above ports, reinforced in addition by a threat of forcible bringing of ships into these ports.

"Such measures violate the elementary principles of the freedom of merchant shipping. Simultaneously, the soviet government cannot fail to declare that merchant ships of the U. S. S. "On the strength of the above the government of the U. S. S. R. reserves its right to claim from the British government compensation for losses to organizations, institutions or citizens of the U. S. S. R. by the above mentioned measures.

NAZIS BLOCKED BY SOVIET POLICY, SAYS DR. HARPER

Soviet foreign policy in Europe has effectively blocked Germany, Prof. Samuel H. Harper, Russian language and political expert of the University of Chicago, said yesterday. He has just returned from his 18th trip to Russia.

Dr. Harper said the soviet-German pact does not include military aid to Germany. He does not think the Russians are in a position to furnish Germany much in the way of food or other supplies unless they starve their own people.

Joseph Stalin did not double cross England, Dr. Harper said. Not even the British government regards the pact with the Nazis in that light. He described the soviet action as ruthless realism based on the needs of Russian security.

Report British Destroyed Newest German Battleship

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Oct. 25.—The Oslo [Norway] newspaper Arbeiderbladet, in an eyewitness story from Wilhelmshaven, Germany, reported the British destroyed the newest German battleship, the Gneisenau, in their air attack opening the war. A bomb dropped thru a funnel is said to have exploded in the engine room, blowing up the ship. The report was not confirmed in Berlin.

RUMANIA STANDS ALONE IN FACE OF SOVIET INVASION

Believe Hungary Would Join Land Grab.

BUDAPEST, Oct. 25 (AP).—Diplomats familiar with the Balkans tonight expressed the opinion that should soviet Russia see fit to extend her influence by moving into the Rumanian province of Bessarabia she would be met with little or no resistance from King Carol's government.

These sources, who said they expected Russian action in the near future if she does intend to push her influence into southeastern Europe, advanced the belief that Rumania probably would be compelled to fight alone if she should insist upon defending Bessarabia with arms.

In such event, they said, Hungary probably would be forced to move immediately into Transylvania, which she lost to Rumania after the world war, as a self-defense measure to secure the Carpathian mountains as a barrier against any further communist expansion into central Europe.

Official Assurances Received.

Clear indications of Russian intentions against Bessarabia have been lacking so far, however. Rumania has received official assurances that Moscow has no demands on that former soviet territory.

But despite these assurances new tension has been reported in Rumania and King Carol's envoys to Bulgaria and Turkey have been summoned home for consultation. Political circles have reported from Rumania that "important developments are imminent in the Balkans."

[A dispatch from Constanta, Rumania, yesterday said that Rumanian naval authorities and ship captains of Black sea vessels have been notified by Russia that the port of Sebastopol can now be approached only from one direction and that other routes to the harbor have been mined.]

Rumanian officials have maintained stoutly that their country would fight, even without allies if necessary, to maintain her territorial integrity, but these diplomats pointed out that:

1. Turkey, aligned with Rumania in the Balkan entente, was exempted from fighting Russia under her new mutual assistance pact with Britain and France.

Support from Italy.

2. The western powers already have closed their eyes to the soviet march into Poland. Would they do likewise in event of a similar action in Rumania?

3. Italy and Jugo-Slavia are authoritatively reported here to be backing Hungary, should she advance to the Carpathians in Rumania to hold that natural barrier against communism.

[Informed sources in Rome yesterday neither would affirm nor deny that Italy would support Hungary in case of a Russian move against Rumania.]

Informed quarters here expressed the belief Britain and France would hesitate to declare war on Hungary, Jugo-Slavia and Italy. Without Turkey's help, diplomats said, it virtually would be impossible for the western powers to fulfill their guarantees of independence to Rumania.

[Altho the Turkish-British-French pact exempted Turkey from involvement in any war among Russia and the western allies, it provided that she go to the aid of the allies in the event they had to fight to fulfill their guarantees to Rumania and Greece.]

Bulgaria Has Claim.

Further complicating the British-French position in this part of Europe, Balkan diplomats said the position of Bulgaria would have to be borne in mind. Bulgaria also never has forsaken her claims to Dobruja, now Rumanian territory.

Some diplomats even said they believed Britain and France would favor any Hungarian march into Transylvania as erecting a barrier against communism if they saw it impossible to prevent a soviet march into Bessarabia.

They said further that it might be in Germany's interests to have the Carpathian mountain range in the hands of Hungary, which could curb Russian expansion into Germany's sphere of influence while the Nazis are occupied on the western front.

Govern Poland

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—Hans Frank, minister without portfolio, today was designated governor general of all Polish territory occupied by Germany, but not incorporated in the reich.

Named deputy under Frank was Arthur Seyss-Inquart, minister without portfolio and former governor of Austria. They will assume their posts after the present military commander in Poland is relieved of administrative powers by Hitler.

SOVIET OPPOSED BY 10 PER CENT IN POLISH ELECTION

New Votes Will Be Held in Eleven Districts.

MOSCOW, Oct. 25 (AP).—Election results from the western Ukraine and White Russian districts which were seized by soviet Russia in partitioning Poland with Germany showed today at least some opposition to soviet rule.

New elections will be held in 11 districts where government designated candidates failed to get the necessary majority for election to new people's assemblies of the soviet union. Indication of opposition was given by less than 10 per cent of the voters, however.

Scratch Off Names.

Since no substitute candidates were proposed, opposing voters could only scratch the government candidate's name.

Official returns from the Sunday election said 4,433,997 of the 4,776,275 eligible electors voted in western Ukraine and that candidates' names were scratched on 325,918 ballots.

In White Russia 2,672,280 of the 2,763,191 eligibles voted, with 247,245 scratches.

Newly elected delegates of western Ukraine, 1,484 in all, will convene tomorrow at Lwow and on Saturday the 927 delegates of White Russia will meet at Belostok [Bialystok].

Tells of Warsaw's Plight.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—How Warsaw is meeting the terrible aftermath of its siege and bombardment was described tonight by W. C. MacDonald of the Polish relief commission, who had just returned to Berlin from a day and a half visit in the stricken city.

The reich commissar of the city of Warsaw told MacDonald that 250,000 hot meals were being served daily to part of the inhabitants and that from 300,000 to 350,000 bread rations were available. MacDonald also was told that the reich had ordered 20,000,000 square feet of glass to replace windows shattered by bombardment.

Believe 50,000 Died.

Altho no definite figure on the deaths in the city is available, it is generally believed that 50,000 died. "It is impossible at this time to hazard a guess on the number injured," MacDonald said, but he added that he knew of several cases where 39 to 50 bodies still were entombed in air raid cellars and that there probably were hundreds of such incidents when big bombs and shells scored direct hits. Some estimates set the number of injured in hospitals at 80,000.

The north central part of the city is the most badly damaged. This is the quarter where most of the tenements are situated. The general estimate accepted at this time in Warsaw is that 35 per cent of the buildings were totally ruined.

NAZIS PUT LIMIT ON PURCHASE OF SHOES IN VIENNA

Germany Rations Shaving Soap in Barber Shops.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—Germans living in Vienna today were forbidden to buy a pair of shoes or textile goods for one month if their gross income is more than $100 a month. A decree to this effect was issued by Joseph Buerckel, the Nazi district leader.

Until the monthly period expires Germans applying for ration cards to buy shoes and textile goods first must submit an affidavit proving that they earn $100 or less a month.

"This measure represents social justice for the poorer classes and also facilitates the organization of machinery for shoe distribution," Buerckel announced.

Ration Shaving Soap.

German barbers were informed by the reich's fat supply bureau that for the next three months each barber can use no more than one and four-fifths ounces of shaving soap and the same quantity of liquid shampoo a day. In some barber shops the supply of soap and liquid shampoo may be even less.

Hairdressers were granted a maximum of 200 ounces of liquid shampoo for women for three months while barber shops were allowed a maximum of 50 ounces of shaving soap and 50 ounces of shampoo for the same period.

Surrender Gas Masks.

A decree issued by Fi-ld Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, air minister and No. 2 Nazi, ordered the eastern province of Silesia to surrender their gas masks to Nazi authorities "for the benefit of Germans living in the west."

The decree will be enforced by district leaders of the elite Hitler Guards.

Persons failing to turn in gas masks will be punished.

"After the enemy [Poland] has been defeated in the east gas masks no longer are absolutely necessary," the decree said. "Whoever owns gas masks must surrender them for the benefit of German citizens in the western part of the reich who are not yet entirely out of danger."

Germans, who paid $2 for the gas masks, will be given a receipt when the masks are surrendered.

MISS BETTY BAUER.

When Marie Bauer divorced Egon Bauer July 19, the judge gave her $85 a month. But he said Bauer could come in and get a reduction when their daughter, Betty, became of age. Mrs. Bauer's attorney, Edward L. S. Arkema, appeared yesterday. He said that Betty, who lives with her mother at 12005 Stewart avenue, is of age now. But he brought in an agreement, signed by Bauer. It said that because his ex-wife is out of a job, he doesn't want that reduction.

REDESIGN ARMY UNIFORMS AND KEEP O. D. COLOR

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25 [Special].—Olive drab will continue to be the color of the uniforms of the regular army, the National Guard and the reserves, Secretary of War Harry Woodring announced today. He said that the proposal to clothe the army in slate blue uniforms had been abandoned.

The reason for retaining olive drab uniforms, Woodring explained, is that extensive tests under all kinds of conditions prove that olive drab is superior to slate blue so far as low visibility is concerned.

The proposal to change the design of the uniforms to make them more comfortable under field conditions, however, has been approved. The principal changes are loose cut of the shoulder to permit greater freedom of arm movement, and the use of trousers instead of breeches.

Revealed as Members of Radical League.

committee last January and who was placed on the committee to guard administration interests, defended the committee from attacks, asserting that it had done a thoro and painstaking job. Representative Eugene E. Cox [D., Ga.] asked why there was opposition to publication of the membership list unless there was something "disreputable" about the league.

"I am personally convinced by the evidence presented," declared Voorhis, "that the American League for Peace and Democracy is substantially controled by the communist party."

Asserts Reds Founded It.

"It was founded by the communist party," chimed in Representative Joe Starnes [D., Ala.], another member of the committee, "nurtured by the communist party, and receives $2,500 yearly from the communist party."

In releasing the list Chairman Dies said the committee was not charging that the government employés affiliated with the league are members of the communist party.

"But the fact that these government employés are members of a communist front organization and apparently continued their membership long after this organization was exposed as being communistic justifies, in the opinion of the committee, the publication of this list," he declared.

The department of agriculture headed by Secretary Henry A. Wallace led the government departments with 75 league members, according to the list. Next was the social security board with 58 members. Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins' department ran third with 56 members.

Labor Board Has 47.

The National Labor Relations board, long criticized for its C. I. O. partisanship, was shown to have 47 members, most of them attorneys. The Works Progress administration [Washington force alone] had 38 members. The Rural Electrification administration has 35 members. The interior department, headed by Secretary Harold L. Ickes, also has 35 members.

Other government departments and the number of league members listed for each were: Treasury, 28 [mostly in procurement division]; justice department, 5; Securities and Exchange commission, 27; department of commerce, 17; Veterans' administration, 10; Interstate Commerce commission, 10; Federal Housing administration, 1; state department, 1 [in passport bureau]; Reconstruction Finance corporation, 3; Maritime Labor board, 3 [all important positions]; Railway Retirement board, 14; Federal Trade commission, 4, and Federal Power commission, 3.

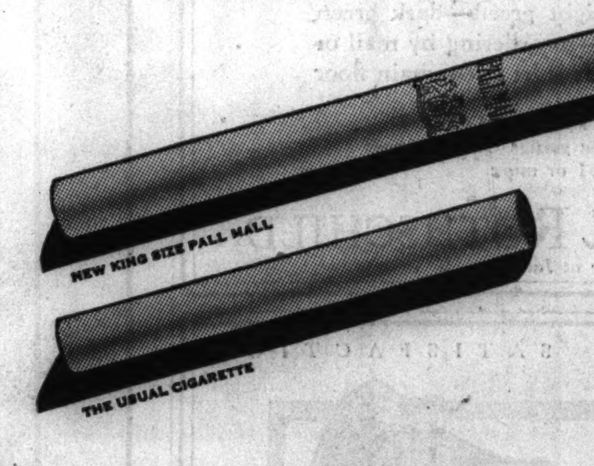
Announcing the new PALL MALL ...a longer, more distinguished cigarette



WHEN YOU HOLD one of the new King Size Pall Mall in your fingers, you will immediately sense the added distinction the longer size confers on this traditionally smart cigarette.

But more important as you will see for yourself, the additional length travels the smoke further, and gives you a noticeably cooler and smoother cigarette—thus enhancing the rich flavor of the superb Pall Mall tobaccos. The price remains but 15¢ for twenty.

ADMITS GETTING DYNAMITE TO BLAST BOOKIE

Assistant State's Attorney Richard H. Devine announced early today that James Kyriazopulos, 23 years old, of River Grove, an ex-convict, had confessed that he supplied five sticks of dynamite used in bombing a handbook at 7217 Grand avenue, Elmwood Park, last April 23.

Kyriazopulos told Devine that his cousin, Chris T. Kyriazopulos, owner of the Torch club, a River Grove tavern, had told him that the Elmwood Park handbook, owned by a man named Rogers, was taking all the business away from the book in his own place. He said that Chris asked him to obtain dynamite, and that he got it from a friend and gave it to his cousin April 17.

State's attorney's police were holding two other men, whose names were not disclosed, and were seeking Chris. Sergts. Nick Distledorf and John Kelly got a clue to the bombing while investigating an alleged incendiary fire Sept. 5 at the Foxhead inn in River Grove, which is owned by Chris' brother, also named James Kyriazopulos.

LONG IS DEFIED BY PROSECUTOR IN NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, La., Oct. 25 (AP).—Gov. Earl K. Long said tonight his reëlection was assured as he opened his gubernatorial campaign here after a daylong and unsuccessful effort to force District Attorney Charles A. Byrne from office.

At nightfall the embattled district attorney, under fire from at least four fronts, still held office and denied he would resign. Democrats had already chosen Niels F. Hertz, an assistant to Byrne, to take the post.

HANDBALL PLAYER DIES.

Jerry Raimondo, 41 years old, 1127 South Mayfield avenue, died of a heart attack in the Duncan branch of the Y. M. C. A., 1515 Monroe street, yesterday. He was playing handball.

Martha Washington was frantic at the dilemma which arose when she wanted to entertain with a grand ball in honor of General LaFayette in 1784. The "undertakers," as those who applied wall paper were then called, had failed to finish decorating the banquet hall at Mount Vernon. LaFayette is said to have come to her rescue by hiding the bare walls with draperies and evergreens so that the party could go on.

Entertaining?

No matter how simple or elaborate your party may be, Martha Washington Candies will add just the right festive touch. ## THE LURE AND LORE OF LINEN (1)

By CALEB

IRELAND . . . flax . . . linen . . . handkerchiefs! Such is the association of ideas that leads one into a story as captivating as any the Book of Business reveals. Shall we explore its pages for a bit, and refresh our memories with some of its romantic facts? . . .

All sorts of lands, times, customs, names and races cluster about the lure and lore of linen; but we shall gain little, in our inquiries, by trying to be too academic and chronological. So let's leave all that for the encyclopedist, and merely enjoy ourselves. And since we shall begin and end with the Handkerchief, suppose we consider, first of all—

Its name. Like many another term in good English standing, its parents were French. Couvre meant "to cover"—and chef meant "head." Saxon vocal cords shortened the couvre to "ker"; altered the chef to "chief"—and so we have, to start with, kerchief.

As a head-covering, the kerchief had many significances at various periods of its long history. Women of the 16th century wore it as a part of their headdress; peasants were compelled to wear it as a badge of their serfdom. In far earlier ages, of course, the Chinese had used it in paper and silk-tissue form as we do today; while in Egypt, the handkerchief was invested with talismanic properties.

Earliest to own handkerchiefs in Europe, researchers say, were the churchmen: use being long limited to the priests. And even then, known as a "facial," it was confined to occasions of officiating before the altar. Anglo-Saxons carried it at the belt as a "sweat-cloth" or clout; and when later transferred to the hand, it was known variously as a "muckinder," "handcoverchief," or "handkercher."

Knights flourished this interesting object on their lances as a guidon or banneret; and all down to the courtly days of Henry VIII, its role in dress was a royal one. Dated 1480, a wardrobe account of Edward IV shows payment to Alice Shapster for making and washing "five dozen handcouverchieffes"; and bluff King Hal of the eight wives himself favored Hollands handkerchiefs, fringed with Venetian gold and silver silk. As for the ladies of Tudor and Jacobean times, their affection was expressed in the gift of small handkerchiefs adorned at the corners with buttons. . . .

So it is that lore and romance smile at us from the lovely displays in our first-floor State Street section. They even tempt us to tell more—in a later linen-chat.

SENATE DEFEATS EFFORT TO CLOSE LOOPHOLE TO WAR

Cash and Carry Provision Called Meaningless.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25 [Special].—The senate today voted, 61 to 26, against plugging a loophole in the administration's neutrality repealer which it was charged will permit President Roosevelt to ignore the cash and carry provisions of the bill and conduct the nation's foreign policy by proclamations under international law.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson [D., Colo.], author of the amendment to close the loophole, declared that enactment of the cash and carry bill in its present form will amount to outright repeal of the existing neutrality legislation—arms embargo and all—without substituting "any restrictive legislation which will keep us out of war."

Two Findings Necessary.

Senator Johnson called attention to the provision of the bill which directs the President to issue a proclamation putting into effect the cash and carry scheme only after he has made two separate findings.

The President has discretionary authority to find, first, that a state of war between or among foreign states exists, and, second, that the cash and carry restrictions upon commerce with belligerents are "necessary to promote the security or preserve the peace of the United States, or to protect the lives of the citizens of the United States."

Thus there is no assurance, Senator Johnson contended, that the President ever will invoke the cash and carry law with respect to the war in Europe.

The present neutrality act directs the President to issue a proclamation putting it into effect whenever he finds that a state of war between or among foreign states exists, without regard to a finding that the peace or security of the United States is endangered.

Mandatory Clause Ignored.

Even with this mandatory provision, Senator Johnson asserted, Mr. Roosevelt has not invoked the existing neutrality act with respect to Japan and China.

The senate rejected, by a vote of 66 to 21, an amendment by Senator Robert M. La Follette [P., Wis.] to limit exports of all kinds to belligerent nations, or to neutral nations for transhipment to belligerents, to normal peace-time levels. It would have created an export control board to license exports and restrict them, with respect to any belligerent country, to the average annual exports to that country during any four year period from 1927 to 1939.

The stated purpose of the amendment was "to prevent the growth and subsequent collapse of a short lived war boom, with its attendant dangers to our peace, prosperity, and cost of living."

Fight to Protect Flag.

Senator Charles W. Tobey [R., N. H.] offered an amendment providing for the confiscation of any belligerent ship misusing the American flag, and the punishment of its master.

Senator Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.] said the United States had no authority to inflict such penalties and offered a substitute which would prohibit for three months the use of American ports by all ships of any belligerent country which permitted misuse of the American flag.

Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.] said this would be too drastic. He offered to accept the Clark amendment if modified to bar only the belligerent ship misusing the American flag from American ports. The senate recessed without reaching a vote on the flag issue.

Queen Candidates

Below are candidates for iron mask queen at the University of Chicago.

FAITH JOHNSON.

BETTY JANE NELSON.

Eight women student finalists in the Iron Mask queen contest at the University of Chicago were chosen yesterday. Iron Mask is the junior honor society and the election will be held on Nov. 8. The girls chosen are Faith Johnson and Doris Alt, freshmen; Betty Jane Nelson and Jane Peterson, sophomores; Ruth Steel and Helen Bickert, juniors, and Jane Myers and Charlotte Rexstrew, seniors.

DIES OF CRASH INJURIES.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 25 [Special].—Harold M. Clarkson, 23 years old, died this morning of injuries received when his automobile collided with the car of Ernest Sinanio, also of Champaign.

DEMANDS QUIZ ON CHARGES OF WAR SHIPMENTS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—Representative Paul W. Shafer [R., Mich.], today called for a state department investigation of reports that many shipments of contraband war materials were being made from the port of New York under false labels.

In a letter to Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Representative Shafer furnished the name of a "responsible business man," whose partner visited the docks in New York a week ago, and talked with numerous employés of the docks and shipping concerns. They told him that many contraband shipments, labelled "farm implements," were being made.

"I feel it is my duty to call the attention of the state department to this story," Shafer wrote Secretary Hull. "It seems to me that this story has been verified to some extent by the fact that the seized City of Flint is said to have had abroad contraband labeled agricultural products. If this practice is being followed, it presents a very serious situation so far as our neutrality is concerned, and if continued is likely to bring the war close to our own shores."

MOTHERS ON WAY TO CAPITAL WITH NEUTRALITY PLEA

(Picture on back page.)

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 25 (AP).—Thirty-five women organized as the Mothers of the United States, Michigan division, left Detroit today by bus for Washington, where they plan to press their plea for tightening of the neutrality act. Departure was delayed because a large sign prepared for the side of the bus came from a paint shop reading, "Repeal the Embargo." A rush job on a new sign was ordered and the bus finally started bearing a banner which said, "Keep the Embargo."

"We'll fight when we get to Washington," declared Mrs. Mary A. Decker, president.

Mrs. Rosa M. Farber, field representative, said about 25 private automobiles would join the bus party.

MEI-MEI GREETS WOMAN CAPTOR WITH A BEAR HUG

(Picture on back page.)

Mrs. Ruth Harkness, who has been visiting in Chicago for several days, paid a visit yesterday to Mei-Mei, the giant panda at the Brookfield zoo. Mrs. Harkness brought Mei-Mei from China to this country two years ago.

Mei-Mei, now a hulking adolescent of 240 pounds, greeted his or her foster mother with open arms, legs, and mouth. There has been some question as to whether Mei-Mei is a debutante or a gay young blade. But, Mrs. Harkness said, Mei-Mei, to her, will always be a girl.

Ever been Homesick for a Steering Wheel?

WHEN you look this honeypot over, a shiver is going to shoot deliciously right up your spine.

This is your kind of automobile—the one you've always wanted.

Here's the room you've been after, here's the low close-to-the-road "set" of the whole job, here's the easy-back seat they might have measured you for.

Here's the wheel and gearshift patterned to your hand, the instruments tipping you the wink, the long graceful thrusting nose pointing the way to someplace where there's fun!

And when you step on this earth-bound comet's tail »s-a-a-y»

It starts when you want it to start, thanks to better carburetion; and new positioning of the accelerator pedal makes driving easier.

It moves through the gears like a warm knife through butter and your take-off is simply a breeze.

It pours out power in a tide that sweeps up both you and the car in a heart-startling thrill of sensational action.

And now this matchless Dynaflash straight-eight engine is electrically balanced after assembly to micropoised perfection, its velocity smoothed to velvet.

No wonder you like this Buick. So do we! Finer, stronger, smarter, steadier—in all our 36 years it's the greatest car we've made.

Come drive it, see for yourself. Maybe we ought to warn you that once you've tried it you'll never be quite the same.

SHOWS GOVERNOR HOW ILLINOIS CAN SAVE 57 MILLION

Rep. Lund Dares Him to Let Assembly Act.

Gov. Horner was challenged yesterday to permit reopening of the subject of economy in state government at the forthcoming special session of the legislature. The challenge came from Representative Arnold L. Lund [R., Riverside], who presented a program for slashing state spending in the next two years by $57,637,740.

Gov. Horner [top] and Rep. Arnold L. Lund.

Total appropriations for the 1939-'41 biennium are $463,001,000. Lund's proposed cut would be 12.4 per cent. Applied to appropriations for general purposes [excluding bond payments and other fixed charges], it would be about 23 per cent.

How It Could Be Done.

In the session that ended July 1, Lund vainly attempted to have the 3 per cent sales tax lifted from food. Defeat did not cause him to abandon the plan. Working at home, he studied appropriation bills which had been passed, seeking the answer to the state administration's query: "How could we afford to give up the revenues?"

The answer, according to Lund, is embodied in the 25 page list of proposed reductions in state expenditures which he sent to Gov. Horner yesterday. With it was a letter in which he demanded that the governor include the subject in the call for the special session.

"Every one knows that the more revenue a taxing body receives, the more it will spend," Lund said. "That's why the sales tax should be reduced. Too much money has been appropriated. It should not be spent."

Spending Increased 100 Pct.

On the new appropriations Lund would use an ax rather than a paring knife. He emphasized, however, that his recommendations could be carried out without detriment to essential state services. He pointed out that general purpose spending has increased more than 100 per cent since the boom year 1929.

"Salary and wage appropriations and expenditures should be brought back to the 1929 level," he said.

"Governmental functions wherein duties have been increased are not affected by these reductions. Necessary employés and expenses are not curtailed."

Each division of each department was treated separately in Lund's analysis. Following is a table drawn from his analysis, summarizing departmental appropriations for the 1939-'41 biennium, and his proposed reductions:

| Department— | Appropriation. | Proposed saving. |
|---|---|---|
| Governor | $ 152,200 | $ 49,000 |
| Lieutenant governor | 24,600 | 12,000 |
| Secretary of state | 5,522,886 | 2,003,500 |
| Treasurer | 556,370 | 297,000 |
| Attorney general | 928,200 | 455,000 |
| General assembly | 181,000 | 36,000 |

| World fairs | 150,000 | 100,000 |

*Includes $52,192,290 for old age assistance, a fixed sum.

†Does not include $300,000 for flood relief and river and lake control.

Lund admitted that his proposed operation on state spending would hurt the pay rollers, but he said that is the least of his worries.

Lund began his analysis of departments by assailing the $152,200 item earmarked for the governor's office, including $58,000 for the executive mansion in Springfield.

"There is no other home in Illinois that entails that much expense," he wrote. "There is also an item of $8,000 for travel expenses. The public should hardly be made to pay the expenses of the governor to foreign places."

He recommended that $49,000 be lopped off.

Lund urged the consolidation of numerous separate offices in the departments of labor and agriculture.

"There is less employment today than there was in 1929," he said. "Just why the great number of labor department officials are necessary is hard to justify. Fewer factories are in operation, so it is equally difficult to understand the increase in factory inspectors."

Good Publicity for Illinois.

Lund discussed the $250,000 appropriation for publicizing the advantages of Illinois in other states.

"The best publicity this state can have is to inform manufacturers and business men elsewhere that our taxes are not prohibitive," Lund wrote. "Few business men, large or small, will disagree with that view."

Wages and salaries, travel and office expenses are the important element in increased appropriations for the department of public welfare, in which Lund said $10,250,000 could be cut without harm.

"A survey of the list of employés in the old age assistance division is shocking," he declared. "That 1,200 are not needed cannot be disputed if one takes into account the work they are to perform."

G. O. P. DEMANDS GOVERNOR DELAY SPECIAL SESSION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 25.—Gov. Henry Horner was urged by the Republican leadership of the Illinois house today not to call a special legislative session until the Supreme court has ruled on the validity of the governor's veto of the old age pension increase. If the veto is upheld, then old age assistance should be the only important subject in the session call, they maintained.

Speaker Hugh Cross of Jerseyville and Representative Robert L. Branson of Centralia, majority floor leader, told Horner that the session—if called—should not last more than one week.

Branson, as a legislator from the booming Centralia oil fields, urged the governor not to include the subject of oil regulation in the summons. It is a matter requiring more time and attention than is usually available during a special meeting, he contended.

Although the governor did not commit himself definitely on oil, the G. O. P. leaders carried away the impression that he likely would include it in the call.

Condition of Opie Read Is Reported Unchanged

The condition of Opie Read, dean of Chicago's writers, remained unchanged yesterday, his family reported. Read, who is 86 years old, has been seriously ill for a month in his home at 5000 Harper avenue. Complications due to his age brought on his illness.

OIL FOR HITLER'S WAR.

Hitler's blitzkrieg in Poland and his air attacks on Great Britain have made it necessary to revise Napoleon's maxim. The modern army travels not so much on its stomach as it does on its gas tank.

Germany has virtually no oil wells of its own, altho it makes a considerable quantity of synthetic gasoline and other oil products from coal. About nine-tenths of its prewar petroleum imports were from sources, principally in the western hemisphere, that are shut off by the British blockade. Consequently there has been much speculation that oil may be the Achilles heel of the German war economy.

Two of the ablest statisticians of the petroleum industry, V. R. Garfias and J. W. Ristori of the Cities Service company, give their stamp of approval in the current Oil Weekly to these surmises of German weakness. So long as the British blockade holds, in their opinion, Germany cannot under the most favorable circumstances conceivable get the oil needed for the Nazi war machine.

Germany's civil consumption alone this year is estimated at the equivalent of 55,000,000 barrels of crude petroleum, of which an estimated 20,000,000 barrels is produced synthetically, the rest imported or seized in Czecho-Slovakia and Poland. For 1940, they estimate, Germany will need 90,000,000 barrels. This is a conservative estimate of war needs. Some estimates have put them at from five to ten times peacetime consumption.

The most startling of Messrs. Garfias' and Ristori's conclusions is that the Russian alliance will not help Hitler in the matter of oil. Other statisticians, by subtracting Russia's reported peacetime consumption from its reported production, have estimated the soviets' exportable surplus as high as 50,000,000 barrels a year.

Apparently distrusting Russian statistics, Garfias and Ristori compared Russian oil export and import figures, which are available from non-Russian sources. They found that they virtually balanced. Their conclusion is that [a] the Russians are producing less than they claim, [b] their domestic consumption is greater than reported, or [c] they have been storing large quantities of oil or using it in reported military activities. In any event, they conclude that Stalin has no appreciable quantity of oil to export.

Rumania is the only other large oil producer within the British blockade lines. The most that Germany could hope to get from Rumania, the authors hold, is 40,000,000 barrels, and then only if Rumania's exports to all other countries were shut off. In that event Germany would be faced with a Herculean transportation problem. Garfias and Ristori calculate that it would take 11,000 tank cars, continuously operating in 300 trains, to carry that much oil to western Germany. Even so, Germany would still find herself 25,000,000 barrels short of the authors' estimate of her war needs.

This estimate, of course, is predicated on an assumption of active war. Those wishing to do so may find ground for believing that Germany is already feeling the oil pinch in Hitler's announcement that he will not invade France. Troops sitting in the Siegfried line will not need much gasoline.

IS IT A NEW A. E. F.?

To be secure against invasion the United States needs a field army of perhaps 100,000 men, completely equipped with modern arms and trained as a unit. THE TRIBUNE has repeatedly called attention to this need, pointing out the dispersion of existing units of the regular army with the inevitable result that its officers have no training in maneuvering large bodies, even if they could be gathered together quickly enough to meet an emergency.

But the United States has no need of four field armies, such as have been proposed by the war department. Such a force is unnecessary for defense. Its only possible use could be as an American expeditionary force in Europe. Is the army being stampeded by President Roosevelt's war drums?

The war department proposal is, furthermore, most unrealistic. It creates another paper organization. We have enough paper divisions and paper armies already. The maneuvers last summer disclosed how inefficient and ineffective those forces are when they take the field.

The burocrats, both military and civilian, of the war department have made a shameful mess of procurement of modern weapons for the army. At present rates of production it will take several years to arm even the modest field army that is needed. It would take a decade to equip the grandiose force that is now proposed.

We hesitate to believe that the four field army plan is a deliberate attempt to obscure, in the public mind, the failure to provide the adequate defense force that we do need, but it is plain that that may be the effect of the proposal. We need one field army. We don't need four, unless they are to form a new A. E. F. Is that what the war department has in mind?

IN SOVIET ALASKA.

The farmers of the Matanuska soviet in Alaska are getting ready to eat their milk cows. An early snow covered their hayfields and they fear they cannot carry the animals thru the winter.

The soviet as established up in Alaska by the Roosevelt government is running true to form. Communism is nothing new in American agriculture. When combined with the centripetal force of a religious sect it sometimes lasted thru the first generation of pioneers, but rarely longer. Without that binding force, as in early Jamestown, it collapsed in a few years.

The Matanuska pioneers may not be very good farmers. They were broke and on relief when they went to Alaska under auspices of the New Deal. But they were probably no worse as a group than the pioneers who broke the western prairie. It was not the successful farmers, but the unsuccessful and the landless who sought the new land. They, however, won their farms the hard way. The weaklings died, the cowards went home, and those who won thru had to be pretty sound men and women. Not so at Matanuska. There the Santa Claus soviet subsidizes the incompetents and drives out the competent.

Walter Pippel was one of the competent ones. The government authorities have driven him from his land, from which his neighbors say he took crops worth $11,000 in two years. His offense was that he wanted to pay off his government loan, get title to his land, and pull out of the coöperative that had a monopoly, at a fat fee, of marketing the colony's crops. So the colony sued him and won.

L. V. Ray, the government attorney, said of Pippel, "These colonists who want to pay for their land and be independent of the government are like prospectors who strike it rich, then want to refund their grubstake without sharing the ground or profits."

Ray's analogy between the gamble of prospecting and the toil of agriculture would have astonished the pioneers who settled the Wisconsin and Minnesota country from which the Matanuska colonists were drawn. When one of those pioneers paid off the banker and burned the mortgage he was regarded as a solid citizen. When Pippel sought to do the same thing he was regarded as a disruptive individualist, somehow ungrateful to his less competent neighbors.

Another successful colonist in Alaska who was driven out was Ballard Dean. He made a modest profit raising mink. Obviously, the Alaskan climate is ideal for fur farming. But the soviet said Dean should have been raising potatoes and hay. When last heard of he was looking for land in the state of Washington.

Meanwhile, the incompetents are being bound by debt to the soviet. For several years they were given unlimited credit at the community store. A widow returning from the colony reported that at an anniversary party every woman in the settlement appeared in a formal gown, bought on credit. The commissars at Washington have adopted the practices of the note shavers of the Dakotas. If their debtors do not obey their orders they can throw them off their farms and back on relief.

WELL, WELL, A TROTSKYITE.

Earl Browder, general secretary of the American communist party, has been indicted on charges of making false statements in obtaining passports. Browder had divulged before the Dies committee that he had applied for passports as another person and had used them under false names. He could not be prosecuted for these offenses because they were committed in 1921 and 1927. The statute of limitations had run against them. But it is charged in the indictment that he made a false statement in 1937 when he said he never had applied for a passport before.

He reëntered the United States in 1937 and again in 1938 from Russia on the passport obtained by misrepresentation. The federal department of justice asked for his indictment twenty-four hours after Representative J. Parnell Thomas of New Jersey issued a statement thru the Republican national committee criticizing Attorney General Murphy for failure to act upon the confession of Browder to the Dies committee. The department of justice says Mr. Thomas found out what was going to happen and beat the gun with his criticism.

Browder's entrapment of himself may cause the comintern or the Russian politburo to wonder what kind of a Trotskyite has been in charge of the American party. He is apparently of the confessing kind such as decorated Stalin's celebrated state trials and judicial assassinations.

Editorial of the Day

IT'S A MYSTERY.

[Detroit Free Press.]

In a report in the columns of a financial paper we find a statement that because of "labor inefficiency" Motor Products corporation is likely to have a third quarter loss greater than the $250,840 loss in the like period of 1938, and "continued unprofitable final quarter operations" are expected to make the full 1939 loss of the company "at least as high as the $619,718 deficit of 1938."

This means that the prevalency of the "slow down," full brother of the "sitdown," in Detroit is causing the Motor Products corporation as much loss, at a time when business is active and the demand for goods by the public is large, as the depressed conditions of a year ago inflicted upon it.

There is every reason to suppose that but for this undeserved handicap the company would be making money and would be getting into a position to give its employés the certainty of steady employment for an indefinite period.

As things are, both the company and its employés suffer and what the future will produce there is no way of knowing.

But we marvel again at the way in which workers in Detroit who need employment, and can get it for themselves and their fellow wage earners under favorable and desirable conditions simply by reaching out their hands, allow themselves to be deluded to their hurt by false leaders and bad counsel.

Why they permit themselves to be fooled into doing things that injure them, their families, their fellows, and their city, and cannot by any stretch of imagination be of benefit to anybody except the men who are misleading them, is one of life's mysteries.

MUSKETEERS OF BOUL' MICHE.

In the Library of the City of Chicago, a plaything of our imagination, we will place a book called "Are We All Met?" by Whitford Kane [Elkin Matthews & Marrot, London, 1931]. Why? Because it contains passages dealing with the history of the Chicago Theater society, which strove to take the commercial curse off the drama in 1911, 1912, and 1913. This is a story that has never been told in full between book covers, altho it was brave pioneering in a cause that later gave birth to the New York Theater guild. Mr. Kane, now acting here in "The White Steed," tells only a part of it, but his contribution should have a permanent place in the archives.

Those were the days when Michigan avenue was lively with playwrights, actors, drama patrons, and donors; when the literature of the middle west seemed about to spin briskly around the Hamlin Garland-Chatfield Taylor axis; when the Cliff Dwellers' club was the focus of an intellectual renaissance; when Donald Robertson was a Moses leading his followers out of the wilderness; when Arthur Aldis was a Chicago version of Lorenzo de Medici; and when Arthur Bissell regretted that he had but one life to give to the stage door.

Whitford Kane saw and participated in a part of these gallant carryings-on. He arrived here in February, 1913, not long out of County Antrim, Ireland, to act at the Playhouse [Fine Arts building] in "Hindle Wakes," a drama of female emancipation in Lancashire. This was the Chicago Theater society's only bull's-eye at the box office. Commerce adopted the play and moved it to the Olympic, where the front of the house was placarded:

"Chicagoans, come and see the little girl who sows her wild oats."

NEED FOR LAUGHTER.

(A sonnet in honor of Molière, author of classic French comedies.)

O, Laughter, come again with eagerness
To flood away these ashes choking thought,
And give the dizzy brain of consciousness
Relief a moment, being overwrought.
Bring from the vineyards grapes and press the wine
That battles in forgetfulness may drown
For a brief season. Let us go and dine
In Tarascon or other southern town.
Laughter was in the market places there
And in the châteaux and the tavern yards,
When strolling players following Molière
Evoked the comic spirit into words.
One evening to the France of other days
With wise and joyous Molière and his plays!

The Problem Children of Duke Bakrak.

Now that we got Mary squared with tha teacher [Oct. 17], little Joan, she's 6 yrs. [4 to conductors] is dog-housing. She's in low first, at least its a safe spot cause ya cant get shoved lower. The Dutchess dont hafta go an see Joanies teacher cause she lives near us an bout twice a week she drops in an delivers the sad tidings. Her motto is "Service, without a smile." Once there was a spell of 2 weeks when she didn' show, cause the kid was smearing her with apples. When the fruit runs out the teacher runs in, which goes to prove the old adage "An apple a day keeps the teacher away."

Me an Joanie have a deal on where if she gets a 100 mark in spelling she gets a dime fer her Xmas bank. The other day she brings home a 50 mark an insists I owe her a nickel. I explains that 50 is only half a 100 so yesterday she brings another 50 mark an then calls me an "ole-meanie" because I refuse to dish, claims two 50s is as good as 100.

Friday I asks her if she's having some new studies an she says that they're now learning "two-timing." I thought fer a minute she remembered her mama using this expression on me on several occasions, but its explained okay—its 2 times 2 is 4, an 2 times 4 is 8. This morning we're in tha kitchen an I tell her I'm gonna give her a hard one, an if she gets it right I'll give her a penny. So I asks her how much is 2x8 an she says she'll be back in a minute. I thought she was going up in the parlor to concentrate. She's gone fer some time an was I proud when she comes back an says "It's 16."

Tonite I gets home an the mama tells me that Bush the grocer wants to know if our Joan aint gone a little bit screwy in the head cause he says she run in this morning all outa breath an hollers "I want 2 cans of the 8c peas an how much is that?" Then she takes a run-out powder on him after he's gotten em all wrapped up. YEA! DUMB! HUH? Duke Bakrak.

P. S. Says her favorite study is recess.

AUTUMN SONG.

The roads of the world cry out for the taking,
Now vagabond autumn's bright bonfires blaze.
The gold of the trees pours down without slaking,
And migrant wings thunder through saffron hued days.

The roads of the world! O, come, let's be going!
Horizons out yonder are never too far!
Tall storms in our faces, or sunlit winds blowing,
We'll top the blue hill that leans to a star!

Lauretta Hogan.

Referred to Court of Domestic Relations.

Am I in the doghouse now! The other day when my worse half was reading the newspaper she remarked that it said if the United States became involved in a war our steel industry would probably run short of manganese and tungsten. Well, I fixed that. I told her that if they'd start using womanganese instead of manganese they'd certainly have plenty of tonguesten. S. Nosakcid.

Women Are Never Veterans.

What's all this about a newspaper veterans' party next Saturday? Who's more veteranish than I who rode a camel at the Columbian Exposition and wrote a puffkly killing story about it for the Morning Record? Or is the affair just for the growly sex? Mme. Qui Vive.

[Yes, growlers only, Mrs. Jameson.]

The last camp site of the Potawatami Indians in Cook county is marked by a large boulder on the Plainfield road just west of Wolf road.

How to Keep Well By Dr. Irving S. Cutter

BLEEDING GUMS MAY MEAN PYORRHEA.

A CLEAN mouth usually means good health; a filthy oral cavity quite the reverse. The physicians who served our grandparents inspected the tongue, the lips, the teeth, and all the structures of the throat at every visit. Nowadays the practice seems to have gone out of fashion. Some of our modern medical men may not know what to look for.

With many of us this region of the body is a most revealing document. It points clearly to the state of well-being. Do the teeth present evidences of premature decay? Is pyorrhea present? What about the color of the gums and the mucous membranes? Is the tongue deeply furred and is there a bad taste on waking in the morning?

With dental caries or pyorrhea some weakness exists in nutrition or hygiene. Furthermore, the absorption of puslike material by the blood stream—as well as that which is swallowed—will constitute a harbinger of trouble.

We have no right to look upon decay as a single disease entity. It is merely a part of the lowered resistance of the individual. Just as the person with gout will show more uric acid than normal, with a tendency to chronic nephritis, so pale, puffy gums at the margin may indicate some circulatory disturbance or dietary lack. We have only to point to scurvy—with the spongy tissues surrounding the dentures bleeding at the slightest touch—as an example. The generous employment of fruit juice containing vitamin C will prove remedial.

But it is pyorrhea that occasions more havoc than any other single mouth malady. First of all the gums surrounding the necks of the teeth become darker in shade [not the normal pale pink]. Slight pressure with the fingers or a toothbrush may bring on oozing.

If every one would only take time by the forelock and visit the dentist immediately the chances are 99 to 100 that the disease can be corrected easily. But few of us heed the "pink toothbrush" and the inflammation goes on its way merrily. If one is healthy, moderately brisk cleaning will not cause bleeding.

What has happened? We think, of course, that just because blood appears we have been brushing too vigorously and we desist entirely or pass over the sore spots lightly. This is just the wrong thing to do. Thorough cleansing should be the rule and, in addition, the parts should be massaged with clean fingertips to bring fresh nutriment to the cells. Wherever we see swelling—as we do in this condition—we must realize that the circulation has become stagnant in the affected area. Gentle manipulation is necessary, therefore, to push the old blood out and make room for the new—which will hasten recovery.

In the meantime the dentist will perform his job well. He will scrape away all "tartar" [deposited from the saliva] and repair badly fitting crowns or bridgework, the edges of which may be pressing upon soft tissues. Perhaps he will suggest more calcium in the diet or that the patient should visit the family doctor for a checkup. It goes without saying that healing of any sort of lesion depends largely upon adequate reserve. Sufficient rest and outdoor exercise must be provided to keep all body organs performing at par.

After all, the important thing to do is to detect pyorrhea early and attack at once—granting no quarter. Otherwise pus pockets will form later and burrow downward, ultimately loosening the teeth and rendering them useless. Unfortunately, mouth washes, while efficacious in many situations, will rarely be helpful here. To prevent the advancing ravages of the ailment a number of visits to the dentist will be required. His success will be greatly enhanced if the physician can be given a chance to relieve some systemic disorder that may be destroying vigor.

CYST IS A FORM OF TUMOR.

F. F. writes: What is the difference between a tumor and a cyst?

REPLY.

A tumor refers to any type of growth. A cyst is merely one form of tumor, containing fluid.

OFTEN NO SYMPTOMS.

N. B. writes: What are the indications that adhesions are forming after an appendix operation?

REPLY.

In the majority of cases, adhesions cause no symptoms. When they interfere with intestinal movements, pain is usually present.

GAS FORMING FOODS.

H. S. writes: Are there any foods which tend to be more gas forming than others?

REPLY.

Yes. We have itemized these foods in leaflet form. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the list.

THE WORLD WAR 25 YEARS AGO

[From Tribune Files.]

Oct. 26, 1914.

LONDON.—The Germans and Austrians in Poland were reported to have rallied against the victorious Russians. The Germans' new airplane bombardment of Warsaw was said to have been successful. It was admitted that the Germans were making progress on the north coast of France.

BERLIN. — The German command claimed that by the end of the twelfth week of the war it had stemmed the enveloping campaign of the allies against its right flank on the western front.

PARIS.—The French claimed that one of their airplanes dropped a bomb on the town of Revigny, where Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm of Germany had his headquarters.

PARIS.—Dr. Richard Derby of New York and Mrs. Derby, formerly Ethel Roosevelt, visited a refugee organization in Paris and assured them of American sympathy.

NEW YORK.—It was learned that Miss Gladys A. Lewis of Chicago was the G. A. Lewis who contracted with the Standard Arms Manufacturing company for all the rapid fire weapons that firm could produce in two years for an unnamed belligerent.

THINKS IT'S THE LIMIT.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—The highest in something or other: An American [?] clergyman, in an American church, in the presence of the President of the United States praying to God to give the king of England strength to kill as many human beings as possible.

How soon are we substituting "God Save the King" for the "Star Spangled Banner"? D. A. R.

HIS DOG'S MENTALITY.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Throwing a ball for my police dog and noting her extraordinary agility and the way she catches the most difficult bounces, I reached the conclusion that in athletics the dog is about equal to a professional baseball player . . . and noting her confusion and panic when she misses or fumbles the ball, I also reached the conclusion that she has about the mentality of a professional baseball player, which is about the meanest thing I can say about my dog. LARRY RALEIGH.

ABOUT THE "MOTHER" COUNTRY.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Please do not be too severe in answering "Loyal British American," whose letter this morning urged "aiding England with arms" because of our owing "some allegiance to the mother country." She is not the only one who has forgotten that we threw away that allegiance years ago.

A canon of the British church said to me when Edward had ascended the throne, "Perhaps he will marry an American woman and bring us back together under the dear old flag." His patient listening to my explanation of the impossibility of any American girl carrying the country with her by marriage with the king of England yet showed the attitude of many English people.

Of course we like the English, but not as well as we do the Canadians, the Australians, and the New Zealanders. The canon, reading the debate in the United States senate, must rejoice that no English king had to marry an American to make some American senators think they "owe some allegiance to the mother country."

CATHARINE WAUGH MCCULLOUGH.

SHORTAGE IN PARK POLICE.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—The Chicago park police some time ago made a survey as to the extent of police protection needed in the parks. The results, which reveal a shortage of 100 men, were turned over to the park commissioners along with a request for 100 new men to fill the vacancies. President Dunham and his park board are supposedly deliberating on what action should be taken.

On Jan. 1 this shortage will be increased when the recently passed 65 year retirement law goes into effect.

The park board has said police vacancies were not filled because of lack of funds. Since then $30,000,000 was appropriated to the park district for the next three years' expenditures. Surely a small part of this should make ample funds to bolster the park force. What now is the park board deliberating on? CITIZEN.

WHY NOT CHICAGO MODELS?

Chicago, Oct. 24.—I note in a Chicago newspaper article about the coming automobile show. Stress was laid on the fact that in an amateur photographer's contest, models brought from New York would be available for posing.

Why import models? Chicago has a great number of attractive, well trained girls who could do as well as any imported product.

I say use Chicago models in a Chicago show. How about it? INEZ MACHA.

BANDAGES FOR "THE ALLIES."

Chicago, Oct. 24.—A letter to THE TRIBUNE asks how it happens, when we are supposed to be neutral, that the Red Cross is shipping supplies to England, France, and Poland and not to Germany. The answer is: England and France are remarkably astute in asking for help. They have correctly estimated the potency of appealing to the sympathies of the American women who can so easily be persuaded that rolling bandages is far nobler than keeping themselves sternly apart from anything that may cost the lives of the American youth. At the present time this is the purpose and the only purpose served as Europe is suffering no shortage of surgical dressing. R. M.

P. S. Lest I be accused of being pro-German may I add that my grandfather was an English sea captain.

COULD JOIN BRITISH ARMY.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—I want to reply to "Loyal British American's" letter of Oct. 18, despite the fact that I am not of German descent: If you feel that England is the mother country I don't know what you are doing over here and furthermore if you believe it would be the noble act to help England then get your little gun and join the British army, but please don't try to drag with you the other peace loving people in the United States, who fortunately have been endowed with sufficient intelligence to realize that the only mother country they have is the good old United States and the only flag they owe allegiance to is the Stars and Stripes. M. W.

[THE TRIBUNE acknowledges receipt of several dozen other letters replying to "Loyal British American" in a tone similar to "M. W.'s" comments.]

POLITICS IN STATE HOSPITALS.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—There are many of us who thru sheer force of cruel circumstance have placed our beloved ones in state hospitals. We are grateful for the efforts of THE TRIBUNE to expose the political, moral, and medical corruption which lurks behind the walls of many such places. It appears that whenever politics enters so does degeneracy.

I hope you succeed in blasting all incompetence from our public offices and institutions. I. N.

WOULD TELL 'EM ALL TO GO TO—.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Now is the time for all good Americans to tell their senators and congressmen to declare our independence of the land of the sickle and hammer, the land of the swastika, the land of the frogs, and the land of the "bull." N. V. CHRISTENSEN.

MONEY LOANED.

Chicago, Oct. 17 [Legal Friend of the People].—Twelve years ago I loaned $400 to a relative for his son's education. I have a typewritten note signed by the parents stating they owe this amount and will pay as soon as possible. They still owe $100. I wish to collect the interest of $90, also which they promised to pay but this is not stated in the note.

1. Can I collect the amount due plus interest?
2. Is the note still valid?
3. Can they refuse to pay even if called to court?
4. Can his wages be garnisheed?

MRS. R. P.

1. Yes, at 5%, assuming that there has been a part payment or new promise to prevent the statute of limitations from running.
2. The limitation period is 10 years from the maturity date. You state no facts to indicate when the instrument should have been paid and hence when the statutes began to run.
3. See preceding answers.
4. Not without first getting judgment against him. His garnishment exemption if he is head of a family is $20.00 per week.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

HOMESTEAD RIGHTS.

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 19 [Legal Friend of the People.]—1. As I understand, you are allowed $1,000 on a homestead, and if it is worth over $7,000 it can be sold to satisfy a judgment. The judgment is for $70.

2. Do they have to pay you the $1,000 first before they get their share? Supposing it was sold and [3] it didn't bring $1,000? Then what?

4. If a person owes a bill and he is trying to pay as much as he can on this bill, say $1 a week, or any small amount, do they have to accept it, and if they refuse what can be done about it? J. A.

1. Under Illinois law homestead is a $1,000 life interest. This means that its value will not be the full $1,000. The value would be calculated on the basis of mortality tables.
2. The mortality table value of your homestead interest would be set off to you out of the proceeds of the execution sale, if that is what you mean to ask.
3. It is difficult to imagine a property occupied as a homestead which would not sell for more than the homestead interest.
4. No payment of less than the full amount due would protect the debtor, if that is what you mean to ask.

QUIZ MANTENO WORKERS TO FIX EPIDEMIC BLAME

Chicago Woman's Death Brings Toll to 53.

State's Attorney Samuel H. Shapiro of Kankakee county yesterday began questioning staff members of the Manteno state hospital, where 53 persons have died in a typhoid fever epidemic in recent months. The 53d victim, whose death occurred yesterday, was Mrs. Alice Sunderland, 80 years old, of Chicago.

Shapiro has pledged that he will carry on his investigation until it has been determined who was to blame for failure to curb the typhoid epidemic in its early stages. He said he feels conditions at the hospital have improved to such an extent that the institution's personnel, including 21 physicians, can be spared to answer his questions.

Eyes Qualifications of Doctors.

"I shall look into the qualifications and sponsorship of the doctors and of other employés," he continued. "I would like to know why none of the scientific staff suspected typhoid fever when their patients became ill in July."

Meanwhile bids for installation of a water filtration system at the institution, one of nine in which the state's insane wards are housed, were being received by A. L. Bowen, state director of public welfare. Filtration was considered the only alternative to building a pipe line to Kankakee, 12 miles away, and Bowen said it was much cheaper.

For the time being water supplies are being hauled in milk trucks from Kankakee. The polluted wells that caused the fever are shut off. Dr. Ralph T. Hinton, managing officer, said the epidemic had abated.

Staff Physicians Listed.

Senior physicians on Dr. Hinton's staff, who are among those to be questioned by State's Attorney Shapiro, with their schools, dates of graduation, and places of internship or previous experience, follow:

Dr. Louis Steinberg, assistant managing officer, University of Illinois, date not given. [He was senior physician at Elgin state hospital for eight years.]

Dr. Louis Harold Cohen, clinical director, Yale, 1931; Worcester, Mass., state hospital.

Dr. Bernard Skorodin, senior physician, University of Illinois, 1930; Anna state hospital.

Dr. Klacher Tutunjian, senior physician, native of Turkey, naturalized in 1927; Rush Medical college, 1931; Francis Willard hospital.

The following are junior physicians:

Dr. Arthur H. Golmar, Rush Medical college, 1900; Alexian Brothers' hospital; private practice in Kankakee for many years.

Dr. Joachim Hoff, native of Russia, naturalized in 1908; University of Chicago, 1914; private practice to 1917, then employed at Chicago state hospital and Lincoln state school.

Dr. Martin S. Croft, native of Poland, naturalized in 1928; University of Illinois, 1929; French hospital, San Francisco, Cal., private practice eight years.

Dr. Maurice L. Stern, Loyola medical college, 1937; St. Bernard's hospital.

Dr. Rudolph Rosenberg, Rush Medical college, 1937; Cook County hospital.

Dr. Frank Mitchell, University of Illinois, 1937; Los Angeles, Cal.

Dr. Isadore Spinka, University of Illinois, 1937; Cook County hospital.

Dr. Israel Spector, native of Russia, naturalized; Rush Medical college, 1936; Los Angeles, Cal.

Dr. William Rosenberg, University of Illinois, 1937; Cook County hospital.

Dr. Paul E. Feldman, University of Chicago, 1936; St. Elizabeth's hospital.

Dr. Benjamin B. Rosen, University of Illinois, 1935; Jacksonville state hospital.

Dr. Maurice D. Urist, Loyola medical college; Cook County hospital.

Dr. Milton Goldberg, University of Minnesota, 1935; fellow in psychiatry at Institute for Juvenile Research, Chicago.

Dr. Louis Schlan, University of Illinois, 1936; St. Elizabeth's hospital.

Dr. Walter Kirschbaum, native of Germany; Munich university, 1919; served in German army during the world war; employed at Manteno June 13, 1939, as resident doctor in pathology at $50 per month.

Dr. Erich Paschke, native of Vienna, Austria; University of Vienna; seven years' hospital work; private practice, 1934-'38; employed at Manteno May 23, 1939, as intern, at $25 per month.

Doctors Steinberg and Cohen are paid $250 a month each. The other senior physicians receive $190 a month and the juniors $150. Director Bowen said that none of them had been supported by political influence in getting his place. This was confirmed by Dr. H. Douglas Singer, state alienist, who passed on the qualifications of the doctors.

Manteno's Water Supply

(Story in adjoining column.)

The rock formations under Manteno state hospital, where the water from four wells has been blamed for an epidemic of typhoid. A nearby sewage treatment plant and a rock fissure leading down and to the right from the bed of Rock creek share suspicion for contamination of the water. Sewage is dumped into Rock creek.

AL JOLSON AND WIFE SEPARATE; TALK DIVORCE

(Picture on back page.)

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 25 (AP).—Al Jolson, noted "mammy" singer of screen and stage, said today he and Ruby Keeler had separated and she had consulted lawyers with divorce in view. She is living with her parents.

"I hope everything will work out all right," Jolson said.

Jolson said that since the separation he had offered his wife $400 a week for life, with a lump settlement of $50,000 if she married again, and a $100,000 trust fund for their adopted child. She rejected this as insufficient, he said, on advice of lawyers.

He described their differences as "family troubles, not important enough in my opinion to bring a divorce."

Miss Keeler and Jolson were introduced by Texas Guinan, the late night club hostess, and married a year later, Sept. 21, 1928. The singer honeymooned in Europe with his 19 year old bride.

Police Kill Holdup Suspect as He Flees Patrol Wagon

Henry King, 28 years old, colored, of 5248 Calumet avenue, was shot to death last night by police when he attempted to flee while being taken from the patrol wagon into Wabash avenue station. King, arrested a few minutes earlier as a suspect in a holdup at 51st street and South parkway, disregarded commands to halt.

You've hit your inner stride

...when you regain healthy per-i-stal-sis

You plunge into work and play at top form... there's lift to your step ...when you hit your inner stride! That inner stride starts with a rhythmic motion inside. The name for it is per-i-stal-sis. When it's healthy, the intestines contract... expand... contract... as steady as your heart beat. When it slows down, you know something's wrong. You feel constipated, heavy.

Then you can't afford to take chances. You want a thorough flushing-out, and you want it quick ...to clear the way for healthy per-i-stal-sis. That's the time for Eno!

What fluid-action does

You need extra fluid in the intestines. Eno brings it from other parts of the body. Eno gives mild stimulation. Clogged wastes are effectively cleared away by Eno's stimulation... by its fluid-action. How easy to swing into stride, now per-i-stal-sis is healthy again!

Don't forget: Eno "alkalizes"

Take Eno, also, to help neutralize excess stomach acids. Get this extra alkalizing benefit while you enjoy Eno's sparkling, tangy taste.

When you're off-stride, try Eno's fluid-action. Feel gloriously free as lift, lightness return! Ask for Eno now at any drug store.

Does Your Breath Shout 'FALSE TEETH'?

Stera-Kleen Prevents False Teeth Odor—Cleans Without Brushing

"False teeth odor" is the curse of denture wearers. Ordinary brushing or antiseptics often will not remove scum and food particles that collect on your plate or bridge. This uncleanliness gives off the most offensive of breath odors—you do not know if you have it—but others do.

Prevent this odor by using STERA-KLEEN and make sure of absolute cleanliness. STERA-KLEEN dissolves scum and food particles from the tiny crevices of your plate that brushing does not reach. It is safe—economical—easy to use.

Stir a little STERA-KLEEN in water, put in your plate or bridge for a few minutes. Rinse, and it is ready for use without brushing. Daily use prevents "false teeth odor." Get STERA-KLEEN today. Only 30¢ a package at any drug store.

GRAHAM ESTATE WINS $76,222 BY INCOME TAX CUT

The estate of Ernest R. Graham, Chicago architect, who died on Nov. 22, 1936, won a reduction of $76,222 in 1936 income tax yesterday from the board of tax appeals at Washington, D. C. The internal revenue department had sought to collect $171,826, but Stanley Field, James Simpson, and Charles E. Murphy, executors of the estate, petitioned for a redetermination. The appeals board lowered the tax to $95,604.

Graham's will provided that his entire estate of $1,500,000 will go eventually to the American School of Fine Arts, founded here in 1935 as a free institution for advance instruction in architecture, sculpture, painting, and kindred subjects.

DIVORCED WIFE SUES HERBERT CRANE FOR $200,000 IN STOCKS

The romance and divorce of Herbert P. Crane and the Costa Rican beauty, Elida Piza, were recalled yesterday when she sued him for Crane company stock which she says is worth $200,000.

Crane, a member of the Crane plumbing supply family, is 79 years old. He lives on Wild Rose farm near St. Charles. Mrs. Piza is 38 years old. She lives in a north side hotel.

Her suit, drawn by Attorney Frank Petru, was filed in Superior court. It states that Crane gave his bride 300 shares of Crane company stock when he married her after a whirlwind romance in Costa Rica in 1916.

The suit asserts that Crane persuaded her to let him keep the stock for her, but did not return it when they were divorced in 1922. The value of the holdings has increased now to $200,000, according to the bill. The company is a co-defendant in the suit.

RITES TOMORROW FOR J. R. PICKELL, MARKET ANALYST

The funeral of J. Ralph Pickell, a commodity market analyst, will be held at 8:30 a. m. tomorrow from the chapel at 4138 Madison street to St. Giles church in Oak Park. Mr. Pickell died Tuesday at the age of 58 in the Oak Park hospital after a brief illness.

He had been editor of "The Roundup," a commodity forecasting magazine, for 25 years. He also published a daily grain market and stock news service. Mr. Pickell was recognized as an authority in estimating the total production of both spring and winter wheat crops and frequently was a consultant on crops for the government.

He leaves his widow, Georgia; a son, Ralph; his mother, Mrs. Jessie Pickell, and two sisters and five brothers. The family home is at 1034 Woodbine avenue, Oak Park.

OBITUARIES

The Rev. W. W. Anderson.

The Rev. W. W. Anderson, who would have observed his 100th birthday on Nov. 6, died yesterday in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Clara A. Groves, 1223 Wilmette avenue, Wilmette. The Rev. Mr. Anderson retired 32 years ago from the Presbyterian ministry. He held various Ohio pastorates, the last at Loudonville. Since his retirement he had lived in Wilmette at the homes of his two daughters, Mrs. Groves and Mrs. J. R. Harper. Another daughter, Mrs. David Metzler of Wooster, O., also survives. The Rev. Mr. Anderson often related that he cast his first vote for Abraham Lincoln in the presidential election of 1860. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church at 600 9th street, Wilmette. Burial will be at Loudonville.

Frank Frish.

Frank Frish, a general contractor who built many structures on the west side, died yesterday at his home, 1709 South Carpenter street. He was 83 years old. Mr. Frish came to Chicago with his parents nearly eighty years ago from Bohemia. As a boy he saw Abraham Lincoln's funeral procession. The family lived at Taylor and Sherman streets, near the home of Mrs. Patrick O'Leary, in whose cow barn the fire of 1871 is supposed to have started. In 1874 Mr. Frish succeeded his father in the general contracting business, continuing in that business for fifty-one years. He is survived by three sons and three daughters. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday in the chapel at 6227 Cermak road.

Samuel Leland.

Samuel Leland, a teacher in Chicago schools for fifty years, died yesterday in a hospital at Orange, N. J. He was 84 years old. Mr. Leland had been living in Maplewood, N. J., since his retirement from the McKinley High school staff four years ago. Surviving are two sons, Charles F., of Maplewood, and Sampel Jr. of Chicago. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at Newton Center, Mass.

Sir Arthur Evans Clare.

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 25 (AP).—Sir Arthur Evans Clare, 74 years old, one time actor and father of Gladys George of stage and screen, died today. Sir Arthur, knighted for service with the British army in India, was a native of London, but came to the United States at the close of his army career. He retired as an actor in 1933. His widow, Lady Alice, and Miss George survive him.

Albert H. Adams.

Chicago friends of Albert H. Adams, patent attorney who formerly lived in Oak Park, have been informed of his death Tuesday in Seattle, Wash. Mr. Adams was 73 years old. He was a member of the law firm of Bond, Adams, Pickard, and Jackson. His widow and a son survive. Funeral services will be held in Seattle today.

Joseph Saks.

Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 25 (AP).—Joseph Saks, 62 years old, a member of the Washington mercantile family, died at his home here today. Son of the late Isadore Saks, he moved from Washington many years ago. Services will be held Friday at Temple Emanuel, New York, with interment in Cypress Hills cemetery.

Francis J. Schulte.

Francis J. Schulte, 80 years old, formerly a book publisher in Chicago, died yesterday at his home in Hinsdale. He was a native of Germany, but had resided in the Chicago area since 1883. Surviving are his widow, Katherine, and three daughters. Private funeral services will be held tomorrow.

Charles J. Fox.

Pasadena, Cal., Oct. 25 (AP).—Charles J. Fox, 66 years old, son of Richard K. Fox, founder of the original Police Gazette and himself formerly associated with its publication, died today.

FUNERAL WILL BE TODAY FOR COL. I. L. REEVES

Col. Ira L. Reeves.

Funeral services for Col. Ira L. Reeves, educator, author, engineer, veteran of four wars, and antiprohibitionist, will be held today in Eldon, Mo., where he died Monday. Col. Reeves, 67 years old, a retired army colonel, left Chicago four years ago.

Col. Reeves was wounded in the Philippine campaign and in the world war. He served as commandant and professor of military science at Purdue university, Miami Military institute, and the University of Vermont. From 1915 to 1918 he was president of Norwich university, and in 1919 was president of the A. E. F. university in Beaune, France.

After three years as prohibition administrator of New Jersey, Col. Reeves became central western manager in Chicago of the Crusaders, a militant antidry organization. He also headed his own engineering company. His widow, Carolyn, a son, Louis, and a daughter, Dorothy, survive.

LUCKY BALDWIN'S DAUGHTER DIES IN WEST, AGED 65

Arcadia, Cal., Oct. 25 [Special].—Anita M. Baldwin, daughter and heiress of E. J. [Lucky] Baldwin, California pioneer, sportsman, and multimillionaire landowner, died at her Santa Anita estate today at the age of 65.

Mrs. Baldwin, who re-acquired her maiden name, became one of this country's richest women when she inherited with her sister, Mrs. Clara Baldwin Stocker, an estate valued at $20,000,000 upon Lucky Baldwin's death in 1909. Mrs. Stocker died in 1929.

Altho the two heiresses spent millions, and only a small part of the original 3,600-acre estate remained in 1924, it was appraised at $50,000,000. Later in life Mrs. Baldwin devoted herself to music and travel.

In 1920 Mrs. Baldwin figured in a sensational attempt on her life by bamboo poisoning, believed to have resulted from her discharge of her Japanese servants. Who administered the poison, and how, remained mysteries.

WOMAN'S DEBT CLAIM DENIED BY CAPT. HERNE

Judge Thomas A. Green will submit a decision today in the suit of Mrs. Genevieve R. Brovarney, 30 years old, of Detroit, against Capt. E. D. C. Herne, British world war aviator and radio commentator. Capt. Herne denied from the witness stand yesterday that he owed Mrs. Brovarney $1,523, which she says she advanced him in 1934 and 1935.

Mrs. Genevieve Brovarney.

Both Mrs. Brovarney and Capt. Herne were living in Detroit at the time of the alleged loans. He now resides at 145 East Ontario street.

ALDERMAN R. W. SHORT DIES.

Beardstown, Ill., Oct. 25 [Special].—Alderman R. W. Short, 70 years old, died of a heart attack today. He formerly was yardmaster of the Burlington railroad.

INFANTRY USED FIRST TIME IN TEXAS COMBAT

Cavalry Maneuver to Be Completed Soon.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Balmorhea, Tex., Oct. 25 [Special].—The streamlined 9th infantry operated against cavalry for the first time today in the final phase of the 1st cavalry division's annual maneuvers. The mission of the horsemen was to delay advance of the White forces, represented by the motorized 9th infantry, reinforced by one battalion of the 15th field artillery.

The cavalrymen, commanded by Brig. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, moved into position ten miles west of Balmorhea at 6:30 a. m. and occupied the crest of high ground.

The cavalry was deployed along a firing line. The 82d field artillery was placed in position behind a protecting hill. Land restrictions prevented trench digging, but full use was made of sage bush and mesquite for concealing machine guns and troops.

Fire at 1,000 Yards.

At 7:30 a. m. two trucks carrying an infantry squad each, representing the scouting force of the advance guard, approached at 20 miles an hour. The hidden cavalry allowed them to come within 1,000 yards and then opened fire with machine guns and anti-tank guns. The infantry men jumped from the trucks and ran for the bushes. A runner was sped to the rear to notify the rest of the advance guards that the enemy had been met.

The infantry advanced guard, consisting of one battalion and one battery of modified 75 mm. howitzers and 37 mm. antitank guns, immediately turned off the road. One company was ordered forward to reinforce the two squads. The two other companies and artillery moved south behind a protecting ridge to attack the cavalry left flank. One gun was ruled out of commission by the umpires because it was seen by the cavalry's supporting artillery when making the turn off the road.

Move Under Artillery Aid.

The three other guns moved two miles into position and started firing on Blue artillery which had been located by observation planes. Communications and air observation worked efficiently on both sides. The two infantry companies accompanying the White artillery deployed and started advancing toward the Blue forces under cover of their artillery fire.

Observing officers criticized the advanced guards for going too close to the enemy positions before leaving the trucks and deploying.

Tonight found the Blues still in command of their high ground, with the infantry keeping up a heavy fire.

The main body of the 9th infantry was held ten miles away from the scene of action. Each side today had a flight of observation planes which continued to circle at 2,000 feet. The 2d cavalry brigade is in bivouac and has not been molested by the enemy. Contact of opposing forces will be continued during the night, and the maneuver will be completed tomorrow or Friday with all troops engaged.

REALTY MAN DIES.

Geneseo, Ill., Oct. 25 [Special].—William H. Hosford, 81 years old, who had been in the real estate and insurance business in the same location for 62 years, died today. He started at the age of 18 as a partner with his father, Maj. James Hosford, who founded the business in 1858. He was vice president of the Farmers National bank and a director of the Geneseo Public hospital. He was an alderman several terms.

Rose Pauly, Metropolitan Opera star, who flew to Chicago yesterday to appear with the Chicago Symphony orchestra this evening.

With the City Opera season opening Saturday, the company is beginning to assemble. One of yesterday's arrivals was Grace Moore, blonde and vivacious soprano, who is to appear Saturday afternoon, Nov. 4, in "Louise." Brimming with enthusiasm for her favorite opera, Miss Moore said this would be her first appearance as Louise in Chicago.

Ezio Pinza, who will have the title rôle in "Boris Godunoff" Saturday night, is expected to arrive today. Catherine and Dorothie Littlefield and their ballet of 40 dancers arrived yesterday morning.

Rose Pauly, Metropolitan opera soprano, concluded a six day dash by plane when she arrived here yesterday from Buenos Aires to appear tonight with the Chicago Symphony orchestra in an all-Strauss program. Dr. Frederick Stock will conduct.

League of Nations Called to Meet Dec. 4 Despite War

GENEVA, Oct. 25 (AP).—The 20th assembly of the league of nations was called today to meet on Dec. 4. The assembly will be held on that date despite the war unless a majority of members send objections.

CHICAGO SEEKS GIRO SERVICE TO SPEED AIR MAIL

Regular Shuttle to Roof of Postoffice Asked.

Chicago yesterday launched a drive for an immediate and regular autogiro shuttle service to transfer air mail from the city airport to the postoffice building at Van Buren and Canal streets. The first step was taken by the Association of Commerce in letters to Postmaster General Farley and all the Illinois senators and congressmen.

Oscar G. Mayer, president of the association, declared in the letters that Chicago is the air mail center of the nation; that a demonstration here has shown the service is feasible, and that an experimental autogiro shuttle for air mail has been successfully operated for several months between the Philadelphia postoffice and Camden airport.

Predicts Greater Volume.

"An autogiro service will definitely improve present air mail pickup and delivery schedules in Chicago," said Mayer.

The letters said a survey by the association's postal service committee disclosed that during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1939, the Chicago postoffice handled 2,885,088 pounds of air mail. The second largest poundage was handled by the Newark airport office, which serves New York City. This amounted to 2,786,846 pounds.

Other leading cities handled air mail in the following amounts:

| | Pounds. |
|---|---|
| Los Angeles | 1,828,730 |
| Salt Lake City | 1,207,918 |
| Fort Worth | 992,789 |
| Washington, D. C. | 982,262 |
| Kansas City | 885,288 |

"A giro plane could make the round trip between the Chicago airport and postoffice in 40 minutes, including running times, loading, and unloading at both ends, as compared with 120 minutes by truck," said Mayer. "In 24 hours one autogiro could make 36 round trips, whereas one truck can make only 12."

"In addition local air mail deliveries could be speeded and the closing time on outbound mail could be extended without retarding delivery at destination."

Tribune Sponsored Test.

Chicago's successful autogiro shuttle test was made on May 15, 1938, under the sponsorship of THE TRIBUNE. Pilot Johnny Miller, flying a Kellett autogiro, made the trip from the airport to the postoffice and back in safety. He landed and took off on a tiny square platform used to brace the roof on the 14 story postoffice building. Miller now is flying the mail at Philadelphia.

Congress has authorized experiments to determine the practicality of using giros in many cities.

Air Mail Volume

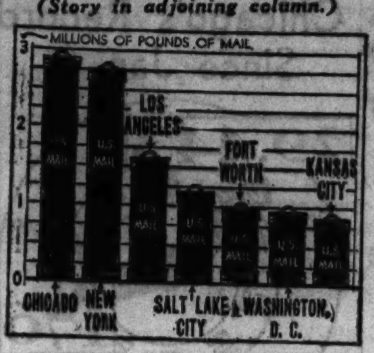
(Story in adjoining column.)



Height of mail bags shows extent to which Chicago leads other large cities in volume of air mail handled. Figures for year ending last June 30, were cited in effort to obtain autogiro shuttle service between airport and postoffice building.

HUNT BANDIT IN 2 ROBBERIES.

A robber weighing more than 200 pounds was being sought yesterday after he held up two stores in the Englewood district, obtaining $20. The stores robbed are at 5925 Wentworth avenue and 5357 South Damen avenue.

Where do you keep your Life Insurance policies?

Can YOU answer these 5 questions about YOUR Life Insurance?

Where should policies be kept?

In a safe-deposit box—in your office—in a drawer at home—or exactly where? The right answer to this question is important and varies for different people. Your agent can help you answer it, in your case.

Have you checked your policies to see whether you have named exactly the persons you want to get the proceeds?

Sometimes circumstances change. Births, marriages, death or separation often alter plans for the payment of the proceeds of policies. If your circumstances have changed, see your agent about changing your beneficiaries. This costs you nothing.

Who gets your insurance money if you and your beneficiary meet death together?

Here is a situation where this might happen: You and your beneficiary meet death together and no one knows which of you dies first. Your life insurance companies will help you solve this problem, without any expense to you. Consult your agent.

Have you made arrangements to help your widow invest the money you leave?

Do you know your life insurance company will pay her a regular income instead of one single sum, if you prefer?

Did you remember YOURSELF?

The same life insurance that protects your family now, can in most cases be arranged to pay you a monthly income when you reach old age—when you are through with business or business is through with you. Have you remembered yourself in arranging your policies?

While it is fresh in your mind, consult your life insurance agent. He can render valuable assistance in the solution of your life insurance questions.

Nurses Discovered This Grand Beauty Secret

Thousands of letters tell how extraordinary medicated cream aids beauty—brings glorious soothing skin comfort

I used to be troubled with blackheads, but since I've been using Noxzema as a night cream they've disappeared completely. And it also helped close my pores. I use Noxzema in the daytime as a base for make-up and my powder stays on perfectly.

RETARDS FORMATION OF BLACKHEADS

I have found Noxzema to be the best make-up base I have ever used. Before applying my make-up I smooth a thin coat of Noxzema on my skin; let it on for about five minutes; wipe off the surplus Noxzema, then apply my make-up and the result is really something to be pleased about. I have had my friends try it and all were glad I had given them the tip.

GRAND POWDER BASE

I am outdoors a great deal in the winter yet my skin is never chapped or wind burned. I give full credit to Noxzema. Each night after a thorough washing I apply Noxzema to my hands, face and neck. Then, during the day, I use it as a powder base.

CHAPPED SKIN

It's almost unbelievable the improvement in my skin since using your miracle cream. Blemishes and large pores are disappearing and it's smoother than ever before, since I've used Noxzema faithfully night and morning as a powder base.

BLEMISHES EXTERNALLY CAUSED

Famous cream helps correct many skin flaws

● If you want a softer, smoother-looking skin—if your skin is rough, wind-dried or chapped—if it's disfigured by ugly blemishes from external causes—then by all means try this dainty, snow-white, greaseless, medicated cream. See if it doesn't help you as it has so many thousands of women.

Noxzema Skin Cream was originally prescribed by doctors for soothing relief of burns. Nurses in Baltimore hospitals used it for their chapped hands and then discovered what a perfectly grand face cream it was. The news spread—today millions of women use Noxzema to help correct complexion faults and protect skin beauty.

Aids beauty 5 ways

FIRST—As a night cream massage—Soothing and refreshing it softens rough skin. It's not sticky! Not greasy!

SECOND—As a corrective cream—Noxzema aids in healing externally caused skin blemishes. It's mildly astringent—helps reduce enlarged pores.

THIRD—As a powder base—Noxzema furnishes a long-lasting, even foundation for make-up!

FOURTH—As a hand cream—Noxzema soothes and helps heal tiny cuts and cracks in chapped hands—aids in keeping hand skin soft, white, lovable.

PRESTO! MISSING HEINTZ WITNESS IS HEARD BY JURY

Then Presto! She Is Gone Just as Mysteriously.

Christine Conzo, young and brunette, the missing witness sought by the state to testify in the Heintz conspiracy case, appeared suddenly yesterday at the trial before Judge James F. Fardy in Criminal court. Her appearance in itself was a surprise. There were two others:

Christine Conzo.

1. She testified, not for the state, but for the defense. She denied she had bought a bottle of hair bleaching lotion to be used by Hubert Heintz in his effort to escape identification as a robber.

2. After a brief period on the witness stand, she disappeared again.

Two Attorneys on Trial.

Miss Conzo, who is 26 years old, was to have been called as a witness by Morris G. Meyers, assistant state's attorney. Meyers is prosecuting Edward A. Fisher and Francis J. Kennedy, former assistant United States district attorneys, on a charge of conspiracy to obstruct justice. They are accused of helping Heintz, their client, evade arrest.

Heintz, the son of a Winnetka broker, was arrested for robbing a loan office of $55 on Nov. 4, 1938. He was freed because he had a mustache and light hair, while the robber was described as smooth shaven and dark. Heintz was later rearrested and confessed. He said his attorneys arranged to have his hair bleached.

Testifying for the state, Heintz said that Miss Conzo, a friend of Kennedy's, bought a bottle of lotion to bleach his hair. When that failed to work, he was taken to a beauty shop for a final treatment, he testified.

Reported Missing Tuesday.

Prosecutor Meyers on Tuesday announced Miss Conzo could not be found at her home at 21 South Menard street or at her job in the city traffic engineer's office. Yesterday afternoon she made a dramatic entry after Meyers had completed a long cross-examination of Attorney Fisher, who declared his innocence. Kennedy's counsel, James M. Burke, then asked the bailiff to call Miss Conzo. She had been secreted in a witness room.

William Scott Stewart, attorney for Fisher, questioned her briefly. Then Meyers began a cross-examination.

"Were you home last week?" he asked. Miss Conzo replied, "No."

"Didn't I ask you some questions a long time ago before the grand jury, and didn't you refuse to answer?" asked Meyers.

"Yes," answered Miss Conzo. "I was so advised by an attorney."

She's Gone Again.

She was then excused from the witness stand. As the courtroom door closed on her, Meyers suddenly asked the bailiff to bring her back for more questions. But when the bailiff went into the corridor, he found the elusive witness had disappeared.

Meyers' examination of Miss Conzo referred to her appearance before the grand jury which indicted Kennedy and Fisher. For refusing to testify, she was sentenced to 30 days in jail for contempt of court.

After serving three days, Miss Conzo obtained her release on a writ from the Appellate court. Yesterday, the court ruled on her case, and reversed the contempt conviction.

Late in the day Kennedy took the stand and denied any attempt to alter Heintz' appearance.

RUSSELL PLEADS NOT GUILTY IN KIDNAP KILLING

Jack Russell, Oklahoma desperado, yesterday pleaded not guilty when arraigned in the federal district court on a charge of murdering Billy Scott Hamilton, Kansas milling salesman who was slain at Ringwood, in McHenry county, last July. Judge Charles E. Woodward set Nov. 13 for the trial of Russell under the Lindbergh kidnaping law.

Russell's attorney, Don D. Rogers, informed the court he was unable to get Dr. Franz Alexander, head of the Institute for Psychoanalysis, to test Russell's sanity. Judge Woodward had selected Dr. Alexander and Dr. Harry Hoffman, head of the Criminal court behavior clinic, from a list of alienists submitted by Rogers. Dr. Hoffman examined Russell and reported him sane. Dr. Alexander, the attorney said, refused to act either for the defense or the prosecution and would have given his findings to the judge only as an unbiased party.

POLICEMAN FREED IN SLAYING FIRED ON DRUNK CHARGE

The police trial board yesterday discharged Policeman Walter Ford of the North avenue station from the force. He was found guilty of intoxication, conduct unbecoming an officer, and unlawful use of a weapon. All the charges grew out of the slaying of Michael Wujs, who was shot to death by Ford Aug. 1 in his tavern at 4148 Division street.

Walter Ford.

Ford and his attorney, George Crane approached the members of the civil service commission just before the hearing and asked that Ford be permitted to resign. The proposal was refused. Ford was acquitted last Wednesday by a jury on a charge of manslaughter.

Ford also was charged before the trial board with violation of the criminal code, but the board did not find him guilty on this charge.

Another policeman, Patrick J. Coughlin of the Maxwell street station, was discharged for intoxication. The board also discharged Arthur Tarnopol, 2507 Division street, a clerk in the water meter shops, and Francis H. Hawkins, colored, of 4752 Prairie avenue, a health department mail clerk, for stealing and selling stamps.

KELLY ASKS BAR ON MONOPOLY IN MILK CARTONS

Mayor Kelly announced yesterday that if paper milk containers are permitted in Chicago steps will be taken to prevent any creation of a monopoly of the business for any one container manufacturer. He said specifications should permit the use of more than one type of carton.

The mayor also said he is not concerned in any argument over whether milk should be sold in glass or paper containers. "My only thought is that the public should be allowed to buy milk in the container it wants, providing it is sanitary. For five years the board of health told me paper containers were not sanitary."

Last week the board passed a resolution asking that the milk regulations be amended to conform to the model ordinance of the United States public health service, which now permits the use of containers meeting certain specifications. The resolution was forwarded to Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes.

Ernest Camit Re-elected Trustee of Benefit Fund

Ernest J. Camit, chief clerk and attorney for the county civil service commission, was reëlected a trustee of the County Employés' Annuity and Benefit fund retirement board yesterday. He won over three other candidates, John Crowe, David O'Keefe, and Kelly Gordon.

CALL VOTE FRAUD TERMS SEVERE; 5 GET NEW TRIAL

The Appellate court ruled yesterday that the punishment given five officials of the 24th ward's 35th precinct for election irregularities was excessive. The court remanded the case for a new trial, altho it found that the conviction, last Dec. 15, was justified. The officials and the punishment meted out by County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki are: Henry Levin, 18 months in jail; Minnie Hirsch and Lillian Rothstein, six months, and Bertha Schallman and Joseph Rosenfeld, 90 days. They served in the primary of April, 1938.

CITY APPRAISER LOSES $144,730 AWARD FOR FEES

Mesce Case Reversed by Appellate Court.

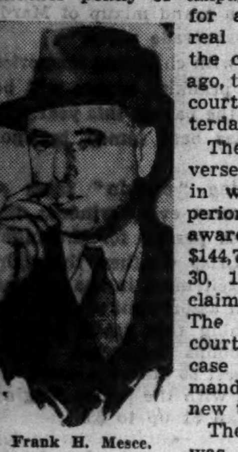
Frank H. Mesce is not entitled to another penny of taxpayers' money for appraising real estate for the city 19 years ago, the Appellate court decided yesterday.



Frank H. Mesce.

The court reversed a verdict in which a Superior court jury awarded Mesce $144,730 on Oct. 30, 1937, on his claim for $854,676. The Appellate court closed the case without remanding it for a new trial.

The Mesce suit was the last remaining legal action in the so-called experts' fees case, in which a former Republican mayor and his administration handed out $1,065,080 to appointees who appraised property involved in the building of Wacker drive and the widening of Ogden, Western, and Ashland avenues.

Suit Brought by Tribune.

Mesce had collected $496,325 for appraisals in 1919, 1920, and 1921 when THE TRIBUNE brought suit in 1922 to compel the mayor and his associates to give the fees back to the taxpayers. The suit demanded also that the officials be restrained from paying the appraisers $1,207,786 more in fees. Defendants with the mayor were the late George F. Harding, controler, and Michael J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements.

In 1928 Judge Hugo M. Friend found the officials guilty of conspiracy to defraud the city and ordered them to return the fees. The Illinois Supreme court reversed Judge Friend in decisions in 1930 and 1931 and relieved the officials of responsibility.

Altho unable to obtain a court injunction, THE TRIBUNE had prevented further payments of fees by informing Harding that the newspaper, as a taxpayer, would hold him personally responsible if the fees were paid.

Jury Fixes $144,730 Award.

Meanwhile, in 1925, Mesce had brought suit to collect the $854,676 which he said the city still owed him. The case dragged on until 1934, when he made another attempt to collect. Not until 1937 was it brought to trial. A jury heard the case in Judge Martin Gridley's court.

The city's fight against the claim was made by Joseph J. Sullivan, assistant corporation counsel, and Special Counsel William Wilson and Emil Meier of the law firm of Kirkland, Fleming, Green, Martin, and Ellis.

The Appellate court reversal, written by Justice Joseph Burke, held that Mesce had already collected all the fees to which he was entitled. The other justices concurred.

CROWN POINT WEDDING TO AVOID ILLINOIS LAW IS VALID, COURT RULES

Weddings in the marriage mills of Crown Point, Ind., are valid even if contracted by Illinoisans seeking to evade their own state's laws requiring medical examination of prospective brides and bridegrooms. This decision was handed down yesterday by the Illinois Appellate court.

The court upheld a ruling by Judge Robert C. O'Connell of the Superior court, who decided last December against the plea of Mrs. Anna Boysen for the annulment of her Crown Point marriage to Rudolph Boysen.

Mrs. Boysen, 54 years old, of 1417 Luna avenue, had testified that she was persuaded by Boysen, who is 57, to tell the clerk who issued a license that she was a resident of Indiana. She based her request for annulment on this point and on the contention that there was evasion of the Illinois laws.

The decision of the Appellate court, written by Judge Oscar Hebel, held there was nothing in the Illinois law to require residents of the state to be married here, or to qualify under the statute in Indiana.

VANDALS CHOP DOWN 74 TREES IN HAMMOND

Policemen and residents of the Robertsdale section of Hammond were searching indignantly yesterday for a vandal or vandals who chopped down 74 trees—some more than a foot in diameter—Tuesday night.

About 60 of the trees stood in Hammand's Forsythe park. The others shaded Robertsdale homes. Nearly all were elms or firs. The chopping was clean, indicating it had been done by experienced woodsmen.

"It couldn't have been done by one man, in my opinion," said Irving Chayken, president of the park board. "It would have taken two all night. This was utterly senseless and we'd like to catch the men who did it."

Police Sergt. Walter Sikorsky, in charge of the investigation, said he hadn't even a theory as to why the trees were felled.

MANUFACTURER'S SON FOUND WITH WRISTS SLASHED

William Sloan, 29 years old, 18 East Elm street, was taken to the Highland Park hospital last night after he was found with both wrists slashed in Scarlett's roadhouse on Skokie road, near the Lake county line. He was attended by Dr. L. A. Richburg of Glencoe, who said no arteries were severed and that Sloan would recover.

Lieut. George LeGrue of the county highway police said that soon after Sloan and his wife entered the place last evening Sloan went into a washroom. The lieutenant was told he came out with blood streaming from his wrists. He offered no explanation.

Sloan is the son of William E. Sloan, 7600 Augusta street, River Forest, president of the Sloan Valve company.

DEATH ENDS WAR ROMANCE WHICH WILSON ASSISTED

Recalls Dutch Girl's Plea to a President.

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 25 (AP).—Death today ended a romance that once had Woodrow Wilson and the army high command playing Cupid. In that rôle they swept aside regulations so a Dutch girl with a clumsily eloquent pen and aching heart might marry the soldier she loved.

The romance began more than a quarter century ago when M. Francis Wielage, a young Dutch boy, kissed his sweetheart good-by and started for America to make his fortune.

It ended today when Dr. Wielage, who became a noted dental authority, died and left his widow with poignant memories of the letter that made their marriage possible.

Letter to the President.

Her letter, written in 1919, moved President Wilson, as commander in chief of the army, to instruct Gen. John J. Pershing to become love's ally. In it she said:

"Confiding in your well known humanity, I come to you a moment for asking your attention for an affair which is interesting me very much, hoping you can find among your many affairs a moment for reading my request. Therefore I'll be short.

"I am engaged to be married to Capt. M. F. Wielage of the American expeditionery forces. He is, just as I, Dutch by birth. Six years ago he started for America on his own risk to work for himself a way thru the world. He has succeeded.

Apart for Six Years.

"For six years we didn't see one another, and now, now that nothing preventing our marriage any longer but a couple of frontiers, our dream menaces not to becomes a reality.

"A leave of absence for a neutral country he cannot get. We can't travel to Le Havre.

"Excuse my many faults and bad English, but I only learned it at school and never had occasion to speak it. Waiting for you in this affair, I remain with kind regard,

"Yours sincerely, A. BARTSTRA."

President Wilson wrote Pershing, and the Dutch girl and her fiancé were married in her father's tiny Dutch parsonage in Geertruidenberg.

VOTE ON ARMOUR UNIONS ORDERED BY LABOR BOARD

The National Labor Relations board in Washington, D. C., ordered yesterday that a secret election be held within 30 days for 7,500 Armour & Co. employés in Chicago. The employés are to determine what organization shall represent them in collective bargaining.

Rival unions competing for votes are the Packinghouse Workers Organizing committee, an affiliate of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, and the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, allied with the American Federation of Labor. Each claims a majority of the employés.

All workmen in the Chicago plants and those laid off in August and July will be eligible to cast ballots.

The board held an election in the main stockyards plant last October and issued a certificate that the C. I. O. group had won. This was contested by the company and later by the Amalgamated, on the ground that an incorrect pay roll list was used by the voters.

SPEED TRAP DEAD, VILLAGE ARRESTS ITS OWN DRIVERS

Stone Park, the shanty town at North avenue and Mannheim road whose speed trap was broken up last July, is now happily engaged in arresting its own citizens, it developed last night.

After the speed trap furor, the village of 600 people, which was chartered last May 12, passed some laws creating a legitimate one man police force [Joseph Collins] and setting up a vehicle tax law calling for $5 a year.

Seven drivers arrested by Collins for failure to pay the $2.50 necessary for the last half of 1939 were taken last night before Oscar Morissett, a WPA worker who is the police magistrate. Court was held in a deserted real estate company shack.

Judge Morissett continued the cases to 4 p. m. Saturday when he will dismiss the defendants if they produce license receipts. Morissett said there are about 200 automobiles in the village, but that half of them are in storage on wood blocks and can't be taxed.

PEDESTRIAN DIES IN HOSPITAL OF AUTO INJURIES

William Goswig, 39 years old, died in county hospital early today of injuries suffered on Aug. 26, when he was struck by a car. Vincent Ramirez, 31, of 1755 Washburne avenue, a Mexican, was said by witnesses to have been driving the car, but denied this. Goswig, a relief client, had no known address.

James Wiley, 84, of 5079 Lincoln avenue, died in Ravenswood hospital of a skull fracture suffered on Oct. 21. He was hit by a car driven by Elmer Niebuhr, 43, of 4415 North Rockwell street.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 697 persons were killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 538 were killed in Chicago, where 18,040 were injured in the same period.

PHYSICIAN'S KIT STOLEN.

A kit containing $40 worth of medical instruments was taken from his automobile parked in front of 1726 Arcade place, Dr. Arthur P. Klombaus of Aurora reported to Warren avenue police yesterday.

Two Seized After Police Fire Shots at Fleeing Car

After police had chased them and fired several shots, William Kautz, 18 years old, 1942 Orchard street, and Joseph Yee, 15, of 2058 North Clark street, were arrested early today. The two young men drove away from near 5060 Marine drive when police arrived there to investigate a car stripping complaint. They sped north, then west, and wrecked their car at Catalpa and Ravenswood avenues. Police caught them in an alley where they had fled on foot.

SAMUEL INSULL SUED FOR $25,000 OVER CAR CRASH

Samuel Insull Jr. is defendant in a personal injury suit for $25,000 filed in Superior court yesterday. It was brought by four members of a colored family, who assert they were injured on June 29 when their car and Insull's collided. They are Clifford McBride, 42 years old; his wife, Sarah; and their sons, James, 8, and Edward, 5.

The McBrides live at 1607 Emerson street, Evanston. Insull, son of the late utilities official, lives at 225 South River street, Geneva.

A story with a recognizable Boston flavor—a true one—concerns the Boston gentleman in his sixties who married a young thing of 40 and brought her home to meet his 70 year old sister.

"Well," the sister informed the bride, "you can't be buried beside Jim because it would interfere with the elm tree."

Speediest Encyclopedia Compilation.

Mention of Harry Thornton Moore and Albert Parry in the same column the other day brought to mind the encyclopedia they and a few others wrote practically over night. About two years ago a local book company conceived the idea of publishing a new encyclopedia in 20 volumes, to be sold to movie houses thruout the country. The company engaged Parry as editor in chief, and he recruited some of the Chicago literati to help him. Mr. Moore, Franklin Meine, the Mark Twain expert; Fritz Leiber Jr., the actor's son; Lewis Hermann, and Sydney Justin Harris, magazine editor, author, and book reviewer, were on the staff. Harris dashed off the entire section of Contemporary American History and Renaissance Literature during a week-end.

It was undoubtedly the speediest encyclopedia compilation on record. The books were given away at local movie houses. Many of the shows are still giving coupons for the books, and Leiber and Meine are again at work revising the encyclopedia.

Sledge Hammer Methods Most Unwise to Use

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.
[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

It is frequently the parent with a violent, uncontroled temper or the one who takes all sorts of liberties with accepted ideas of courtesy who is most exacting about the good-nature or etiquette of his son or daughter. In general it is the man and woman who expect least of themselves who expect the most of their children, and are hardest on them.

No one, said a man to me the other day, is more fanatic about temperance than the one who has given up drinking. And no one is more rigid and righteous than the reformed "rake." On the other hand, the normally poised, controled and truly virtuous are apt to be generous and tolerant of the failings of other people and especially of the faults of their children.

If we tried to analyze the first group of people we might ascribe their conduct to the fact that the man who hasn't power over himself has to satisfy his ego by exercising it over other people.

Now, whether the cause is psychological or just an honest conviction those parents who rear their children on the principle of a punishment of some sort for every fault, large or small, are overstepping the mark. It isn't human. We adults don't do penance for every mistake we make—malicious, or deliberate, or only careless. To be sure, sometimes the mistake is automatically followed by a logical punishment, as it may also be with children.

But this is not always so in either case. Quite as often we go free, though if we're sensitive and conscientious we're sorry and mean to learn by our mistakes. But we certainly don't expect either our associates or the world at large to jump on us and put us into a hair shirt.

Following this line of reasoning for ourselves may wake us up to our error with the children. No child should be punished or even called to account for every peccadillo. We're not our children's avenging gods. Our mission is to love, teach and help, not to execute vengeance.

And when you come right down to it, children rarely are deliberately wilful or disobedient. Their misfortune is that they bump the shins of adult conventions, civilization, and convenience. They simply need time to learn.

Consequently, sledge-hammer methods aren't indicated at every turn. Other gentler means are more developing to their intelligence and good will. They need to be led, not driven.

America Awaits the Raid of Ghosts

[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

Little sister will celebrate Halloween in a peasant costume made with a laced bodice, a guimpe with crisp full sleeves, and a small apron with a windmill. Two long flaxen braids are fastened to the cap to complete the costume. Big brother has a terrifying skeleton costume. The mask and cap come with the black and white spook robe.

Your Costume Is Ready for a Gay Halloween

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Mischievous spooks, desperadoes, strange birds, fee-rocious animals prowling erect on hind feet, together with the rather startling apparitions of lads and lassies from foreign lands will turn the annual Halloween celebration into a grand mixup of Mardi gras and masquerade party.

Only those with chuckling memories of far more prankish nights will be surprised at the parade this year. . . Halloween has been tamed, but not colorfully!

With leering "punkin" faces aflicker in almost every window, the background is perfect for the night of witches. Crisp weather, the right amount of excitement in the air and if the present assortment of costumes means anything this year's hobnobbing with goblins is assured. There must be at best 66 different costumes in readiness, with the prices ranging from less than $1 up to $3.

Crinoline, percale, and a lot of new cellophane wonders make everything colorful and snappy. Little hellions of either sex will grab the bloodcurdling skeleton outfits, complete to skull mask. Less bloodthirsty toddlers will vote for Cock Robin, or cat or dog suits. It's almost a certainty that small individuals will wriggle into the shapes of Ferdinand, complete to horns and big brown eyes, with a posy or two tastefully draped over the brows.

Pirate costumes are splendid finds, but parents are warned to park the butcher knives out of sight during the night prowl. Indians, cowboys, sultry toreadors, small red imps, Chinese mandarins brave with fire steaming dragons, every one of the famous seven dwarfs, Charlie McCarthy outfits with gleaming topper, tramps with one black eye, are just a few of the more frightening finds for the small boy intent upon making a good stir next week.

Little sister, unless she is Tom Boy Taylor, will have just as much fun with colonial costumes, dancing dolls, Minnie Mouse, Spanish dancers, Italian peasant costumes or the giddy Hawaiian skirts made of cellophane. Masks by the hundreds will satisfy the most exacting small shopper.

STEVENS DRESS SALON

Chicago Opens Opera Season Saturday Night

BY JUDITH CASS.

FOR months—in fact, ever since last year's opera season ended—the opening of opera for the next season has been thought and spoken of by many. Always, however, it has seemed to be far away, a distant date, but here it is almost upon us. This Saturday is that romantic, fascinating sounding occasion, "the first night of opera."

For the next seven weeks the great Civic Opera house will be alive again, a place of much activity, back stage and in front. Those interested in the success of opera in Chicago are hoping it will be the biggest season ever.

The new woman's board of the Chicago Civic Opera company has been assisting in the sale of boxes with results that probably do not thrill the 46 women nor the management. But the results must be satisfactory, considering the few weeks the women have been working. Every one of the women has taken a box or block of seats herself and will continue to try to secure subscriptions for this season.

Only three boxes for the opening night remain unsold and the subscription list for Monday night shows that all but 16 of the 36 boxes will be occupied regularly. Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday nights and the Saturday matinée lists are very short, however, altho the subscriptions for main floor seats on Wednesday nights and Saturday afternoons are long and filled with well known names.

Opera Guild to Hold Final Party Sunday.

The Opera Guild of 400 women, headed by Mrs. James G. McMillan, has practically filled every Thursday night box by raising enough money to buy tickets for music students to attend on those nights.

A finale to the many parties that have been given by the guild will be a buffet supper and musical on Sunday night that Mr. and Mrs. McMillan will give at their home in Winnetka. Edna Kellogg will give a dramatization of "Louise" with musical accompaniment, and Rose Bampton, Eleanor La Mance, Helen Jepson, Ezio Pinza, and Catherine Littlefield will be the especial guests.

The first appearance of Miss Jepson this season will be next Wednesday night in "La Traviata." Miss Bampton sings in "Andrea Chenier" Monday night and in "Aïda" Thursday night. Miss La Mance, the widow of Paul Longone, and Mr. Pinza are to sing in "Boris Godunoff" the first night. Miss Littlefield is the director of the opera ballet.

Among those who will have box parties Saturday night are Jason F. Whitney, president of the company, and Mrs. Whitney; Robert H. McCormick, executive vice president; Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, Mrs. Jacob Baur, Mrs. Louis E. Yager, Mrs. Addison L. Gardner Jr., Mrs. Ernest R. Graham, Mrs. Wayne Wills, the Henry H. Windsors, the Franklin Millers, the junior Richard Coopers, the Charles S. Davises, and the Millard Kennedys, who will share a box with the McMillans.

Other boxholders for this Saturday night are the Julius Hoffmans, Leo Lannigan and Judge E. J. McGarry, the John D. Allens, Nathan Goldblatt, Harry B. Hurd, Mrs. Hadar Ortman, the John F. Cuneos, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Mathias, the Barnett Farolls, the Robert Tarrants, the James Shakmans, Randolph Bohrer, Maurice S. Weinzelbaum, the Vincent Reillys, the Leonard Ettelsons, John P. Landreth, Fred Farell, John H. Platt, Mrs. Edward Whiting, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Banovitz, and Harry I. Hoffman.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

For a lovely lady, in frilly clothes: An exquisite new perfume, demure but provocative, that is perfect complement to new-old fashions.

There's a marvelous new perfume to complement the fluffy fashions. But it isn't just a fluffy perfume. It's excitingly substantial from several points of view.

It is not and won't be one of those flash-in-the-pan sensations. It has enduring charm, because its frothy spiciness in just an overtone to one of the most beautiful, rounded perfume notes we've whiffed in years.

Every one is entranced with it at first acquaintance, and it's better and better liked as you wear it and live with it. Men approve of it and women look positively smug when they wear it. As well they might. It's one of those rare perfumes that lifts your spirits and your sense of self-esteem.

And it's a wearable perfume for almost all types of women except possibly duds—and we hope there are no duds extant these days! In one sense it's quite demure, like the old fashioned clothes that are modern marvels of current style. Just like the clothes, the perfume has a provocative quality. Not enough to slug the interested bystanders, but just enough to get over a subtle suggestion of the infallible come-hither effect.

The bottle is a frilly dream in that frosty crystal that we once heard described as being like "frozen" tears, with a crystal cap that literally ties in a bow. There is only one size bottle, but some shops sell the precious stuff by the dram, which is a break for us yearning women who love beautiful scents.

If you don't like this perfume we'll be surprised. It's very much to our taste — dainty, sophisticated, and lovely. ELEANOR NANGLE.

Miss Paisley Will Become Bride Tonight

Miss Frances Marguerite Paisley will become the bride of James Callender Snow Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Snow of Chicago, at 8:30 o'clock this evening. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Leland H. Danforth in the Church of the Holy Comforter in Kenilworth and will be followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Paisley of Ravinia.

Miss Paisley will wear a white wool dress and a cap of Irish crochet lace which belonged to her great-grandmother. Her attendants will be dressed alike in grass green wool crêpe. Miss Margaret Knight will be her cousin's maid of honor and the bridesmaids will be Miss Mary Ava Snow, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Jane Whitacre, and Miss Helen Putt. Nancy Park and James Knight will be flower girl and ring bearer.

Tom Robinson of Milwaukee will be best man. Ushering will be Howard Nash, Emerson Welles, Stanley Knight, J. D. Van Denabeele, and Gilbert Keith.

After a ten day motor trip Mr. Snow and his bride will be at home on the near north side.

Miss Lynn to Become Bride

Mrs. J. Fred Lynn, formerly of Glencoe, announced the engagement of her daughter, Gertrude Louise, to J. Miller Brown at a luncheon at Cedar Crest farm, Lake Villa. Miss Lynn is a graduate of Grinnell college. Mr. Brown received his degree from the school of mines of the University of Minnesota. For three years he has been connected with a copper mining company in Chile. He is expected home the middle of November. The wedding will take place Dec. 2.

The couple will spend the holidays with Mr. Brown's parents in South Pasadena, Cal., and will sail for Chile the middle of January from New York. They plan to make their home in Chile for three years.

Flat Abdomen Is Essential to Loveliness

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

A flat abdomen is simply imperative to silhouette beauty. It doesn't matter what the corset trend, or other fashion trend, may be at the moment. That flat abdomen is ever and always the feature that marks the line between silhouette youth and age.

You know the old story about Age waking up one day to find a number of things had happened to her she hadn't noticed before. The curved shoulder line and the protruding abdomen were the two blows she felt most keenly. She figured she could have the wrinkles taken out by massage. But no one could straighten her up and back but herself, and she'd so long forgotten how to do things for herself, she never thought of the two silhouette liabilities as within her own personal means of dispensing. So, she let herself drown in the pool of age without lifting a hand to help herself. This was a famous beauty who'd been toasted all her life for her indestructible charms and on their indestructibility she put too much faith.

Now, if we could get young women in their 'teens to realize that starting at that age never letting the abdomen protrude from sheer muscle laziness, they'd never grow old. But you can't make the young see that far ahead. However, mothers do pummel away at the daughter's back with the command to straighten up. They might become just as insistent in their urging that the girl keep her abdomen flat.

We think that any number of girls go walking about with their abdomens bulging, completely unconscious of the bad silhouette line created. They do not see themselves as others see them. Indeed, they may even criticize another girl for the very offense they are committing themselves.

If you're not in the young girl class any more, more than ever the need to police that abdomen line and order it flat.

If you feel the need of abdomen muscle toning, which one does whose abdomen is not well flattened, there is that simple one of lying on the floor on your back and coming up to sitting position and thrusting hands forward to touch the toes.

ENGAGEMENT

The engagement of Miss Bette Clavey to C. Donald Hinderleider, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark D. Hinderleider of Clayton, Mo., is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer L. Clavey of Deerfield road, Deerfield. Miss Clavey attended the Marywood school in Evanston and Stephens college in Columbia, Mo. Mr. Hinderleider attended the Washington university at St. Louis.

Mrs. Antoinette Debish of 5109 Carmen avenue announces the engagement of her daughter, Theresa, to Edwin Whalen Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Whalen of Streator, Ill. The wedding will take place early in January.

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

Column on Wm. Powell.

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 25.—It was just about two years ago that William Powell, on a loan-out deal from M.-G.-M. to 20th Century-Zanuck, made "The Baroness and the Butler" . . . Then followed two years of retirement from the screen because of a series of operations designed to unkink a kinked-up intestinal apparatus and just recently Powell returned to the screen to make "Another Thin Man" with Myrna Loy.

Yesterday I spent several hours with him at his new home on Tower road, and I asked him what thoughts had plagued him or intrigued him in his exile of 730 days and nights.

"A person does plenty of thinking in two years away from his work," observed Powell. "Certainly I did. I thought a lot about Hollywood and the people who work and live here. I speculated on the hidden and visible factors that make one player a star, while other players, apparently of equal talent, ambition, application, and ability, just manage to miss stardom. I wondered about Lady Luck's part in success—certainly Shirley Temple wasn't consciously striving for stardom when she was a tot and yet she won stardom.

"I thought of cities I'd visited, of faces half remembered that were once so important. I read books, occasionally I attended prize fights, and more often than not I wondered if the doctors would be successful in achieving the results they promised me."

I asked him what conclusions he had arrived at, after a two-year period of pondering: "Well," he said, "I've come to one conclusion about this town. A lot of youngsters needlessly are sacrificed. When you read that a husky youngster like Don Ameche has to take a rest cure because of overwork, and you know of other cases not so widely publicized, you sort of make up your mind that the effort is hardly worth the risk.

"Jean [Harlow] died only because she had worked herself to a point of nervous exhaustion. You see, we get caught up in the swim of doing things, and we don't know where to call a halt. It's not the money involved that makes you keep going—after all, you can ride only in one car, eat only one meal at a time, live only in one house at a time, so it's not that."

I asked him then why it was that people in Hollywood, making plenty of money in pictures, exhausted themselves on radio programs and vice versa: "I think it is because we are all sitting in at the biggest poker game actors ever have known," he said. "This is a game, figuratively, of the highest stakes that we've ever played for. You hate to get up from that game for fear you may miss a hand, or for fear your absence may cost you an ace.

"Observe the grim, strained expressions of Hollywood people attending a night club or a theater opening—there is very little genuine gayety out here. There never will be gayety while the stakes are so high. One hand may result in stardom and fantastic salaries. This town is playing for millions of dollars; it's not penny-ante stuff. Inevitably it leaves its imprint.

"Fortuitous circumstances elect a star," he said. "Whether or not we are worth the money that is paid to us is problematical. Probably, under a socialized form of government, we would be paid very little while the technicians would be paid infinitely more. As it eventuates, however, while we are paid large sums of money, we return most of it in taxes.

"So the thing adjusts itself thru taxation. The movie star is most fortunate, I think, in that he is supplied with a world audience. Stage stars play to a limited audience and do not get much money; we play to a wide audience and get tremendous sums of money. I suppose that this is equalized. The stage star, with equal talent but getting less money, pays a lower tax, so I guess it all works out equitably."

On the subject of what makes one person successful, while another person is unsuccessful, Powell's two year period of cogitation supplied no definite answer that satisfied his logical mind.

"There is an algebraic mystery to success, a quality that may well be regarded as 'x' for want of clearer identification. Just what this 'x' quality is, I don't know.

"Perhaps the star has greater application than the one who just misses stardom. Perhaps he has more luck. Perhaps his judgment is better. I don't know what the 'x' quality is, but it's there. I do know that any successful person, if he is on the level with himself, when he regards himself in the mirror, must detect a question mark in the looking glass."

In two years of operations, which came immediately after the shock of Jean Harlow's death, Powell found himself becoming increasingly sensitive. . . . "In that period the thing that buoyed me up most was the very friendly letters from movie fans. The lady from Dubuque who wrote that she had prayed for me became a very dear friend. Those letter writers never will know how much they contributed to my recovery."

On the way out we walked from the patio thru the living room . . . preceding us was a dachshund; it had belonged to Jean Harlow . . . on the piano, in a silvered frame, a photograph of Jean Harlow.

New Exhibition of Arts Project Strikes Bottom

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The exhibitions at the Federal Art gallery, 211 North Michigan avenue, have gone from bad to worse. The gallery is the WPA official show case in Chicago. It started under the name "Federal" Art gallery but is now called the "Illinois" Art gallery, which is a great pity, for Illinois art, as we like to think we know it, has nothing in common with "Federal" or "WPA" art.

The first exhibit there was last June when a dozen or so wildly colored canvases were put on view. Some were macabre, some dismal, some neurotic, some completely mad, but all were WPA. This outburst was followed in the early fall by a showing of melancholy black and whites, lithographs and such. The lack of color softened the dismal effect they produced, but it was not an amusing show.

The third WPA art exhibit is hanging in the gallery now. It is the worst of the series and if Illinois is now footing one-half the bill for federal art it is time persons interested in Illinois art took a hand. It is time that the people whose money is helping to pay for the continuance of the art project had something to say about the kind of return that money is yielding.

To my mind every cent that goes to the encouragement of the sort of demoniacal stuff which now decorates the gallery walls is a cent thrown away—worse, a cent spent in continuing the production of ugly nonsense, a cent worse than wasted.

Silence may give consent to the project and the product of the project, so the time has come to protest, and loudly. This is not Illinois art; this is not art. It is the lazy, self-satisfied, imitative conceptions of persons who should be doing anything else but wield a paint brush.

Not one of the names on the list of exhibitors [all of which, by the way, are printed in small print with no given names], corazzo, krebs, feder, hohinberg, garrity, koppe, and kozman, is a name with a background. Who beside the WPA project gives them their status as artist? Who permits such work as theirs to pass as "art"?

The Illinois Art gallery is the concern of Illinois. How long do we have to endure its being possessed by the authorities which now control and smile upon such monstrosities as "Madame Bovet," "Reclining Nude" and the abstractions? These last resemble the horrors of a Halloween night out of season.

Come on, Illinois, and fight! This is not our art.

Two Winners in Contest Get Joint Recital

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Pearl Camille Anderson, soprano, and Leon Brenner, violinist, two of the winners of last season's contests of the Society of American Musicians, were presented in joint recital last night in Kimball hall.

Miss Anderson offered German, French, and English songs. Her sincerity and natural musicianship were partially offset by a voice which, tho fair in quality, is still a little wavery and churchy in production.

Mr. Brenner played large scale works of Leclair and Conus and a group of miscellaneous short pieces. His tone was superb—shining and serene or pungent, and packed with feeling, as the music dictated. Phrasing showed the same versatility and the same sound dependence on the character of the music. Sometimes it was heavy with moaning, at others playful and piquant. Mr. Brenner, to sum up, is a musician of extraordinary talent.

LITHUANIAN SOPRANO

BY CECIL SMITH.

Barbara Darlys, soprano of the Lithuanian State opera, sang a solo recital in the Woman's Club theater last night, with the dependable assistance of Ruth Heizer at the piano. In a group of Lithuanian songs she displayed a good deal of vocal warmth, and some eagerness to communicate the meaning of the music to her audience.

In works by French and Italian composers, on the other hand, a persistent quality of tentativeness coupled with overslow tempi made her singing less interesting. This was partly due, no doubt, to a voice which is effective only on top, since the medium range is pale and rather wobbly. She has not the technical means with which to deliver difficult music with any air of finality.

A friendly audience of moderate size applauded cordially.

"With North-South using the Blackwood slam convention, the bidding proceeded as follows:

| North | East | South | West |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 heart | Pass | 1 spade | Pass |
| 3 spades | Pass | 4 spades | Pass |
| 4 no trump | Pass | 5 clubs | Pass |
| 5 spades | Pass | Pass | Pass |

"West opened the club king, then shifted to a diamond, so we were down before we got our breaths.

"I held the North hand and I believe my strong bidding was justified. I contend that South should have bid one no trump on the first round or should have bid three no trump on the second round. I then would have been satisfied with a game, either in hearts or in spades. South would have bid the same on the first two rounds with the following holding and, if he had held these cards, a small slam would have been almost a certainty:

♠ K J 9 3 2 ♥ 8 7 ♦ A 6 5 ♣ 4 3 2

"My partner says that you recommend weak one-over-one take-outs, such as he made on this hand. I don't believe it. N. F., Chicago."

Believe it or not, I do heartily recommend weak one-over-one take-outs rather than unwieldy one no trump take-outs. Hence it goes without saying that I approve South's one spade response to one heart. My own experience, and that of every expert of my acquaintance, has proved to my complete satisfaction that the bidding develops better and is easier and safer to handle when the first response can be in a suit at the one level, rather than at no trump. As long as partners do not insist on attaching arbitrary valuations to a suit response, as long as they realize that such response may be very weak and make allowances, there is no trouble. Any difficulties that arise usually spring from wish-fulfillment on the part of the opening bidder. Having opened with a hand as good as North's, and having received a "favorable" response, his yearning for a slam is so great that it blinds him to all other factors.

I do not agree for a moment that South's bidding would have been the same if he had held the hypothetical hand given. Of course, he would have first responded with one spade, but then, when partner jumped to three spades, he would not merely bid four; he would take the occasion to make an obvious ace-showing bid by bidding four diamonds, thus mildly suggesting a slam.

The fault in this hand was entirely North's for raising on the second round to three spades instead of making the proper raise to four spades. North should have realized that he could not afford to bid first three, then five. He should have done his slam investigating without passing the game level! Had he made this very strong bid [from one to four spades] South would not have been "barred." If South held substantially more [such as an ace] than he needed for his first one-over-one response, he would indicate that fact.

An important day for those with 4s or 8s in their birth date or name. Keep strictly to practical matters.

This is a year for growth for those with this birth date. If you haven't put in some long hours of work which have established you this year, you'd better hurry, for you will need to rest on the stability built this year in the highly volatile 1940 that looms ahead for you.

Tells How High Taxes Threaten Free Teachers

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Dr. Donald J. Cowling, president of Carleton college, yesterday asked the Church League of America to initiate a movement for tax revision which would allow larger voluntary support for religious, charitable, and educational institutions.

At a special Church league meeting in the Union League club, the Minnesota educator said that the last American ideals face strangulation unless, over a long period, taxes are cut in half so that private institutions of health, charity, and education may carry half the total load while tax supported institutions carry the other half.

Dr. Cowling stated that the American principle of checks and balances would be advanced by such a division, with either type of agency acting as friendly critic of the other. He declared that national giving on a voluntary basis must be encouraged to a point which will approximate national taxing for social institutions. Capital structures of private and tax supported institutions, Dr. Cowling explained, are approximately equal.

"I would not trust complete private control of institutions of education any more than I would trust complete state control," Dr. Cowling declared. "There was a time in the middle ages, when education was completely removed from state influence, the world saw burnings at the stake for ideas which did not harmonize with those of the private authorities. On the other hand, no political dictator could exist unless he had seized complete control of education.

"In America we have the system of divided support and control, with 49½ per cent of the college students in privately controled institutions and 50½ per cent in tax supported colleges and universities."

Citing tax studies in Minnesota, Dr. Cowling declared that in the last two years local taxes had increased 2 per cent, state taxes had increased 30 per cent, and federal taxes 67 per cent. He added that the present Republican administration in Minnesota had begun paring state taxes.

"If this increase in federal taxes keeps up we shall soon be a changed America, a different kind of America than we have ever known," said Dr. Cowling. "We must begin to work toward a national policy of cuttin gtaxes in half and trebling gifts."

Long Betrothal Detrimental to Any Romance

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"For five and one-half years I have been going around steadily with the same young man. We were engaged to be married in July of this year, but he asked a postponement. I cannot make him out.

"Together we have enough money saved to start housekeeping in a nice way, but he does not seem to want to marry. He picks on the smallest things to quarrel about, and I notice the quarrels are always timed so that he will have more time to enjoy single life. The last time he quarreled with me was over my smoking a cigaret. I did it on a dare when out with some girl friends. I did make the mistake of lying about it first to my fiancé, but he found me out and I finally had to admit it. Then he pretended not to believe it was done on a dare. He says I broke my promise to him never to smoke.

"Now he says he wants to break off the marriage entirely and to be let go his own way. Honestly, after five years and a half of his company and planning together, it is heart-breaking to have to abandon all my plans. But if he doesn't want me, I am not the kind of girl to make him take me on any terms. But do you think there is a chance for me?

"WORRIED."

The trouble with your romance, Worried, is that you have let it run along too long as a courtship. Yours is the type of story that invariably comes out of the prolonged courtship. It isn't that your natures are quarrelsome. It isn't that the man wants to escape matrimony any more than many men approach it with reluctant feet. It's just that you both have become so used to each other that all the little elements of surprise and interest have fled.

Had you married, say, after two years, you would have your home now to engross you; you'd be entertaining people and bringing in new interests that way; probably you'd have your family started and that provides a great, new interest, as you know. The cigaret incident is just an incident and not to be taken seriously.

Your problem now is to get married, since you obviously want the man, and you'll have to do the clever engineering to get the man in the mood and "on the spot," shall we say.

THE STAGE

"Springtime for Henry," a comedy by Benn W. Levy, with Edward Everett Horton of the movies in the starring rôle, will follow "The White Steed" into the Erlanger theater Sunday evening, Nov. 12.

Women Launch Campaign for Charities Fund

The women's committee of the Community fund—originally a committee of one hundred, met yesterday and found that it had grown to a committee of 120. This was considered a good omen and the women hope to increase their campaign total by a like amount.

Mrs. Clark J. Lawrence is chairman of the committee which has a quota of $165,000. Not all members of the committee were able to attend the luncheon at the Casino yesterday which launched the women's campaign but all will work earnestly for success in the $3,611,000 campaign for the city.

Mrs. Lawrence presided at the luncheon and introduced the three speakers: A. H. Mellinger, chairman of the 1939 campaign; Edward L. Ryerson Jr., of the executive committee, and Mark A. Brown, industrial chairman. Mrs. Lawrence also presented to the women Mitchell McKeown, assistant to the chairman, and Robert A. Gardner, co-chairman of the sponsors' division.

Others at the speakers' table were Mrs. Harold E. Foreman, vice chairman; Mrs. Robert F. Bensinger, Mrs. Ryerson, Mrs. George A. Ranney, Mrs. Walter R. Kirk, Mrs. Frank P. Hixon, Mrs. Augustus A. Carpenter, Mrs. Rollin T. Chamberlin, Mrs. James B. Forgan Jr., Mrs. Frank J. Lewis, Mrs. Dallas B. Phemister, Miss Katherine Trees, and Mrs. Leslie C. Wiswell."

• Weddings Announced •

Miss Winifred Garrell of Durham, N. C., became the bride of John K. Russell IV. on Oct. 21. The wedding took place at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John K. Russell III. of Oak Park.

From Pensacola, Fla., comes news of the marriage on Oct. 15 of Miss Marlyn Ruth Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coma C. Shaw, to Ensign Arthur Frederick Farwell Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Farwell of Chicago. Mr. Farwell is a graduate of the Northwestern Military and Naval academy at Lake Geneva, and of Purdue university. He and his bride will sail this week from San Francisco for Hawaii, where he will serve in the naval air corps.

The marriage of Miss Mary Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Warner of Herculaneum, Mo., to Martin W. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don L. Davis of Beverly Hills, took place on Sept. 6. Both Mr. Davis and his bride are graduates of Northwestern university. After Jan. 1 they will be at home in St. Louis, where Mr. Davis will intern in a hospital.

They Hunted a Fox

By Alice Campbell

[Copyright: 1939: By Alice Ormond Campbell.]

SYNOPSIS.

Alison Young and her fiancé, Dr. Colin Ladbroke, are guests at Chenerys, the English country estate of Tom Boldre, to attend a fox hunt and ball. Wynn Marchmont, sister of Tom's wife, Pat, is engaged to Tom's brother, Derek. Alison overhears a love scene between Pat and Arthur Kingsclere. Chenerys is mortgaged to the hilt. Gregg, Tom's agent, urges him to accept an offer made for the estate, but Tom refuses to sell. At the hunt, from a far off hill, Alison and Colin see Tom thrown and a man bending over him. Reaching the accident, they find Derek stooping over Tom's prostrate form. A farmer, Glover, happens along and helps them. Tom, revived, is surprised that Derek, rather than his neighbor, Maj. Fitts, found him. Three weeks later Tom is again thrown and dies soon after. Alison visits Wynn at Chenerys. Riding near the scene of Tom's first accident they find the dead body of Glover. Official verdict is that Glover was killed by a shot from a passing car. Kingsclere, Derek, and Maj. Fitts all drove that way. Inspector Headcorn from Scotland Yard finds the murder weapon. It belongs to Maj. Fitts, but was stolen the afternoon of the day Glover was shot—after Kingsclere and Derek had called. Dr. Blount, who'd attended Tom, admits he gave Tom an anti-tetanus injection—which caused his death, as he had not been desensitized after a previous injection. The first injection must have been given Tom after his first fall when he was unconscious—whoever gave it must have murdered Glover because he was a witness. Derek admits having anti-tetanus serum which was taken from his room. Derek goes out for a walk in the night—that same night Mrs. Glover is beaten up by some one evidently looking to destroy evidence. The inspector finds Wynn battling with Mrs. Glover over a syringe which Glover had apparently found. Derek is arrested. Wynn and Alison figure some one else may have reached Tom after his first accident before Derek.

INSTALMENT XL.

BLIND FAITH.

By the lodge gates the Rolls-Bentley had drawn up. Arthur got out and spoke to Wynn diffidently. Not about Derek. O, no, only on the subject of Pat's wanting him to fetch her fur coat to London so she could have it stored.

Standing aside, Alison reached a quick decision. She did not like Arthur Kingsclere. Why? It was true from the first he had accorded her the precise degree of attention one gives a chair placed in the wrong room, yet she hoped she was above personal bias. She did not for a moment believe him a murderer, nor did she strongly condemn him for having wanted another man's wife. And after a rather cold pattern his breeding was perfect. She gave it up.

"Bessie will give you the coat." Wynn's tone matched her companion's. "So you're driving to town, are you?" She gazed in front at the budding chestnut trees.

"Today. Any message to Pat?"

"No, I think not."

Still Wynn did not look at him. Letting him drive past she went straight to the garage, got out the car, and set forth stoically on her house-to-house canvass.

The pity of it. Alison would have given all she possessed except Colin to have been able to share so blind a faith.

Late afternoon, and Wynn had not come back. All day Alison had been grappling painfully with the problem, hoping against hope that somewhere her own belief might break down. Always the same unanswerable question confronted her: "If Headcorn's gone over the ground, and we can be sure he has done that thoroughly, what's left to be discovered?" If she were to be of the smallest help she must thrust that aside. Tabulate things.

"Murder isn't done without reason. Now Arthur is out of it, who but Derek had even the dimmest excuse? It would have to be [1] Some one who in some way benefited by Tom Boldre's death. [2] Some one who could quite easily have stolen Derek's hypo outfit. [3] Some one well acquainted with anaphylactic reactions. [That's a tough one. Is there so much scientific knowledge spilling about this place?] [4] Some one on the spot—close at hand. Almost certainly present on that hunt."

It was the sum total of the requirements which only Derek seemed to fill. . . .

Waiting for Wynn she was roaming restlessly through the maze of rhododendrons opposite the house. A step behind her made her look around. Gregg approached, with his well-bred manner and doleful smile, halted two feet away and having knocked out his pipe stowed it negligently in a side pocket. He did not speak at once, yet she knew he had something definite to say. His delay made her slightly nervous.

"Wynn's deserted you." He swayed on his heels. "Any notion what it's all about?"

Like Arthur he made no direct reference to the arrest.

"No," she answered, and tried to make it carry conviction.

Gregg looked at his wrist watch. "Nearly 8 o'clock." He turned a listening head.

"Well?" she said sharply. "You can't surely be worrying that she's not home?"

"O, Lord, no!" Still he gazed towards the hidden drive. His smile had gone, but the creases of it remained deep-graven in his gaunt, ill-nourished jaws.

"You are worried. Why?"

His eyes returned unwillingly. "Well—I wouldn't say worried. Wynn, though . . . I understand she did rather muck things up. With the best intentions, of course. I rather wanted to know how she struck you. Disappearing like this—"

"There she is now!" cried Alison, and fled.

For a panicked moment she wondered if the car she had heard was really Wynn's. Those soured eyes which in an unguarded instant had seemed to exult had conveyed so sickening an idea. . . .

Relief swept over her. She met Wynn at the garage door. Quickly she telegraphed her question.

"Blanks." Wynn was haggard, hard-faced. "Not a soul saw Tom or Derek after the first two miles. I might have known it was hopeless. I'm being advised to keep out of it altogether. Not draw notice to myself." Her lip curled bitterly.

She banged the stable-yard gates and started at the dirty two-seater which had just driven into the drive. Dr. Blount lumbered out, came toward them with a hangdog air.

"No," he said, "I won't come in. I just thought of something, that's all."

Wynn's eyes pinned him. "Remembered something you mean?"

"Well, yes. Came to me when I was turning over that matter you brought up. There was another fellow riding alongside of Crump and me, from the Glover field right to Hogarth's Dip. And before, I daresay. The second Fitts mentioned it——"

"When?" It was the crack of a whip.

The doctor said, "O, this morning, soon after you'd gone. He dropped in, we got gassing, and . . . odd how memory works. Just a chance word, and something sticks up out of the fog. O, it's nothing to make a song about, is it? I just like correcting misstatements, on principle." This last with pathetic defiance, as he jerked a nod and clambered back into his seat.

Wynn gazed after the dirty car till it had vanished. She bent and carefully picked a nettle from her skirt.

"Queer," she said. "Or is it? You see, Ted's another one who's had a sudden revival of memory. I've just seen him. He told me the same thing."

"About the major? Has he really remembered, or——"

"Says so. You know, Ted's terribly obliging. Anyhow Fred called in at the Horrockses before lunch, and before that, if it's of any interest, he had a chat with the vicar."

Their eyes held consultation. Wynn beat back her limp curls.

"Nothing in it, of course," she snapped. "Can't be—naturally. Unless . . . could I have put the wind up Fred this morning, do you think? Reminding him that Tom believed he was behind."

Alison said nothing. Wynn mused dispassionately, "All this bustling about and jogging people's memories! It's what Fred's been doing, that's certain. I always knew if you peeled off his bombast you'd find only a scared rabbit, but what's he frightened of? That's what I'd like to know. Ted didn't remember when we spoke to him in the lane. The doctor hadn't a glimmer of recollection, and neither had Mr. Crump. Yes, I'd better hand this on to the inspector. I'll telephone him now."

"O, Wynn, I—I wouldn't!"

"Why not?" Wynn lowered her tone. "Then listen: Have you ever considered that business about Fred's revolver? Suppose—I say suppose—you wanted to shoot a man and throw dust in every one's eyes as to who did it?"

Chicago Opens Opera Season Saturday Night

winter. Since they gave up their house in Cedar street they have lived the year round in Lake Bluff, staying with her father, Edward T. Blair, when they were in town for a night.

Now the second floor of the Lake Shore drive house of the late Mr. Blair has been converted into a charming, gay apartment by the talented Mrs. Linn. Her brother, Seymour Blair, has his quarters on the third floor, and the first floor is closed.

Mr. and Mrs. Linn moved into town yesterday, and as soon as they are settled [early in November] she will leave for a month in the hunting country of Virginia. She will spend part of the time at the North Wales club and the rest between the houses in Middleburg of her friends, Mrs. Merrill Hubbard and Mrs. Amory Perkins.

Because of her trip south Mrs. Linn will not take part in the first of the International theater productions. She is president of the woman's committee of the theater.

Those who have been brushing up on their French in anticipation of the first production next Monday will have an extra two weeks in which to master the imperfect subjunctive. Georges Cauuet, the director, originally planned to open the season with a Petit Lundi. Now, however, the opening has been postponed to Nov. 11, when a play from the regular series, "Le Verre d'Eau," a five act comedy by Eugene Scribe, will be presented. It will be repeated on the 13th.

The Petit Lundi originally scheduled, a presentation of Georges Feydeau's "Feu la Mere de Madame," will be given on Nov. 27. The cast will include Mrs. Philip B. Maher and Mrs. Ambrose C. Cramer.

Alliance Francaise to Hear Henri David.

Henri David will be the speaker at the Alliance Française causerie at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the alliance headquarters. "Souvenirs of the French in Northwest Africa" will be his subject. Mrs. Walter B. Bracken and Mrs. Allen C. Howes will be hostesses at tea following.

Mrs. Ralph James is holding a meeting of the chairmen of various alliance committees at 11:30 o'clock this morning at her home, 220 East Walton place.

Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman's telephone in her apartment in the Ambassador East hotel will be ringing all day today, undoubtedly, bringing to her good wishes and congratulations on her birthday. She is not having a party to celebrate the occasion.

Drama League Party for Whitford Kane.

The Chicago Drama league will give a luncheon for Whitford Kane today at the Piccadilly restaurant in the Fine Arts building. The luncheon will follow the league's first playreading of the season. Miss Juliet Barker will review "No Time for Comedy" in Curtiss hall, also in the Fine Arts building.

"No Time for Comedy" is Katharine Cornell's play that will open at the Harris on Nov. 6. The woman's auxiliary of the Grant hospital has taken over the second night for a benefit. Mrs. Albert F. Madlener Jr. is ticket chairman and is at the hospital every morning taking orders for tickets.

Miss Marie Louise Hulburd is chairman of a group of young girls who will sell programs at the benefit.

Kenilworth Infant Welfare Will Sponsor Bustle Ball

A bustle ball is the name the Kenilworth center of the Infant Welfare society has given to a supper dance it will sponsor Nov. 25 at the Drake hotel. Mrs. George Emery is chairman of the benefit. Mrs. L. Willis Strong is the co-chairman. "The Lady of the Bustle" is to be a surprise feature. Among those serving on various committees are Mrs. Peter D. Ridenour II., Mrs. Benjamin F. Troxell Jr., Mrs. William Reed, Mrs. Paul Schulze, Mrs. Phillip Atwood, Mrs. William Whittier Jr., and Mrs. Leonard Wilson.

Infant Welfare Rummage Sale

Mrs. Lincoln S. Harris, a member of the Junior North Side center of the Infant Welfare society, will be a salesgirl at a rummage sale next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at 210 West Monroe street. The Kenwood branch is co-sponsor with the North Side in holding the sale.

Style Show Dress

A dress that was modeled in last year's St. Luke's fashion show and several gowns that were worn to the Bachelors and Benedicts' party last Thanksgiving are included in the stock of the rummage sale.

Since the Chicago Junior league is not holding its usual fall rummage sale the Infant Welfare is getting many of the clothes and other items that ordinarily would go to the league. Miss Eleanor McNally is chairman of the event. Children's clothes, shoes, hats and dresses are included in new merchandise that has been donated to the two centers.

Anshe Emet Forum Will Hear Nephew of Hitler

The Anshe Emet forum, at Pine Grove avenue and Grace street, is devoting most of its lecture series to an expression of views on the international situation. Among the speakers scheduled, William Patrick Hitler, English educated nephew of the Nazi dictator. William Hitler fled from Germany. He will talk Nov. 21 on "What the German People Are Thinking." Other speakers include Maury Maverick, former congressman; Pierre Van Paassen, author; Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, Prof. Frederick L. Schuman, and Attorney Arthur Garfield Hays.

Western Specialty Clubs Open Dog Show Nov. 25

More than 2,000 dogs from all parts of the country and Canada will compete for championship and other awards at the dog show to be sponsored by the Western Specialty Clubs' association on Nov. 25 and 26 at the Coliseum. The Central States Dachshund club of Chicago is taking an active part in plans for the show.

Humble Mush Is Nutritious and Economical

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Why should anybody look down his nose at cornmeal mush? To be sure, we don't see mush very often nowadays, not as often as we should see it. Once upon a time, in our grandparents' day, mush was a more popular item of diet. That was because it was filling food for hard working families, because it was inexpensive, and because there wasn't much variety in breakfast foods in those days.

Cornmeal mush may be served as mush one morning, and it may be sliced to serve with butter and maple sirup for breakfast or lunch next day. Or the solidified mush may be cut into cubes and baked with tomatoes and onions as a casserole dish for a later meal. It's delicious with bits of crisp bacon in it, for the morning meal.

Not the least of cornmeal mush's virtues is its economy. Most of us are budget conscious to some extent, and this is one way to pay very little for a large amount of nutritious food.

Cornmeal Mush.

½ cup cornmeal
1½ cups water
1 teaspoon salt

Moisten meal with a little water. Heat remaining water to boiling, add salt, and stir in cornmeal. Cook in a double boiler for an hour or longer, stirring occasionally. Serve hot with milk, butter, or sirup, or cool, slice, and fry. Fried mush is good with sirup.

For a luncheon dish, add ½ cup ground cooked meat to 2 cups mush, or add ½ cup grated cheese, ½ cup tomato sauce, and 1 chopped green pepper and bake until hot.

SCALLOPED CORNMEAL MUSH.

Pour hot cornmeal mush into a cold wet mold and cool. Cut into inch cubes. Grease a baking dish and put into it a layer of cubes. Cover with a layer of grated cheese, add another layer of mush and another of cheese. Pour a medium white sauce over the combination, top with fine bread crumbs, and brown in a moderate oven.

Scrapple.

1 pound lean pork
1 quart water
1 cup cornmeal
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon sage

Cook the pork at simmering temperature in the water until tender. Remove meat and cool the broth. Skim off fat and heat broth to boiling point. If there isn't quite a quart of broth, add hot water to make it up. Stir in the cornmeal and cook, stirring frequently, for two hours. Add chopped, seasoned meat and fat. Cook for 20 minutes longer. Pour into a cold, wet loaf pan, and leave until firm. Slice and fry in a small amount of hot fat. More spices may be added to the scrapple, if desired.

Cheese Spoon Bread.

[12 servings.]

3 cups scalded milk
1 cup cornmeal
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon dry mustard
⅛ teaspoon cayenne
1 cup grated American cheese
6 eggs, well beaten

Add cornmeal, salt, mustard, and pepper, mixed together, to the scalded milk, and stir constantly until mixture thickens. Add cheese, cook, and stir until cheese is blended, about three minutes. Remove from heat and add eggs, beaten until thick and light. Pour mixture into greased baking dish and bake at 400 degrees until puffy and brown, about 45 minutes.

Either Tailored or Dressy

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

This simple frock with princess lines may be as tailored or as dressy as your wardrobe demands. The sketch at the left shows how, in woolen, with a contrasting collar, this dress is grand for school and office wear. The other version omits the collar and uses a more luxurious fabric, with the only decorative note a bit of costume jewelry. This style is one you will like for informal social events, including "dates."

Style No. 3005 is designed for sizes 14 and 16, and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 2⅞ yards of 54 inch material; ¼ yard of contrasting.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly

On the House

If you have a garage with more room than is needed for car space, you will find that cupboards and work bench will be a big help. Place some hooks on the wall to accomodate your garden tools, your coils of wire or other work gadgets for lawn and car and home. If you have a roof which is fairly highly pitched you can build a good sized storage loft by laying a floor to which a ladder and hatchway give access.

The increasing trend to tie the garage and house into one unit is bringing the garage definitely into the home picture. The garage, whether attached or separate, which has a scanty coating of whitewash on walls and black grease spots on concrete floor, is disappearing from our midst.

WILSON'S Weekly MEMO by GEORGE RECTOR

Just twenty years have passed since Rector's closed its doors forever on New York's Broadway, and on looking back, I am amazed to find how fashions in food have changed almost as much as the fashions in women's finery. Many fresh fruits and vegetables, instead of just making a seasonal bow, now are as familiar as the Fuller Brush man.

And now there are Wilson's Tender Made Hams, of incomparable flavor and tenderness! Yes, I am glad this is 1939 and that I am living in it.

REST CURE FOR KNIVES

When I first heard that Wilson's Tender Made Ham was so tender one could cut it with a fork, I thought that perhaps it just applied to some of the big boys like Tony Galento. But experience has shown me that actually you can cut a piece of a Tender Made Ham steak with a fork as easily as a piece of Mother's peach pie.

Tender Made Ham Steak with Cider Sherbet

If you are getting a whole or half Bone-In Tender Made Ham, have the butcher cut a steak 1" to 1½" thick. Or you can buy the steak separately. Have it at room temperature. Brush one side of the steak with olive oil and place it in a preheated broiler under the flame for 7 minutes. Turn, and brush the other side with olive oil and broil for another 7 minutes, until the ham is thoroughly heated.

Place the steak on a hot platter, with a border of whipped potatoes piped around it. Garnish with parsley.

Cider Sherbet

1 pint fresh apple cider
20 marshmallows
Juice of ½ orange
Juice of ½ lemon
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 egg whites

Fresh apple cider is one of the joys of autumn that should not be passed up. Made into sherbet, it makes an ideal accompaniment for ham, as well as a delicious dessert when served separately.

Heat marshmallows and 3 tablespoons of the cider in the top of a double boiler until marshmallows are soft and fluffy but not melted. Add rest of cider and fruit juices. Freeze to a mush. Stir, and add the stiffly beaten egg whites and a couple of drops of red vegetable coloring to make the mixture a pale, blush pink. Freeze to a mush once more, stir again, and then finish freezing. Serves 5-6.

A New Sunday Breakfast
CREPES SAUSETTES

¾ cup flour
1⅓ cups milk
3 Clear Brook eggs, beaten
⅛ teaspoon salt

Combine flour with eggs and milk, and add salt. The batter should be the consistency of thick cream. Cook in a small hot skillet with Clear Brook butter, using just enough batter to spread over the skillet. Makes ten 6-inch pancakes.

Place 10 Certified Pure Pork Sausage Links in a cold skillet, turn frequently as heat increases. Roll each sausage up in a pancake and top with a tablespoon of hot, tart apple sauce. If you can get away with serving only three apiece of these, you're doing well.

SOUTH POLE, HERE IT COMES! SNOW CRUISER GETS HOT

Ice Buggy Shows Tricks on Eve of Trek to Boston.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

Dr. Thomas C. Poulter, scientific director of Armour Institute's research foundation, gave himself driving lessons twice yesterday in project No. 1-49—the 75,000 pound snow cruiser that is being loaned by the foundation to the government and Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd's antarctic expedition.

The experiments were carried out on the graveled level surface of the automobile parking lot in Grant park just south of Soldiers' field where the monster was bedded down on Tuesday night. While news reel cameras ground away and photographers, both amateur and professional, snapped shutters, Dr. Poulter put his 55 foot scientific dream child thru its paces.

Antics Put Turtle to Shame.

For the first time since it was completed in the Pullman car shops, one of the two 150 horsepower Diesel motors that power the cruiser was really opened up. And in contrast to the snail's pace of Tuesday evening when it took six hours for the cruiser to crawl from 111th street to the loop, the huge insulated car rolled along at 15 miles an hour on its 10 foot wheels and performed a series of antics that would put a turtle or a crab to shame.

The steering levers control the wheels in pairs, altho any one wheel can be turned separately. First the doctor steered by using only the front wheels. Then he centered the front wheels and steered with the ones in the rear, all the while making circuits around the half mile square of lot that had been cleared of parked automobiles.

Next he turned the rear wheels left and the front wheels right. The result was that the cruiser spun like a top in her own length. Stopping the spin the doctor turned both sets of wheels to the left and slid sideways at a 25 degree angle, a most peculiar mode of progress never achieved in an automobile except when in a skid.

"Boy O boy!" exclaimed the doctor as each maneuver progressed smoothly. "This runs like something now. We've got our little bugs ironed out. If only she'd behaved like this last night."

The cruiser left the parking lot at 3:15 a. m. this morning after stalling for an hour and a quarter when the steering apparatus gave trouble. It followed a surveyed route out Torrence avenue. The survey was made to determine whether the car could get beneath all the viaducts. From Chicago it will head for Fort Wayne. Allowing eight days in all for the trip it is to stop at Mansfield, O.; Akron, O.; Fredonia, N. Y.; Auburn, N. Y.; Albany, N. Y.; Framingham, Mass., and Boston.

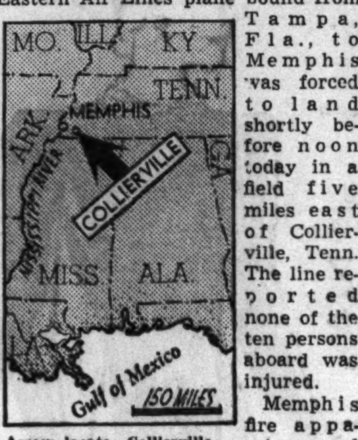
FIRE IN BAGGAGE FORCES AIR LINER DOWN IN FIELD

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 25 (AP)—An Eastern Air Lines plane bound from Tampa, Fla., to Memphis was forced to land shortly before noon today in a field five miles east of Collierville, Tenn. The line reported none of the ten persons aboard was injured.



Arrow locates Collierville.

Memphis fire apparatus and ambulances went to the scene. New York offices of the company were advised that a small fire of undetermined origin in the baggage compartment caused the crew to land. The landing gear was damaged. The plane was commanded by Capt. Albert Laney, with F. J. Black as co-pilot.

Among the seven passengers were two air line executives, R. J. Goewey of the accounting department in New York, and W. O. Foote, field and traffic manager at Montgomery, Ala. Other passengers were H. Gross, Atlanta; Wallace Grant, Rome, Ga., W. P. Postelle, H. B. Gray, and J. D. Bell, all of Birmingham.

City, PWA Agents Confer Today on Traction Issues

Agents of the Public Works administration will arrive from Washington, D. C., this morning to take a hand in concluding negotiations between the city and transit companies for a unified transportation system.

Faced with the PWA dictate that the city set up the new system in ordinance form by Nov. 1, the city wants the government representatives to be convinced that no effort has been spared to reach an agreement.

RESTORE ANCIENT STONE BULL FOR MUSEUM EXHIBIT

Restoration of an 11 ton stone bull discovered in the ruins of Persepolis, ancient capital of Persia, was completed yesterday by Donato Bostiani, sculptor, at the Oriental institute of the University of Chicago. The bull, which dates to 500 B. C., was found by an institute expedition in 1935 and was brought here in 1937. It is made of slate limestone. The bull will be put on exhibition at the institute atop a special steel shaft which goes 18 feet below the floor.

M'PHAIL URGES 8 WORLD SERIES EVERY OCTOBER

Club Owners Frown on Suggestion.

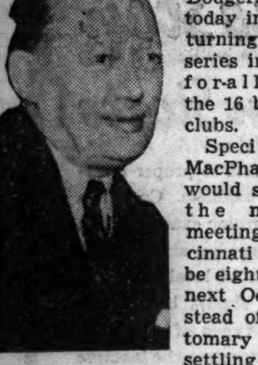
New York, Oct. 25 (AP).—Never at a loss for an idea, General Manager Larry MacPhail of the Brooklyn Dodgers came out today in favor of turning the world series into a free-for-all between the 16 big league clubs.



Larry MacPhail.

Specifically, MacPhail said he would suggest at the mid-winter meeting in Cincinnati that there be eight play-offs next October instead of the customary one, thus settling the question of supremacy between the National and American leagues.

Under the MacPhail plan the world series between league winners could be played exactly as at present. Then there also would be a play-off between the second place teams, the third placers, and so on down to a fierce inter-league struggle between, say, the Phillies and the St. Louis Browns.

"Each game in the inter-league series would count equally," Larry proposes, "and the league winning the greater number of games would hold for one year a trophy emblematic of league supremacy.

"I hope the National league will challenge the American to such a series, the games to be played under the jurisdiction of the commissioner of baseball, with players participating in the net receipts."

Not Bad, Says Frick.

The idea was MacPhail's brain child, for President Ford Frick of the National league said this was the first he had heard of it.

"I don't think I should comment before Larry proposes it at the meeting," said Frick. "But I don't think it sounds so silly. Theoretically, I should say it's a good idea. Off-hand, the only objection I foresee is that all the other series might detract from interest in the world series."

President Horace Stoneham of the Giants said it wasn't a bad idea, but that it needed to be toned down. He suggested series between the first three or four clubs in each league would be ample for the purpose.

HARRIDGE SILENT.

William Harridge, president of the American league, last night withheld his opinion of the proposal of Larry MacPhail that the world series be turned into a free for all between the 16 major league teams. He said he preferred to wait until "we hear from MacPhail at the midwinter meeting."

"It is a radical change from the world series setup and would require careful consideration," he added. "I would rather the comment and decision came from the American league club owners."

BREADON STANDS PAT.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 25 (AP).—The world series, to President Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Cardinals, is a great event, and he wouldn't want to see anything introduced which would detract any interest at all from the fall classic.

"The Yankees," Breadon said, "are a powerful team, deserving all the credit they merit, but there have been other great teams and they have passed on. The world series has remained."

Don Barnes, president of the St. Louis Browns, was out of the city, and other baseball officials here declined to comment.

CONNIE MACK OBJECTS.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 25 (AP).—Connie Mack, veteran manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, refused tonight to jump on Larry MacPhail's bandwagon for a 16 club playoff in place of the world series.

"To my way of thinking," said Mack, "it would be a real failure. There would be no real rivalry. I don't believe any of our clubs in the second division, or even those in the lower part of the upper, would draw enough to make it worthwhile, financially, to play the games.

"I think that our leagues as a whole are pretty evenly matched. I don't think we need to worry about which is the best league—or the best team.

"We'll always have an outstanding team. The Yankees will be beaten in time. I think almost any of us could do it—if we just got it into our heads we really wanted to."

MANIACI'S TALK, RECORD PROVE THAT HE'S GOOD

Bears Full Back Believes in Himself—and Team.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

A commission to find the happiest man in professional football would be like stealing the fee. All the assignment entails is locating Joe Maniaci, once of Fordham, later of Brooklyn and at the moment first and second among ground gainers and scorers, respectively, in the National league.

This week Maniaci can be found at one of two places. He will be either in Wrigley field, where the Bears are preparing to receive the Detroit Lions on Sunday, or in a north side hotel where he shares a room with

JOE MANIACI.

Dick Bassi, a teammate. Bassi has a charley horse and it is one of Maniaci's own rules never to leave a roommate in need. So it's necessary for you to go to the hotel to see Maniaci.

He Believes in the Bears.

There you find the handsome young Italian bubbling over with enthusiasm. He's with the greatest team in the world. He is working for the greatest coach in the world. He is making a lot of famous football folk look silly.

It takes no prompting to get Joe's reaction to anything pertaining to football and the Bears. Without the slightest hesitation, he tells you that the Bears are a much better team than the New York Giants, to whom they lost, 16 to 13, last Sunday.

Maniaci is a full back now and in latest statistics he is credited with having gained 481 yards in 63 attempts, an average of 7.6 per try in six games. He has scored five touchdowns, four extra points and a field goal to earn second place behind John Drake of Cleveland with 37 points. To what does Maniaci attribute his rise as one of the league's outstanding ball carriers?

Believes in Himself, Too.

"I always had the power and I always was a great runner," Maniaci contends, with naïve frankness. "Let me tell you something——"

Then, in the next 20 minutes, you get a vivid recital of the boyhood, college days and professional career of the Lodi, N. J., youngster, who is giving the Bears the power and productive prowess that passed out with the decline of Bronko Nagurski. Maniaci was not always a full back. In fact, he played end in high school and was such an ordinary performer that when Fordham tendered him an athletic scholarship, it was for track, basketball, and baseball.

Time weighed heavy on young Joe between seasons at Fordham, so, as a freshman, he went out for football. His speed attracted the attention of the coaches and they told him he was a half back. When Jimmy Crowley took over at Fordham the following fall he placed Joe at right half. There Joe acquired a reputation as a fumbler.

His Power Hidden in College.

"But I never was a fumbler," he insists. "I had never carried a football. No one ever told me anything about it. They just gave me the ball and I ran like hell. Four guys hit me, I went one way and the ball went the other. It will happen to anybody. I never was a fumbler; I was just human."

At Fordham they used him only on

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

THRUOUT the University of Chicago's decline in football prestige, this department has gone along with the Maroons, subscribing, to an extent, to the theory that competition provided satisfaction and certain physical benefits for players. . . . As a member of the Western conference, Chicago was given equal attention with other Big Ten schools. When a team suffers defeat after defeat, however, the satisfaction dwindles. . . . There can be no pleasure in losing 61 to 0 and 85 to 0 on consecutive week-ends, and when a team is so tremendously overmatched, we doubt that there are physical benefits to be derived. . . . The public outcry would be shocking if we were to match flyweights with heavyweights in Golden Gloves. . . . Sending the Maroons against teams of the caliber of Harvard and Michigan is equally ridiculous. . . . Attendance reflects the public's reaction to such matches. . . . High school games in Chicago attract more spectators than Harvard and Michigan played to on the Midway. . . . These circumstances leave editors no alternative except to treat University of Chicago football accordingly. . . .

Altho the states are adjoining, the University of Utah sent a football team to the University of Idaho for the first time in 20 years when the two institutions met Oct. 21. . . . Ohio State authorities have catalogued portable radios as nuisances and will request spectators to check them as they enter the stadium. . . . England has 2,685 professional boxers and 182 licensed promoters. . . . Yankee players say Pitchers Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer, and First Baseman Frank McCormick are the only Reds who could land a job with the world champions. . . . Infant food, in tablet form, is given University of Missouri football players to restore energy and prevent cramps. . . . Charley Bicknell, former Boys' Town football star, is a freshman candidate at the University of Portland in Oregon. . . . Sir Malcolm Campbell, speedboat record breaker, has rejoined the British army. . . . Thirty-seven Tulsa university football players will make the trip to Washington, D. C., by airplane for their game with Catholic university Nov. 4. . . .

MICHIGAN FINDS TIME TO JEST IN MAROON CONTEST

Press Release Tells How Players Clowned.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The recent student editorial in the University of Chicago newspaper might have been written with an extra touch of vitriol if the author had waited until he had seen evidence of the adverse publicity his university has received because of the ineffective play of its football team. When it was intimated that the University of Chicago had become subject for a score of jests because Harvard and Michigan had run up 146 points in two games, it had not been realized that conference members would attempt to explain Chicago's futility.

"Michigan's mighty Wolverines had a swell time while piling up their 85 to 0 victory against Chicago," reads a publicity release from Ann Arbor. "Forrest Evashevski, the great Michigan quarter back, had always wondered how it would feel to play half back. To find out he switched positions with Half Back Tom Harmon and made eleven yards on his first try.

They Go In for Tricks.

"The next play the team decided to show Evashevski, usually a blocker, just how important blocking is to a back. When the One Man Gang got the ball he suddenly discovered no one had blocked his man and all 11 Chicago players descended on him while his teammates stood by and laughed.

The same publicity sheet quotes Coach Fritz Crisler of Michigan on the game. "I never tried to score so hard in any game in my career as I tried not to score against Chicago," he said. The news service also says that 12 minute quarters were played, thus shortening the game one-fifth, that Michigan kicked on first down and asked to be penalized.

It is indeed a long way back to that afternoon in 1905 on old Marshall field when Chicago defeated Michigan, 2 to 0, and ended the Wolverines' victory streak of 56 consecutive games. For that matter Chicago probably recalls with pleasure the 1 point defeat two years ago. There is some consolation in knowing that in 1902 Michigan defeated Iowa, 107 to 0.

Harmon Leads Way.

The Chicago game has given Michigan five of the first fourteen positions in the individual scoring race. Harmon has a commanding lead, altho he scored only 18 points against Chicago. His 27 points in the opening game against Iowa make a total of 45. Erwin Prasse, Iowa end, is second with 18 points.

Harmon also is the leading ground gainer, and had he wished he might have sewed up this title by playing thruout the Chicago game. Harmon has gained 224 yards in 18 attempts. Slight attention is paid to ground gaining records, however, by the athletes themselves and they would be the first to admit that 30 yards at the right time against a major opponent is worth 10 times that much ground in a game which cannot be lost anyway.

Indiana's Harold Hursh's forward passing mark is worthy of note for his 26 completions in 46 passes for a total of 394 yards in three games is far above the ordinary yearly record in the Big Ten. In two games, Iowa's Nile Kinnick has gained 228 yards by passing. Don Scott's passes were vitally important last week, for he threw three touchdown passes for Ohio State against Minnesota.

Sophomore List Reduced.

The list of sophomores who have been able to win regular playing positions in the conference this year is considerably smaller than in 1938. The outstanding example of sophomores breaking into the starting lineup and staying there was the Michigan back field trio last year of Harmon, Evashevski, and Paul Kromer. It is no encouragement for Michigan's opponents to realize that these boys have another year of competition. Michigan's outstanding sophomore this season possibly is Bob Westfall, who has taken over the full back job.

Ohio State had an exceptionally large crop of sophomores last season and so did Indiana university,

Girls Spat as Roller Derby Forces Roll on Their Way

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

They laughed in August, 1935, when Leo Seltzer, a young man from Montana, put on a pair of figurative roller skates and began to wheel his way around the country in what he called the transcontinental roller derby.

But then they laughed at Abner Doubleday 100 years ago when he proposed to make the old game of rounders into a game called baseball. And Princeton and Rutgers were regarded as slightly daft 70 calendars back when they played a contest to become known as football. And Dr. James Naismith was charged with being quaint when he hung up a peach basket and had young men fire a ball at it to start something called basketball.

Last night in the Coliseum, however, Mr. Seltzer presented his 1939 version of the roller derby before a crowd of more than 9,000. It was fitting that the production should be revealed in these parts, and particularly in the Coliseum, for there it was, four years ago last August, that Maestro Seltzer unveiled his first transcontinental roller derby.

Comes the Roller Derby.

That was literally a cross country tour, in which the artists attempted to complete on maple wood wheels the mileage between New York and San Francisco. This endurance business often required six weeks, taking them [within the confines of the Coliseum, of course] thru such cosmopolitan communities as Meshoppen, Pa.; Bergholz, O., and Broken Bow, Neb.

This hegira under one roof had its merits, but Seltzer felt that it smacked of the old marathon business. The American sports bug, he reasoned, loves competition, and so he devised the derby in its form as presented, last night to a pleased gathering of the faithful.

The new derby, with a feudal aroma provided by a team from Chicago competing against a Canadian squad, has several ingredients. There is the element of speed. There is blocking to remind the customers of football. And there are penalties, as in hockey, with a real pair of penalty dungeons for offenders.

They Put On a Show.

The more talented athletes, in being penalized, put on a show of histrionics which put many of last night's guests in mind of those soulful nights when James Londos and Joseph Stecher rassled in this same Coliseum.

The new derby consists of two 10 skater teams, five boys and five girls to the team. They alternate in four 15 minute quarters, the switches between lads and lasses being made while they are on the track, after the fashion of six day bicycle races. Points are scored on the basis of lapping the whole field or a portion, a team scoring five if one of its members goes around the entire field.

The team having the most points at the end of one evening's wheeling wins a game. The Chicago team's duel with the Canadian troupe will consist of 11 games, concluding on Nov. 5. The following night, the Chicagoans will open a 14 game series with the New York Gardens team, ending Nov. 19.

The Chicago skaters won last night's game from the Canadiens, 13 to 10.

Rolling Along

Capt. Ivy King of the Chicago team, who figured in some of the excitement last night at the opening of the roller Derby.

Last night's second and third quarters produced three penalties. The first occurred when Russ Baker of the Canadians and Willie Bogash, whose mother, Ma Bogash, is his Chicago partner, went two fast rounds on the northeast bend of the one-eighteenth mile track. Master Baker was sent to the jug for his enthusiasm and registered the stormiest of indignation about his ejection.

In the third quarter Grace Fried of the Canadians clutched Capt. Ivy King of Chicago, and the next time around La King spilled Miss Fried on her green tights. Capt. King was banished for tripping and Grace for holding.

The artists in the present cast are supposed to cruise at 18 miles an hour, attaining a jam speed of better than 35 miles. None travels faster than Mr. Seltzer's hosannahs about his brain child.

HOSTAK, GARCIA BOUT N. B. A.'S AIM TO SETTLE TITLE

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25 (AP).—The National Boxing association said today it would try to arrange a bout between Al Hostak of Seattle and Ceferino Garcia to clear up the middleweight championship question. The N. B. A. recognizes Hostak as title holder and Garcia as No. 1 challenger. The New York athletic commission recognizes Garcia as champion.

Under the six month title defense rule Hostak must defend his crown by Dec. 27. Garcia will sail for Manila shortly, but his manager notified the N. B. A. he would meet Hostak after the first of the year.

If the bout can be arranged for January, the N. B. A. indicated it probably would extend Hostak's six month period as was done recently for Sixto Escobar, bantamweight champion, who recently gave up the title to box as a featherweight.

AFTER 13 YEARS PRO TENNIS MEET RETURNS PROFIT

Beverly Hills, Cal., Oct. 25 (AP).—Officials of the National Professional Tennis association said today the annual tournament made money—$800—for the first time in its 13 year existence. Prize money was increased from $2,000 to $2,266.85.

Ellsworth Vines of Pasadena regained the singles championship and collected $340.05, plus $113.34 for his play in the doubles. Fred Perry, runner-up and dethroned champion, collected $317.36 for both singles and doubles—$204.02 for the singles.

Says Irish and Navy Game Will Return to Baltimore

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 25 (AP).—The Baltimore Sun says in a story written for tomorrow's edition that Navy and Notre Dame will meet at the Baltimore stadium Nov. 9, 1940, altho there has been no official announcement from the naval academy. The Sun added that "it has been said off the record that Navy and Notre Dame will meet in this city in 1941."

SATURDAY GAME TAKES NATIONAL TITLE ASPECT

Buckeyes Hold Drill in Rain.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Columbus, O., Oct. 25.—When they printed the schedules showing Cornell's big Red team would play Ohio State's scarlet Buckeyes on Oct. 28, the entry went down as not much more than a good team from over there coming over here to play another good team. Now this game between two great red teams looks like a redhot intersectional that may prove a big item in determining the national championship.

It is apparent hereabouts that the Buckeyes, having conquered Missouri, 19 to 0; Northwestern, 13 to 0, and Minnesota, 23 to 20, have become national title conscious, not discounting the hazards presented first by Cornell and later, on Nov. 25, by Michigan.

There is no boasting here about this lofty and not altogether illogical ambition. Since that memorable Notre Dame game in 1935 boasting hereabouts has been rare.

Make Best Start in Years.

This is the first season since Notre Dame pulled that 18 to 13 thriller out of the fire that the Buckeyes have got through the first three games without a jolt. In 1936, after the Buckeyes had been buoyed up in their opener by a 60 to 0 victory over N. Y. U. they lost to Pittsburgh in the second game, 6 to 0, and the following Saturday were nosed out by Northwestern, 14 to 13.

In 1937 the Buckeyes did some bragging after shutting out Texas Christian and Purdue in their first two games. Subsequent setbacks at the hands of Southern California and Indiana quieted things pretty well, even though the Ohioans scored impressive shutouts in all their other six games.

Last year the Buckeyes blanked Indiana, 6 to 0, in the first game, then up bobbed Southern California again, with a 14 to 7 victory.

Buckeyes Respect Cornell.

The season to date has been grand. And the sporting Buckeyes aren't complaining because they have a hot one on their hands Saturday, much hotter than they ever dreamed, apparently.

True, Cornell was actual champion of the mythical Ivy league last year. It numbered among its victims Dartmouth, which had defeated Harvard, Yale and Princeton. On the other hand, Cornell played a 0 to 0 tie with the not so torrid Pennsylvania team in its last game of the season, and they had been knocked off by Syracuse in their season opener.

This year's captain, Vince Eichler, was lost to the squad before the season started, and Brud Holland, great negro end, of end-around fame, was lost thru graduation. So the preseason experts weren't altogether gaga at the outset about the lads from above Cayuga's waters.

The season hadn't gone far, though, until it began to appear that the Cornell coach, Carl Snavely, had developed something. Something fast, powerful and tricky. A team big but in no sense awkward. And not always big, at that. Hal McCullogh, one of the ace backs, for instance, weighs something under 175 pounds.

60,000 May See Game.

Cornell turned the tables on Syracuse by winning the opener, 19 to 6, then bowled over Princeton, 20 to 7. Last year Cornell beat Penn State, 21 to 6. Penn State, figured a bit stronger this year, was routed last Saturday by Cornell, 47 to 0. This score, linked with Ohio State's dramatic victory, really put the steam-up under the game here, a game expected to draw 60,000 if the weather gets better than it is today.

Cornell's victory over Penn State last week was achieved in the rain, a circumstance noted in full by Coach Francis Schmidt of the Buckeyes. And, as tho to help the Buckeyes prepare for every emergency, the weather man today served as ornery a rainy day as could be desired. As soon as Coach Schmidt looked out the window this morning he sent word that today's practice would be right out in the rain and mud.

Buckeyes Drill Under Lights.

Work on offense and defense took up most of the practice session today, more than half of which was held under the lights, with ground plays being intensively worked. The forward pass attack seemed to be virtually forgotten.

Jim Daniell, Ohio left tackle, will not play Saturday. His leg muscle bruise is so severe that he will be kept on the side lines for more than a week, at least. Charlie Maag, the right tackle who saw some action against Minnesota and kicked the field goal that provided the Buckeyes' winning margin, will start the game. He is completely recovered from his ankle injury.

CORNELL CHANGES FULL BACK.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 25 (AP).—Cornell's 169 pound full back, Mort Landsberg, will start in place of Kenny Brown against Ohio State Saturday. Mort won the position because of superior running ability. The varsity stressed offense again today but did get in a session on the defense against the Buckeye formations.

PITT LOSES TWO REGULARS FOR FORDHAM GAME

Center Fullerton, Tackle Konetsky Injured.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 25 (AP).—Coach Charley Bowser worried today about replacing Center Dick Fullerton and Tackle Ted Konetsky, while trying to pick his team to face Fordham in New York on Saturday.

Fullerton was forced out by the battering he took against Duquesne and Konetsky's knee is injured. Bowser also shifted Ben Kish from quarter to full back in place of Ernie Bonelli, trying out Mike Sekela at quarter.

Left Tackle Frank Kristufek plans to wear glasses in the game. He is having a special shatterproof set of spectacles made with a protective guard.

The Panthers leave tomorrow night for New York.

DARTMOUTH FEARS PASSES.

Hanover, N. H., Oct. 25 (AP).—Dartmouth drilled today against the threat of a Harvard passing attack when the two rivals meet in Cambridge Saturday. Buford Hayden participated in the scrimmage. He will be in the starting back field in place of Jack Orr, whose shoulder injury has not properly healed.

MacDONALD LOST TO HARVARD.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 25 (AP).—Capt. Torbey MacDonald, Harvard's hard luck star, is definitely out of the Dartmouth game because his injured ankle has not responded to treatment. The Crimson went thru two sessions today, the first an offensive drill against the frosh and the second a defensive session against Dartmouth plays.

N. Y. U. DRILLS FOR 3 HOURS.

New York, Oct. 25 (AP).—New York university's Violets worked for three hours today on defense tactics they hoped would successfully check all Georgia scoring thrusts Saturday.

SECOND TEAM TO START.

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 25 (AP).—Holy Cross will start its second team against Colgate Saturday, Coach Joe Sheeketski said today. It is the same lineup that opened last week against Brown. The first team, with Ronnie Cahill, ace passer, will not be called until the going gets tough.

COLGATE CRIPPLE RETURNS.

Hamilton, N. Y., Oct. 25 (AP).—Colgate reached peak strength in its line for the first time since the New York university game today and appeared ready to go at top speed against Holy Cross Saturday. Glen Treiber, left guard, returned to his regular berth to bring smiles of satisfaction to Andy Kerr's face.

BROWN GETS A WORKOUT.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 25 (AP).—With the second team bolstered by two varsity stars, George Mawhinney and Walter Mullen, the Brown varsity had all it could handle today in a snappy scrimmage—the last before meeting Princeton Saturday.

Elward Has His Say About Some Referees

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 25 (AP).—Mal Elward, Purdue football coach, aired his views on refereeing here today and he wasn't any too charitable. Pausing en route to San Francisco with his team for the game Saturday with Santa Clara, Elward commented:

"Sure, we got a good team. Sure, we got a chance for the Big Ten title—provided Minnesota beats Michigan and Michigan beats Ohio State—and provided we beat Iowa, Northwestern, Wisconsin, and Indiana.

Season's Work Spoiled.

"But refereeing being what it is, what's the sense of working all year so some bloke can spoil everything you've done in an hour on Saturday?

"Minnesota's better than Notre Dame and improving every game. Fast, aggressive backs, a rapidly improving line. But we should have beaten Minnesota. We got a bad decision.

"Minnesota fumbled in midfield. Purdue recovered. One official pointed to the Purdue man. But the referee, who was 15 yards back of the play, insisted the ball was dead when fumbled. He gave it to Minnesota and Minnesota scored. The movies showed plainly it was our ball."

[Frank Lane refereed the Purdue-Minnesota game.]

Over or Under the Bar?

Elward said that against Notre Dame the referee who stood 35 yards from the goal said the ball went over the post when, according to Elward, the place kick was not good. The decision, he added, gave Notre Dame the game.

[James Masker refereed the Notre Dame-Purdue game.]

SMILIN' JACK—A ROUGH ROAD

TERRY AND THE PIRATES—DISARMAMENT, BUT NOT PACIFISM

Two Injured Yale Players on Sidelines

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 25 [Special].—Yale practiced today without two of its outstanding players, Harold Whiteman, wing back, and Elliott Detchon, reserve back, but plenty of spirit was evident as the squad prepared for the Michigan game Saturday at Ann Arbor. Whiteman was confined to the infirmary with a cold. Detchon, who got off a sixty yard punt against Army last Saturday, strained his shoulder in doing so and joined Whiteman in the infirmary.

Coach Ducky Pond continued to drill the players on dummy offense and defense plays. Michigan is seen as the most formidable foe on the Eli list this year and no effort is being spared in practice. Pond named a squad of 35 tonight to make the trip.

Jimmy McClelland took Whiteman's place yesterday and today, filling out the back field of Seymour, Burr, and Wood. Bill Bell alternated with McClelland. Jim Dern and Cy Taylor worked at guard and tackle, respectively, Dern relieving Burnam and Taylor spelling Seabury and Brooks.

STARS FIGHT FOR JOBS.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 25 [Special].—Two of Michigan's outstanding linemen, Capt. Archie Kodros at center and Ed Frutig, end and ace pass receiver, out of the game with injuries, will have to be at 100 per cent capacity before Coach Fritz Crisler will oust their two replacements from the lineup.

At the pivot post Bob Ingalls, sophomore, has exceeded expectations, is still holding Kodros out of the lineup, and probably will start against Yale Saturday, while Joe Rogers, a junior, is pulling a similar stunt at left end. The 6 foot 3 inch flanker has been repeatedly praised by the coaches because of his rapid development and may still get the call over Frutig.

Paul Kromer, Harmon's running mate at left half back, will play against the Elis, but also may not start because of his condition, in which case Fred Trosko will take the post. The Wolverines wound up their last contact practice today with a brisk scrimmage session and pass defense drill.

Musratz to Hold Program at Lake Shore A. C. Tonight

The Musratz of the Lake Shore Athletic club will hold a sports night program tonight with a dinner and water games. Bobby Riggs, number one national ranking tennis star, who has just returned to Lake Shore after his season of international competition, will be guest of honor. The program will include the official National Football league movie.

COLLEGE SOCCER.

St. Rita, Leo Prepare for Charity Game

St. Rita and Leo, rival members of the south section of the Catholic High School league, continued preparations yesterday for their charity football game in Soldier's field Sunday afternoon. Proceeds of the game, which will start at 2 o'clock, will be donated to the Sisters of Mercy benefit fund. Forty thousand are expected to attend.

Leo, which will be seeking its fourth straight victory in the series, went thru a lengthly drill under the direction of Coach A. L. [Whitey] Cronin. Coach Hicks Connelly of St. Rita also sent his squad thru a two hour workout on St. Rita field.

Hyde Park scored its first victory in the Public High School Soccer league yesterday, defeating Amundsen, 3 to 0, in Winnemac park. Norbert Low, center forward, scored two of Hyde Park's goals. . . . Two other matches scheduled yesterday were postponed because of wet grounds. . . . Manley will meet Schurz in Kilbourn park tomorrow and Lane Tech and Kelly will clash Monday at California avenue and Roscoe street. . . .

Two games will be played in the Big Seven conference tomorrow night. . . . Rockford's eleven will play at Joliet and Freeport at La Salle-Peru. . . . Arlington Heights faces Niles Township tomorrow night in the only game on the Northeast conference schedule. . . . In the Northwest conference Barrington opposes Northbrook on the latter's field.

The Morgan Park Military academy football team, band, cadets and members of the Dads club, will travel to Delafield, Wis., Saturday for the game with St. John's Military academy. . . . More than 400 are expected to be in the party which leaves at 8:35 a. m. on a Milwaukee road special train. . . . A capacity crowd of 5,000 is expected to see the game between Fenger and Morgan Park Saturday afternoon in Pullman Tech field. . . . Fenger and Morgan Park are tied for the south section lead in the Public School league, each with four victories and no defeats. . . .

Crane Tech's eleven will meet Marshall in a west division game in the Public School league in Mills stadium, Lake street and Kilpatrick avenue, tomorrow afternoon.

PABSTS SCORE 3,116 TO BOOST CLASSIC LEAD

Scoring a season's high series of 3.116 on games of 1,145, 991 and 980, the Schlitz bowling team won two games from the Michelobs in the Lorraine Arcade last night and increased its lead to five games in the Wednesday division of the Classic league.

Power House swept three games from the Pragers and tied for second place with the Monarchs, who lost two to the Koenigs. The Schlitz team dropped one game to the Ambrosias and fell to fourth position.

Axel Sandquist's 735 on games of 245, 268, and 222 was high individual series of the season. Scores:

Varsity, Frosh Scrimmage to Tie on Midway

Behind locked gates and with bystanders barred, the University of Chicago football team and the highly touted Maroon freshmen battled until dusk last night. It was only a scrimmage, according to the interpretation placed on it by Coach Clark Shaughnessy. But it developed into a bitterly fought battle between the two squads, and at the finish of the 45 minute session each had scored a touchdown.

Earlier, university athletic officials had ruled against proposed practice games between the varsity and frosh scheduled for yesterday and Saturday. Too much emphasis, they believed, was being placed on the tests between the team that yielded 85 points to Michigan and 61 to Harvard and what is described as Chicago's best freshman group in years.

Two 20 Yard Passes Score.

The varsity's touchdown was attained on a 20 yard pass from Lou Letts to Bob Wasem, who then ran 20 yards for the score. The freshman also scored on a 20 yard pass, from Beaubien to Dolan, a former Sullivan High school player, who caught the ball on the goal line.

Earlier in the day Coach Shaughnessy had announced a new battle front for the Maroons' remaining games of the season, demoting two of the seven major letter men on the squad and five junior letter winners. Chief casualties in the shakeup were Baird Wallis, a guard, and Bob Howard, full back, both letter men. Junior letter winners dropped from the list of regulars were Tackle John Stearns, Guard Duncan Scott, Half Back Wallace Ottomeyer, and Full Backs Ted Howe and Bill Kimball.

New Varsity Lineup.

"If any one wants to get on the first team," Shaughnessy declared, "he will have to prove himself a better player than the first team man at the position."

The Maroons will be idle Saturday, their next game being Nov. 4 against the University of Virginia in Charlottesville, Va.

Rain Prevents Contact Drills at Notre Dame

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 25 [Special].—Rain and a muddy field caused Coach Elmer Layden to cancel Notre Dame's scheduled scrimmage today, but the first and second teams got a thoro workout in dummy skirmish against Carnegie Tech plays.

Layden still was undecided about a starting back field, but began the workout with Steve Sitko at quarter back, Bob Saggau and Lou Zontini at half backs, and Joe Thesing at full back. Ben Sheridan moved up to Saggau's post at left half back and Milt Piepul took over for Thesing later in the drill.

Sheridan has established himself, as he did last year, as Notre Dame's most dangerous back, by averaging nearly 10 yards a trip for the 10 times he has carried the ball. Piepul has averaged nearly 7 yards for 35 trips. Zontini, last year's work horse, again holds the same title. He has made 49 attempts and he has picked up 242 yards to lead in both attempts and total yards. His average is 5 yards.

The Irish will leave tomorrow night for Pittsburgh.

Tony Ippolito Signed by St. Louis Gunners

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 25 (AP).—The St. Louis Gunners, who haven't scored in their last two games, announced today they had signed Tony Ippolito, full back at Purdue last season, and had obtained Hal Bradley, an end, from the Washington Redskins. The Gunners, members of the American pro football league, released Sandy Sandberg, veteran tackle, today. Eight others were let out yesterday.

TRAINING TRIP OF BLACKHAWKS TO END TONIGHT

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 25 [Special].—The Chicago Blackhawks were sent thru a 90 minute workout today in preparation for the second and final practice game with St. Paul of the American Hockey association tomorrow night. Friday afternoon the Hawks will entrain for Chicago.

After Tuesday's exhibition, Johnny Chad and Bob Carse, who, together with Doug Bentley became professional hockey players because of their participation in the St. Paul game, left to join the Providence Reds of the International-American league.

ELTING, PURVIS MAINTAIN RANK AS ILLINI STARS

Prove Right to Recent Promotions.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 25 [Special].—Don Elting and Chuck Purvis continued to display the brand of football that earned them promotion to the first team half back posts earlier in the week as they paced the Illinois varsity in a one hour scrimmage with the freshmen today.

During the brief period the varsity was on the offensive, Elting broke loose for a run of forty yards and Purvis for a touchdown sprint of twenty-five yards. Purvis passed to Elting for another gain of thirty yards.

The varsity spent most of the afternoon on defense, concentrating on diagnosing Northwestern plays as presented by the freshmen.

Capt. Mal Brewer and Joe Turek, regular guards, returned to uniform today and Brewer took an active part in the drill.

Nat Johnson, 215 pound sophomore tackle who started against Indiana, is not being counted on for Saturday's game with Northwestern. A hip injury sustained against the Hoosiers is expected to keep him out of the action. Al Lundberg, senior tackle, altho not in uniform today, will be ready by Saturday.

WILDCATS DUBIOUS.

Not the least among Northwestern's preparations for the Illinois game Saturday in Dyche stadium is the task of trying to anticipate what tricks Coach Bob Zuppke will concoct.

Two years ago Zuppke caused much confusion in the Wildcat ranks when he sprang a five man line, which not only succeeded in halting the Purple running attack but completely nullified its passing game. As a result the Illini won 6 to 0 over a highly favored Northwestern eleven.

So successful have the Illini been in recent invasions of Dyche stadium that the game almost assumes the proportions of a jinx. In their last four visits to Evanston, the Illini have won three times. In addition to the 1937 victory, they won the 1934 game, 14 to 3, and the '33 game 3 to 0.

Offense and defense received attention in yesterday's workout as Coach Lynn Waldorf sought to continue the improvement shown in the Wisconsin game. The Wildcats expect the Illini will produce a stubborn defensive team and for that reason are exerting every effort to get their attack rolling.

RODMAN, YATES TO FORM CHICAGO BIKE RACE TEAM

Cecil Yates and Jerry Rodman will make up the Chicago team in the six day bicycle race which will start in Chicago Stadium a week from Sunday night. Manager Harry Mendel signed Rodman and Yates yesterday and decided to enter them as a team.

Rodman is a strong and consistent rider and Yates improved fast last year. He finished second in the last Chicago race with Heinz Vopel as his partner and won the event that followed in Buffalo with Gus Kilian as his mate. In the Chicago race Yates was the sprinting sensation of the final hour, winning ten sprints. Vopel was unable to hold up his end and the team lost the race, for Vopel was riding with his wrist in a cast.

Rodman and Yates are products of the Chicago amateur ranks.

Cincinnati to Play Three Spring Games in Havana

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 25 (AP).—General manager Warren C. Giles announced tonight the Cincinnati Reds will interrupt their spring training routine in Tampa, Fla., to play three exhibition games with a picked Cuban team in Havana. The contract for the games, to be played March 22, 23, and 24, was signed today with the Cuban government.

Detroit Red Wings Beat Indianapolis Farm Team

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Oct. 25 (AP).—The Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey league defeated their Indianapolis farm team, 5 to 2, tonight in an exhibition game. The Wings open the major league season against the Blackhawks in Chicago next Thursday.

Badgers Try Pass Plays for Iowa Battle

Madison, Wis., Oct. 25 [Special].—With heavy practices out of the way, the Wisconsin football team today prepared to match Iowa's high powered passing attack with an air offensive of its own. Claude York, Bob Peterson and Billy Schmitz did most of the tossing as Coach Harry Stuhldreher gave the varsity several new pass plays.

Robert Holloway, regular left guard, is suffering from a minor knee infection, but is expected to be ready to start against the Hawkeyes. He was replaced today by Don Kolbusz of Green Bay, 210 pound sophomore.

Despite three straight defeats the Badgers' morale is high. They are confident of victory over Iowa, altho Iowa defeated Indiana, 32 to 29, and Indiana whipped the Badgers 14 to 0.

IOWA DRILLS ON AERIALS.

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 25 [Special].—With only one practice remaining before they take off for Madison and the Dad's day game with Wisconsin Saturday, Iowa today went through a lengthy session of offensive drills and additional instructions on pass defense. Coach Eddie Anderson has been preparing the Hawkeye defense for Badger running plays, and the drill today was limited almost entirely to additional work on stopping the Badgers' aerial game.

He also began putting the finishing touches on the Iowa offense, working toward better timing in the back field. There is still some doubt whether Jim Walker, star Negro tackle, will be able to play against the Badgers.

North Central and Elmhurst Friendly Foes

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Naperville and Elmhurst, two good west side neighbors, will choose up sides again Saturday, when the former's North Central college football eleven entertains Elmhurst college on Kroehler field. Altho the two have played eight games since 1922, this is no bitter rivalry such as distinguishes many another college series. The two coaches, Gordon Fisher of North Central and O. M. [Pete] Langhorst of Elmhurst regard it as right good neighborly argument, sans any of the customary whoopdedoo.

O. M. Langhorst.

If ever two schools would admire to score a victory, certainly North Central and Elmhurst are of that mood. Elmhurst has played four and lost four, while North Central has only one victory to show in four, a 33 to 0 triumph over Concordia Teachers of River Forest. This is a nonconference game for each, North Central being a member of the Illinois College conference, while Elmhurst is in the Little Nineteen.

It's Fisher's 13th Year.

Coach Fisher is now in his thirteenth year as athletic director and football coach at North Central. Prior to North Central's joining the I. C. C., which does not permit freshman to compete, the Cardinals had gone below a .500 rating only once in ten years. Fisher came directly from the University of Minnesota, where he played guard and end and was a track weight man in the Herb Joesting era.

Unable to use freshmen in the I. C. C., Fisher found himself with a squad of twenty-five men, only eight of whom won letters last year. These include the co-captains, Half Back Dick Hayden, who was out of the losing games against Carroll and Wheaton, and End Fred Gillogly; End Bob Juhnke, Tackle James Stucky, Guard Dave Leonard, Barrett Saville, a substitute 128 pound tail back; Paul Gambsch, a reserve back, whom injuries have stymied all season, and Harry Riebel, an end. Riebel is one of the most valuable men on the squad, having proven himself adaptable enough to play full back and guard as well as end.

Hayden's a Nifty Punter.

While the Elmhurst game is regarded as a natural back fence squabble, North Central regards Lake Forest as its oldest opponent. In the five years the Cardinals have met Lake Forest under Ralph Jones, they have won two, lost two and tied one. They meet Lake Forest in Naperville on Nov. 4, and close their season against Valparaiso there on Nov. 18.

In addition to Riebel, Co-Capts. Hayden and Gillogly stand out in the Cardinal offense. Hayden, who was held out of the Carroll and Wheaton games by a broken left wrist, is one of the best spot punters in the Illinois college conference. Coach Fisher pointed out that his proficiency in great part is due to constant practice, even during the summertime.

Pete Langhorst, at Elmhurst, has one of the best defensive records against stronger competition of any coach in the Little Nineteen, despite the four consecutive defeats. The team lost to Charleston Teachers, 9 to 0; to De Kalb Teachers, 13 to 0; to Illinois college, 14 to 0, and to Carthage, 16 to 13. Elmhurst has three games after the North Central battle Saturday. They include invasions of Illinois Normal and Eureka, with the final against Wheaton, the school's traditional foe, scheduled for the home field on Nov. 18.

Elmhurst Material Skimpy.

In 1925, Elmhurst scored its first victory in history over Wheaton when a left half back named Pete Langhorst went forty-one yards up a muddy field to score the winning touchdown. This is the same Pete Langhorst who then transferred to the University of Illinois, where he played guard on the championship 1928 team and the 1929 eleven, and then returned seven years ago to become athletic director and coach at Elmhurst.

Eight lettermen in a squad of 28 greeted Langhorst at the start of the season. These include Capt. Don Rosback, end; William Bohle, left half; Henry Bucholz, quarter back; Walt Goletz, right half; Ervin Volbrecht, full back; Glen Baumann, and Ed McDougall, tackles, and Louis Kyrazopolos, guard.

Rosback and Bucholz were the heroes of the 6 to 0 victory over North Central in 1937, the only decision registered by Elmhurst in the series. Henry threw a scoring pass to Don just before the half ended. Langhorst regards Don Cash, a Chicago boy who transferred from Michigan, as the best defensive end in the conference, and has testimony in this direction from the team's first four opponents. Goletz is a good line backer and a freshman guard; Dick Mernitz already has distinguished himself.

Tony Canzoneri Will Quit Ring if He Loses—Maybe

Marlboro, N. Y., Oct. 25 (AP).—Tony Canzoneri has about decided to stop kidding himself.

The grand little guy who has been fighting since the mid '20s said today his bout in Madison Square Garden next Wednesday night with Al Davis, a youngster from Brooklyn, will decide his ring future. If he wins, Tony will keep right on going; if Davis whips him—well, Tony has decided to hang 'em up for good.

Of course, fighters reserve the right to change their minds, so maybe Tony will feel differently the night after he meets Davis—win, lose, or draw. But right now Tony, who came out of New Orleans to win the world featherweight, lightweight, and junior welterweight championships, has his mind made up.

Funeral for La Porte Prep Coach to Be Held Tomorrow

La Porte, Ind., Oct. 25 [Special].—Funeral services for C. C. [Jack] Steward, 34, La Porte High school basketball coach, will be held Friday morning at Bainbridge, Ind. Grief stricken high school pupils today passed the bier of the coach, who died yesterday of a heart attack. Brief rites will be held here tomorrow, after which the body will be taken to Bainbridge, Steward's former home.

Maniaci Says He's Good—So Do Records

wide reverses. He got away for numerous long runs, but, he insists, he never got a chance to show what he really could do. When he reported to THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE All-Star camp in 1935 he waited three days before the coaches even noticed him. Then Head Coach Bernie Bierman said: "What tackle do you play?" Bierman gave Joe a quizzical look when he answered: "Believe it or not, Mr. Bierman, I'm a safety man—all 6 feet 1 and 210 pounds of me." They put him at right half back.

Joe Turns Over a New Leaf.

Brooklyn had taken Joe in the draft and Coach Potsy Clark put him at full back. With no line before him, Maniaci's only chance to carry the ball came on bucks straight into a pile of burly linemen. He became dissatisfied. His father, a Lodi truck driver who had put two daughters and Joe's older brother thru college, also was disgusted. In time Maniaci got the reputation of being a trouble maker and a bad actor. Brooklyn got rid of him.

The day he reported to Coach George Halas, Maniaci took a big deep breath and said: "Now I'm satisfied and now I'm going to make a lot of guys look silly. Honest, Mr. Halas, I'm not a trouble maker, I'm no fumbler, and I'm a great runner."

Ten National league coaches, 10 National league teams, and all the college experts in the east will testify to the young man's veracity. He has broken away on long runs for the Bears, hammered the line for short gains, and developed into a capable defensive player.

MY MOMMY WINS AT SPORTSMAN'S AFTER 19TH TRY

2 Year Old Filly Defeats Jimmy Tom by 2 Lengths.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

A 2 year old filly named My Mommy has been trying all season to win a race. Her big day came yesterday when she beat a field of nine other juveniles in a five furlong sprint which headed the Sportsman's Park program. Though she had been in the money only once before in 18 starts, the betters decided she might have a fair chance in this event, so she was backed down to odds of a little more than 8 to 1.

She Takes Complete Charge.

In mastering her rivals My Mommy performed as tho she were accustomed to dominating a race. The field had scarcely reached the clubhouse turn when it became apparent that she really was in a running mood. For about three-eighths she followed close behind the pace set by Miss Sonada. As they headed into the far turn she moved up with a strong challenge. For a few strides Miss Sonada tried to keep pace, then she dropped out of it completely.

Meanwhile My Mommy was continuing in excellent stride under Jockey Paul Keiper's strong pressure. She had no trouble keeping clear command, beating Jimmie Tom by two lengths while Hadith was taking third money. Miss Sonada and Hadith had been established as co-favorites at 5 to 2. Those who backed My Mommy received $19.20, $10.20, and $5.60.

This was My Mommy's fourth start of the Sportsman's Park meeting. On those previous occasions she finished eighth, seventh, and sixth.

High Renown Finally Wins.

High Renown, which had been coming close repeatedly since midsummer, finally delivered the finishing spurt that landed him in the winner's circle. In winning the fourth race he came from far back to catch the pace setter, Lovely Sister, in the last sixteenth. Then he drew out to win by a length and a half.

High Renown had been in the money seven times in his last nine starts. He was a 4 to 1 shot yesterday, returning $10, $4.60, and $3.60. Savitar, the 3 to 2 favorite, tired when put to pressure and finished fifth.

Jockeys James Dobson, E. J. Barnes and George Oros were shaken up when their mounts fell as they turned into the stretch in the eighth race.

Bombers, Edison Park Play on Coals Field Tonight

Bernie Jefferson and the Chicago Brown Bombers will play Edison Park, undefeated in six games, at 8:15 o'clock tonight in Spencer Coals park. The Bombers have scored 80 points against none in rolling over the Winklers, Austin Bears, and Jefferson Park in their Chicago games.

BOOKIES IDENTIFY HORSES BY NAME; GIVE UP NUMBERS

Bookmakers thruout the city received a new type of service from the National News service yesterday. In an effort to get around lottery restrictions, horses were identified by name rather than by number in the information sent over the wire.

Federal aids stated that the change would have no effect on the lottery indictment which already has been returned against Moe Annenberg, head of the service.

BABY ARIZMENDI FAILS TO ARRIVE FOR BOXING DRILL

Foe for Sammy Angott, Nov. 3, Overdue.

Alberto [Baby] Arizmendi, Mexican slugger, lost his way en route from Los Angeles to Chicago and failed to report for a scheduled workout in Trafton's gymnasium yesterday. Arizmendi, who has not appeared here since he whipped Davey Day four years ago, is matched to meet Sammy Angott in a 10 round bout in Chicago Stadium Nov. 3. Angott is No. 1 welterweight and lightweight challenger.

"Perhaps he fears Angott and detoured back to his native land for a visit until after Nov. 3," some one said.

"That's untrue," Promoter Bill Rand retorted. "Arizmendi is not afraid of any fighter of his weight in the game today, and that includes Angott. He'll be on hand today.

In an attempt to hide his worried look Rand arranged a six round supporting match between Eddie Wenstob, Winnipeg, Man., heavyweight, and Henry Wacker. If Wacker is not suitable, Altus Allen will be obtained against Wenstob. This match completes the card, which will include three other contests, as follows:

Leone Efrati vs. Frankie [Kid] Covelli [10], 130.
Dan Merritt vs. Tony Musto [8], heavyweights.
Harry Sutton vs. Marion Mosley [4], heavyweights.

Joey Russano, one of the most promising featherweights developed on the northwest side, yesterday was signed to meet Joe Jackson of the south side in a four round supplementary event to the 10-rounder involving Milt Aron and Leonard Bennett in Marigold Gardens Monday. Russano is undefeated as a professional, having scored four victories and one draw decision in five starts. . . . Tony Zale, Gary middleweight, will leave Sunday for Youngstown, O., where he faces Al Wardlow, former Chicago Golden Gloves champion, on Tuesday. . . . Eddie Lander, west side junior lightweight, yesterday returned from New Orleans, La., after losing a split decision to Jimmy Perrin there last Monday. He will resume drills tomorrow for a 12 round rematch with Perrin in the same town Nov. 6. . . .

Davey Day, Chicago lightweight and welterweight challenger, yesterday had the cast removed from his right thumb, injured in his losing fight with Sammy Angott Oct. 6. . . . Johnny Paycheck, 1933 Golden Gloves heavyweight title holder, has opened training in Kid Howard's gymnasium for a 10 round encounter against Carl Vinciquerra, also a Golden Gloves alumnus, in Omaha Nov. 10. Paycheck, a leading contender for Joe Louis' title, claims he merits a match with Tony Galento before Max Baer. Baer and Galento are matched to clash in the Stadium early next year.

TEXAS TECH TEAM STOPS FOR DRILL IN KANSAS CITY

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 25 (AP).—Twenty-eight Red Raiders from Texas Tech raced thru their plays in a two hour workout today, which broke up the long journey from Lubbock to Pittsburgh, Pa., where Duquesne will be met Friday night.

The workout was conducted in 84 degree temperature. Coach Pete Cawthorn believes his injured players will be in condition by Friday night for the third annual game between the two teams, but said his 1939 squad was weaker than that of 1938.

NEW DEAL FILES SUIT AGAINST 236 RAILROADS

Charges Violation of Sherman Act.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—The Roosevelt administration today continued its so far unsuccessful antitrust drive by charging the Association of American Railroads, its officers and directors, and 236 member railroads with violation of the Sherman antitrust act.

The bill of complaint was filed in a civil suit in the District court for the District of Columbia. It charges that these railroads, including all important carriers in the United States of America, have combined to restrain trade by agreeing not to extend to motor carriers the same coöperation in the carriage of freight and passengers which they customarily extend to each other.

Refusal to Fix Rates Charged.

"It is alleged," the department of justice said in the complaint, "that these railroads have jointly refused to establish rates on loaded trucks, trailers, and truck bodies, all commodity rates, container and similar rates, and have jointly refused to establish thru rates, joint rates and fares, and joint billing arrangements with motor carriers in order to eliminate competition."

Railroad men wondered whether this was the long awaited action promised by the administration to help the bankrupted railroads gain a solid footing.

When the carriers last year were faced with a nationwide strike unless they canceled a proposed wage cut, the administration stepped in and promised "a constructive program of legislation" if the order were rescinded. It was. Only minor railroad legislation, however, was passed by the last session of congress.

Action Follows Court Rebuff.

Just last Monday John J. Pelley, president of the association, conferred with President Roosevelt. Pelley reported that the President seemed pleased with the picture of rising car loadings which Pelley presented. The railroad spokesman had been called to the White House to give Mr. Roosevelt a first hand account of the railroad situation.

The suit against the railroads follows by two days also a rebuff which the administration received when the federal Supreme court refused to review a lower court decision dismissing antitrust indictments against organized medicine and its leaders.

Earlier losses on the administration's antitrust scoreboard included dismissal in the Chicago federal court of indictments for an alleged milk monopoly in the Chicago area, and reversal by the Circuit Court of Appeals of convictions against oil companies operating in the middle west. The cases will be carried to the Supreme court finally.

Pelley Comments Favorably.

Pelley commented today that he welcomes the government's action.

"I appreciate the spirit in which the attorney general has approached the question," he asserted. "I welcome a suit of this character, in order that, once and for all, it maybe authoritatively determined to what extent the railroads are permitted, under existing law, to declare sound policies, consistent with the public interest."

TRUCKERS APPROVE SUIT.

The American Trucking Associations, Inc., at the concluding session of their sixth annual convention at the Stevens hotel yesterday, passed a resolution commending the government for the complaint filed against the Association of American Railroads for alleged violation of the antitrust laws.

The organization is composed of trucking companies from all over the nation. The truckers are striving to obtain joint truck-rail rates, which has been opposed by the railroads.

Ted V. Rodgers, president of the Rodgers Motor Lines, Inc., Scranton, Pa., was reëlected president.

Insurance Rates Boosted on Europe Bound Cargoes

New York, Oct. 25 (AP).—Marine underwriters today boosted war risk insurance rates on cargoes carried on United States flag vessels from North and South America to Great Britain and continental Europe. The new rates are $3.50 per $100 worth of cargo, compared with the former rate of $2.50. War risk insurance will not be written on gold or silver, shipments by tankers [oil, gasoline, etc.], airplanes and parts, military firearms, ammunition, bombs or any articles the shipment of which is prohibited by the laws of the United States.

Western Railroads to Cut Round Trip Fares Dec. 15

A reduction in round trip railroad passenger fares from 1.9 cents a mile to 1.8 cents, effective Dec. 15, was announced yesterday by Hugh Siddall, chairman of the Tarnscontinental-Western Passenger association.

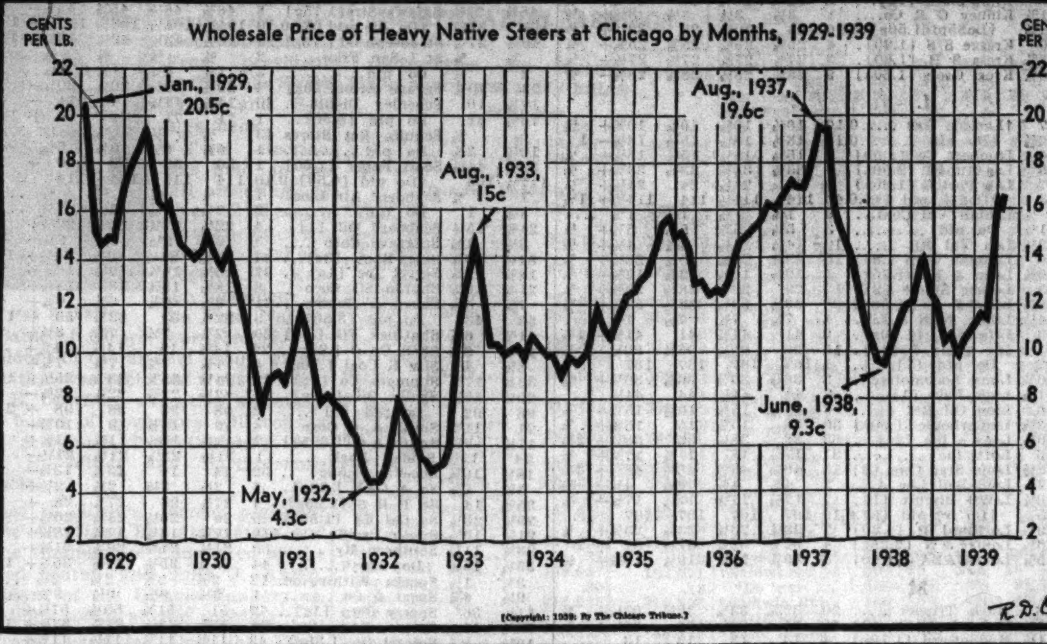
The War Has Sent the Price of Hides Up 5 Cents



[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Morgenthau Denies Aiding War Moneys

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—The treasury is not supporting the currencies of belligerent countries and does not favor a reduction in the price of gold, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau reported today.

His statements on monetary policy were contained in a letter sent to Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.]. The senator had inquired whether the administration's gold purchase program would aid any belligerent under the proposed cash and carry neutrality bill, and what effect adoption of the bill would have on the nation's monetary policies.

No Dealings Since War Began.

Morgenthau asserted that no transactions have been made under the tripartite monetary agreement between the United States, Great Britain, and France since the European war began.

"I have only a day to day agreement with England, France, Holland, Switzerland, and Belgium to deal on their orders for their account—not our account—with settlements at the end of each day," Morgenthau also told Vandenberg in a telephone conversation which supplemented the formal letter of reply. The senator said he had questioned Morgenthau by telephone because he felt the secretary had not answered adequately in his letter.

Vandenberg had asked Morgenthau whether the stabilization fund is now being used in connection with the stabilization of the British pound and the French franc.

Acquiring No Currencies.

"The stabilization fund is not acquiring any currencies of belligerent countries and is holding only a trifling amount of foreign currencies of belligerent countries acquired long before the outbreak of the war," Morgenthau wrote in reply.

He also said that he wished to reaffirm a position he took while appearing before the senate committee on banking and currency last spring. He quoted the following testimony:

"Senators, if there is a war in any foreign country, before we would use the stabilization fund or any money in the treasury to assist any country in prosecuting that war, I would come up before the proper committee and ask for guidance."

Morgenthau said the answer is "probably no" to a question whether the recent depreciation of foreign currencies will increase the flow of gold to the United States.

PRICES OF CORN MOVE HIGHER ON FOREIGN BUYING

Indications that a fairly large amount of American cash corn had been sold for export recently combined with an advance of ½ to 1 cent in the price of yellow corn in the sample market relative to the December were responsible for a rally of about 1 cent a bushel in that grain yesterday. Closing trades on futures were at net gains of ⅝ to ¾ cent.

Wheat was easy early, but firmed later in sympathy with corn and on the strength in securities and finished ⅝ to ¾ cent higher.

Soy beans at one time were about 3 cents higher on commission house and local buying. Shipments of 675,000 bushels of beans in the last two days to eastern lake ports had some effect on sentiment. The close was at gains of 2¼ to 2½ cents. December sold at a new seasonal high price.

REPORT FAIR STORE TO HAVE J. S. SCHOFF AS NEW PRESIDENT

New York, Oct. 25 [Special].—The resignation of James Stanley Schoff as vice president and director of L. Bamberger & Co., Newark, N. J., department store, to become president of The Fair in Chicago was announced today by Richard Weill, head of Bamberger. The resignation is effective Nov. 1.

Schoff could not be reached here or in Newark. Members of his family said they understood he had spent the day in Chicago with S. S. Kresge, chairman of The Fair, who with the Kresge Department Stores Inc. owns the majority of the stock of the Chicago store. The family said they understood that Schoff was to take over the presidency of The Fair on Nov. 1.

OFFICIALS OF STORE SILENT.

Neither Schoff nor Kresge could be found last night in Chicago, nor in Detroit, where Schoff was reported to be spending the night.

Charles S. Maginnis, president of The Fair, declined to discuss the New York report that the store is to have a new president. Other store officials said they had received no indication that there would be such a change. The board of directors has not met recently and no special meeting has been called, it was said.

Schoff started in the research department of the Bamberger store in Newark in 1923. Maginnis succeeded the late D. F. Kelly as president of The Fair in April, 1938. He has been with the store for 36 years. Last April he reported to stockholders that the store was in better condition than it had been in years.

KEESHIN ORDERS 200 NEW TRAILERS TO COST $300,000

An order for 200 streamlined truck trailers was placed yesterday by J. L. Keeshin with the Fruehauf Trailer company, Detroit. The order, one of the largest of its kind to be placed in the Chicago district, involves a total of about $300,000.

J. L. Keeshin.

Keeshin said that 100 of the trailers will be used in truck operations in the east and along the Atlantic seaboard. The other 100 will be used in the middle west and the west. A hundred of the trailers will be refrigerator units for the transportation of packing, dairy, and kindred products.

The order marked a step in a modernization program for the Keeshin truck fleet which numbers some 2,000 trucks. Each of the trailers will be built of high tensile steel which will make possible a saving of about a ton in weight over present similar equipment.

Keeshin said that freight being transported in trucks thru his system is showing a substantial increase over the amount carried a year ago.

HOUSING UTILITY BUILT ON PRIVATE FUNDS PROPOSED

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 25 (AP).—A program described as a "socialized utility in housing" to provide homes for $1,000 a year families was advocated here today by Arthur W. Binns, Philadelphia real estate man. He suggested the plan at the convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Coal Act Can't Fix All Prices, Say Producers

New York, Oct. 25 [Special].—The Guffey coal control act today was assailed by the coal industry when the National Coal association's committee for amendment of the act asserted it is impractical and impossible for the federal government "to fix the price on each and every sale of bituminous coal."

The committee also branded the Guffey act an "authoritarian method" of government control of industry in a statement issued at the 22d annual convention of bituminous producers here. John A. Howe of Chicago, is head of the committee.

Supports Allen Bill.

The statement asserted that conservation of coal resources would be best promoted under the terms of the Allen bill, which is now before congress.

"The Allen bill," the committee said, "amends the Guffy act to provide for coöperative marketing agreements within the industry itself . . . with due protection for the consuming public.

"The Allen bill has the virtue of pursuing a truly American democratic course in national legislation, as contrasted with the authoritarian method of direct government control of private industry contained in the Guffey law."

May Propose Modification.

The committee said that Secretary of the Interior Ickes, who addressed the delegates earlier in the day, apparently does not expect the Guffey law to work, in which event modifications of the law will be proposed.

"Apparently he [Ickes] contemplates even further extension of government burocracy involving regimentation and control of production and uses of coal," the committee said.

Ickes warned the delegates to safeguard the coal industry against a war boom and the resultant peacetime reaction. He also declared the Guffey act placed coal producers, alone among the nation's big industries, in a position "to cope with the economic aftermath of an European war."

RESERVE BANK ABANDONS DAILY REPORT ON GOLD

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York yesterday discontinued publication of daily and weekly reports of gold imports. The decision was based on a desire to have the gold imports reported by a central source, it was believed.

Gold statistics will be available from the department of commerce, which publishes a weekly summary each Friday covering the week ending the preceding Friday. The daily treasury statement also will give the changes in the nation's gold supply.

Ten boxes of silver valued at $100,000 were removed from the steamship President Harding just before the vessel left New York for Europe. The hasty removal was occasioned by a prohibition by the British Board of Trade of imports of silver bullion and foreign coins unless licensed by England.

Coach Train to East Hauls 31,985 Persons in 2 Months

The Trail Blazer, Pennsylvania railroad 17 hour coach train running between Chicago and New York, carried 31,985 passengers in the first two complete months of its operation—August and September, the road announced yesterday. The revenue totaled more than $500,000.

T. W. A. QUARTER PROFITS RISE AS TRAVEL GAINS

Aviation Corp. Has 9 Month Loss.

Substantially increased profits were disclosed yesterday in earnings reports of leading corporations. Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., reported the September quarter's earnings were $143,474, an increase of $134,500 over the net profits of the second quarter. A net loss of $751,719, reported in the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1938, was reduced in the corresponding period this year to a net loss of $212,393.

"The gain is due primarily to the great increase in passenger revenue," Jack Frye, president, explained, "altho there also was considerable increase in air mail and air express revenues during the first nine months of this year."

Aviation Corporation Has Loss.

In contrast with T. W. A.'s earnings increase, Aviation corporation, large producer of airplanes, engines, and propellers, reported a downward trend. It had a consolidated net loss of $1,324,047 for the nine months ended Aug. 31, compared with a profit of $402,062, or 14 cents a share, in the corresponding 1938 period.

Aviation corporation's announcement said unfilled orders on Oct. 18 totaled $7,250,000, compared with $1,620,000 on May 31.

The Illinois Bell Telephone company reported net income, available for dividends, in the first nine months were $9,670,371, compared with net income of $7,609,848 in the corresponding period a year earlier.

Otis Elevator Earns More.

Otis Elevator company reported a net profit of $2,419,678 for the nine months, equal to $1.06 a share of common stock. In the like period last year the corporation had net income of $1,616,840, or 66 cents a share. For the quarter ended Sept. 30 the indicated net income was $841,521, or 37 cents a share, compared with $481,623, equal to 19 cents a share, in the corresponding 1938 quarter.

Standard Brands, Inc., manufacturer of yeast and other foodstuffs, reported a consolidated net income of $1,543,488, equal to 10 cents a share, for the September quarter. This compared with a revised figure of $1,893,616, or 13 cents a share, last year. Nine months' net income was $5,102,861, against $6,190,054 a year ago. Per share earnings for the periods were 35 cents this year, against 43 cents last year.

Lindsay Light and Chemical company, West Chicago chemical producer, reported net profit of $36,982 in the nine months, equal to 42 cents a share of common stock. In the corresponding period a year earlier the company had net income of $21,081, or 15 cents a share.

Joslyn Etimates Earnings.

Joslyn Manufacturing and Supply company, Chicago electrical equipment manufacturers, reported estimated net profit for the nine months' period was $695,000, or $4.18 a share. In the 1938 period the company had net profit of $458,514, or $2.62 a share.

Freeport Sulphur company reported net income of $383,216, equal to 48 cents a common share, for the quarter ended Sept. 30, compared with $393,505, or 50 cents a share, in the 1938 quarter.

Westinghouse Reports Sound Gains; Dislikes War Orders

A sound and steady recovery in the nation's economy, rather than the stimulus of war orders, is responsible for a large upturn in the business of Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, A. W. Robertson, chairman, said yesterday.

A. W. Robertson.

Robertson's statement was issued in connection with the company's earnings report for the first nine months of this year. Net income totaled $9,069,810, against $6,212,823 in the same 1938 period.

Except for a short spurt in 1937, current business of Westinghouse is better than at any time since the beginning of the depression, Robertson said. Unfilled orders on Sept. 30 amounted to $58,337,790, against $43,817,402 on the same date in 1938.

Doesn't Seek War Orders.

Robertson said that Westinghouse did not encourage war orders. If the company had to take a large number of such orders, he said, "it would have to refuse some domestic business and perhaps destroy the confidence of some of its best customers thru failure to take their orders or to deliver them in a reasonable length of time." Any large amount of war orders would only add to the difficulty of operations without providing a corresponding bulge in profits, he said.

Westinghouse is one of the companies operating in the heavy goods industries. It manufactures a wide variety of heavy electrical equipment as well as electrical household appliances.

Why War Is Opposed.

Robertson listed factors which, he said, accounted for the opposition of business to war. Among these reasons were:

1. Government will regulate the functions of business during wartime, and business fears that this will continue after war is ended.

2. Profits resulting from war are short-lived. A war boom is followed inevitably by a depression. The country's most serious depressions, resulting in the bankruptcy of tens of thousands of business institutions, have followed wars.

3. War orders always derange regular production and tend to produce inefficiency and waste.

4. Strength of business depends upon the prosperity of the country, and a war does not add to the ultimate prosperity of any country.

5. Governmental regulation would make war profits difficult to earn if America entered the war.

Net income of Westinghouse for the 12 months ended Sept. 30, amounted to $11,909,761, equal to $4.46 a share on the combined 7 per cent preferred and common shares, against net income of $9,612,711, equal to $3.60 a share on the combined preferred and common shares, for the 12 months ended Sept. 30, 1938.

BUYERS OF STEEL HOUND MILLS FOR FAST DELIVERIES

Steel producers "are being virtually hounded by customers for quicker shipments" on recently placed orders, the magazine Iron Age said yesterday. A secondary buying wave of substantial proportions has developed, it said. Meanwhile the national steelmaking rate has advanced 1 point to 92 per cent of plant capacity, which is only a fraction of a point below the 1937 peak.

The new buying consists of unsolicited orders for first quarter shipment, the survey said. Buying is expected to be accelerated when first quarter prices are announced.

Canada is drawing on United States steel mills for increasing amounts of steel for Canadian railroads.

There is still a tremendous export steel demand which is unsatisfied, the survey said.

'PUZZLED' JUDGE REFUSES TO END MOTORS TRIAL

Says Supreme Court Causes Quandary.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 25 [Special].—Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley today denied a motion for dismissal of the antitrust case against the General Motors corporation and its officials. At the same time he told government and defense attorneys that he believed that the case brought against the corporation was without precedent in the federal court.

Judge Lindley.

Explaining his ruling, Judge Lindley said recent decisions of the United States Supreme court have been so unsettling to legal precedent that he did not feel justified in allowing the defense motion for dismissal, which would preclude a review of the case by the Supreme court.

Says Uncertainty Is Growing.

"I must confess, gentlemen," Judge Lindley told the attorneys, "that at the end of 17 years upon the bench and the end of 35 years engaged as a lawyer and judge, I find less certainty in the law than at any time in that period."

The motion to dismiss was made by John Thomas Smith, chief counsel for the defense, after the government, in a surprise move, rested its case. The presentation of the government's case covered a little more than 12 days, during which 68 witnesses were heard.

Hear Last Federal Witness.

The last witness heard today was R. J. Neeusen, Grand Rapids, Mich., branch manager for the General Motors Acceptance corporation. He was called to identify reports of G. M. A. C. representatives which dealt with alleged attempts to persuade General

New York Stocks.

New York, Oct. 25 [Special].—The stock market advanced fractions to more than 2 points today on a resumption of "war buying." Aviation, steel, and motor issues showed the widest gains, although virtually all groups shared in the rise.

Trading was the most active in weeks, the turnover reaching 1,691,200 shares, against 1,163,330 yesterday. The tape was one minute late at the close.

The growing conviction that a prolonged and more lively European war is in prospect provided much of the background for the advance, most observers said.

North American Aviation was one of the leaders, rising 1⅜ points on active buying. Curtiss Wright again took volume honors and added ⅜ of a point. Bendix added 2 points in more active dealings. Gains running to a point were made by Douglas, Sperry corporation, Glenn Martin, Boeing, and United Aircraft.

Representative industrial shares which had been sluggish lately returned to favor. United States Steel gained almost 2 points and Bethlehem added 2¼ points. Republic, Youngstown Sheet and Tube and others posted gains running to a point.

General Motors, Yellow Truck, and Greyhound were active in the motors, each rising fractionally. Chrysler stood out with a spurt of 2¼ points.

International Nickel, which was depressed at the outbreak of war because of its foreign interests, jumped 2 points. Other leading copper shares added a point or so each.

Key rubber shares were uniformly higher.

Rail shares edged higher. Power and light shares held to a narrow course. Oils were mixed.

In the chemicals, Allied lost ground, but du Pont and Union Carbide both added more than a point. Heavy machinery issues ruled firm.

Building construction shares continued to meet support. National Gypsum, Johns-Manville,

New York Bonds.

New York, Oct. 25 (AP).—Bonds of France and small neutral European nations climbed today in one of the largest rises since the outbreak of the war. Values in Italian and German loans declined.

In the past, the tendency had been for French and Scandinavian issues to wilt whenever Germany "turned on the heat." The uptrend today puzzled many in the market, especially in view of the steep upsweep in "war shares" in the stock market. United States government issues closed with gains in the majority.

Chicago Stocks.

Seventeen issues reached new 1939 high levels on the Chicago Stock Exchange yesterday in heavy trading. Five of the 17 were volume leaders, including Bendix Aviation, Marshall Field, Bliss & Laughlin, Aro Equipment, and Electric Household. Sales totaled 56,000 shares.

Commonwealth Edison, the volume leader, closed ⅛ higher at 30½ on a turnover of 5,850 shares. Aro Equipment, on a turnover of 1,150 shares, set a new high of 13¾. It closed at 13½, up ½.

Bliss & Laughlin, setting a new high at 35, closed at 34¾, up ¼. Marshall Field reached 17⅜ for its new peak, and closed at 17¼, up ⅛. Bendix Aviation rose 1¾, closing at 32⅞ for its new high. Electric Household closed at a new peak of 4¼, up ¼.

Commodities

Commodity prices moved generally higher in quiet trading at New York yesterday, with hides, rubber, and tin leading the advance.

Cash rubber closed .12 cent a pound higher at 20⅛ cents, while futures finished irregular with most deliveries on the upside. Final quotations were .07 cent lower to .28 cent higher.

Hides advanced .19 to .23 cent a pound, and tin closed .10 to 1 cent a pound higher. Other staples finishing at higher prices than on Tuesday were Rio coffee futures, cocoa, cottonseed oil and copper.

Silk gained as much as 9 cents a pound, but the cash commodity sank 1½ cents to $3.45½ a pound. Sugar futures, under pressure of liquidating sales in recent trading, came back with gains running to .04 cent a pound.

Santos coffee declined slightly. Wool top futures were irregular. Lead and zinc were uneven.

CLOSED BANKS' EXPENDITURES EXCEED INCOME

Depositors Fare Better in Third Quarter.

BY HAROLD SMITH.

The 134 closed state banks in Cook county that are still in receivership spent $545,660 more than they took in during the three months ended Sept. 30, State Auditor Edward J. Barrett announced yesterday in his report for the third 1939 quarter.

Barrett's figures are based on periodical reports submitted to him by the receivers of closed state banks. Charles H. Albers is general receiver for most of these defunct institutions.

Both an increase in outgo and a decrease in income contributed to the deficit, the report shows.

One Receivership Ends.

Income for the quarter totaled $2,167,442. This was $1,129,673 less than was taken in by 135 banks in the preceding quarter. One bank, the Midwest State, was taken out of receivership in the quarter just ended.

Disbursements totaled $2,713,103, which was $252,225 more than 135 bank receiverships spent in the preceding quarter.

Barrett said this excess of expenditures over income can be expected to continue as creditors of the closed banks are paid off and remaining assets are depleted.

Depositors of the closed institutions in general fared somewhat better last quarter than in the one before. Ten of the banks repaid $645,864 of deposit money. In the June quarter the number of paying banks was the same but the total of their payments was only $568,390.

Secured Creditors Get More.

Preferred and secured creditors did much better, however. In the period just closed they received a total of $704,454. This is $394,702 more than this creditor group got from 135 banks in the preceding quarter, and $675,866 more than was paid in the corresponding period of 1938.

Last quarter's expenses of $259,700 were down somewhat from the preceding quarter's total of $281,759. The receiver got $5,921 of last quarter's total. Another $111,506 went for clerical and stenographic hire and the salary of deputy receivers. Interest amounted to $54,325. Lawyers received $29,213, and $58,735 was paid out for miscellaneous expense.

Calumet-Sag Improvement Plans Will Be Resurveyed

Army engineers will resurvey the proposed $26,000,000 improvement of the Calumet-Sag channel, it was reported yesterday in Washington, D. C., to determine whether changes in the plans proposed by the sanitary district of Chicago would be for the public benefit.

BENTON HARBOR FRUIT PRICES.

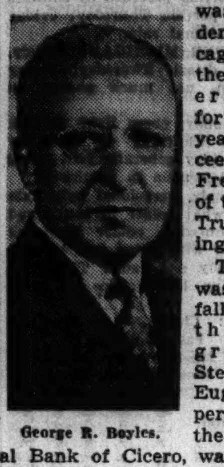
BOYLES NAMED HEAD OF CHICAGO DISTRICT OF BANKERS GROUP

George R. Boyles, president of the Merchants National bank, last night was elected president of the Chicago district of the Illinois Bankers association for the next two years. He succeeds Joseph R. Frey, president of the Lake Shore Trust and Savings bank.



George R. Boyles.

The election was held at the fall meeting of the Chicago group in the Stevens hotel. Eugene W. Kasper, president of the First National Bank of Cicero, was elected vice president of the district group. Frank C. Rathje was reëlected treasurer and Sue E. Downing executive secretary. The board of governors will consist of H. S. French, T. H. Golightly, William H. Miller and Bartholemew O'Toole.

Silas H. Strawn, former president of the American Bar association and of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and John J. Anton, president of the Illinois Bankers association, spoke at the meeting.

Strawn predicted that the European war will be a long one and that it will bankrupt the belligerent nations.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Wholesale markets in Packing Town yesterday were burdened with an excessive supply of fresh pork as a result of heavy slaughtering of hogs thruout the country. Pork loins fell $1.00 to $1.50 a hundred pounds, selling only slightly above the lowest level of the season. Hogs dipped 5 to 10 cents.

Medium and heavy steers comprised a big part of cattle receipts. These sold weak to 25 cents lower. Light and handyweight held steady. Lambs slumped fully 25 cents.

[All prices are in dollars per 100 pounds.]

Freight Car Shortage 721 Daily During Two Weeks

The car service division of the Association of American Railroads reported yesterday that there was an average daily freight car shortage of 721 cars in the last two weeks of September. This was the first such shortage since the two weeks ended July 31, 1937. Dow-Jones dispatches estimated that car loadings in the week ended last Saturday reached a new peak for the last nine years.

DOUGLAS LASHES NEW DEAL SHIFT IN SPENDING AIM

Objectives Now Unsound, Says Ex-Budget Head.

New York, Oct. 25 (AP).—Lewis Douglas, former United States budget director, today criticized present government spending on the ground that it had changed in principle since 1933 from sound objectives to unsound ones.

Douglas, who has been president of McGill university in Montreal, spoke at a forum on current problems. In criticizing the administration, in which he served for a year and a half, he enumerated various phases of New Deal spending.

In 1931-'33, he said, spending was aimed at averting "a complete debacle" and providing relief—involving the "excusable lesser of two evils."

Turns to Pump Priming.

In the subsequent years, he asserted, government spending progressed to the objectives of economic pump priming and remedying a purported restriction in opportunities for private investment.

The latter objectives, he said, imply that some government agency eventually must make "two highly technical and exceedingly delicate decisions: [1] when in the business cycle shall public expenditures be reduced, and [2] by how much?"

He questioned whether congress or any parliament had the necessary impartial viewpoint and technical economic knowledge to do this.

"Perhaps government . . . will be unwilling to assume the risk of inducing a depression by retrenchment," Douglas suggested.

"Ever Increasing Doses."

"In this event the policy of spending must be continued by administering ever increasing doses of public funds in an effort to maintain a rising or even a stationary level of economic activity.

"Ultimately this volume of public spending produces economic disintegration manifested by widespread public distress."

Then he said, "totalitarian techniques" for regulation of prices, production, and distribution have to be resorted to.

MAJESTIC RADIO PRESIDENT'S PAY CUT BY COURT

Judge Says He May Have to Appoint Receiver.

The Majestic Radio and Television corporation, Chicago manufacturer of radio receiving sets, will continue to operate temporarily under its present management, but the salary of its president will be cut from $30,000 to $14,400 a year. This was ordered yesterday by Federal Judge John P. Barnes.

Ross A. Lasley, president of Majestic.

The company filed on Tuesday a voluntary petition for reorganization because of its inability to obtain working capital.

After hearing from James A. Sprowl, attorney for the company, that operating loss in the fiscal year ended May 31 was $253,000, Judge Barnes said he may have to appoint a receiver. He postponed until Nov. 1, however, decision on two petitions requesting the firm be declared in receivership.

The court regarded the salary of Ross A. Lasley, president, too large and suggested the reduction. A new audit of the company's condition was ordered for presentation Nov. 27 at a creditors' meeting before Carl R. Chindblom, referee in bankruptcy, 7 South Dearborn street.

In New York Assistant Attorney General Ambrose McCall disclosed that Majestic capital stock had been sold heavily Tuesday. He announced that an investigation of sales in the last four months has been launched. The stock was suspended from dealings Tuesday on the New York Curb exchange.

COTTON

Reports that the department of agriculture has approved provisions for a loan program on the 1939 cotton crop and transmitted its recommendations to the White House combined with mill and commission house buying resulted in an advance of .06 to .10 cent a pound in cotton futures yesterday. Strength in securities was also a factor. Trading was fairly active at times. Hedging sales checked the upturn.

Ginnings of cotton to Oct. 18 as reported by the census bureau aggregated 8,874,000 bales, or slightly smaller than expected, compared with 8,026,000 bales during the same period last year.

Spot cotton closed .07 to .16 cent higher with New York, 9.42 cents; New Orleans, 9.25 cents; Galveston, 9.01 cents, and Houston at 8.88 cents a pound. Prices follow:

DAY by DAY on the FARM

By HOMER WEISZ

The Rains Came.

Oct. 25, 1939.

THE first heavy rains in more than two months fell at the Du Page county farm last night and this morning. The total rainfall was nearly two inches. Fields that had been hard and dry for weeks are muddy today for the first time since the middle of August.

Fall plowing will be resumed tomorrow in old alfalfa meadows where the soil has been too hard to plow. The surface soil is too slippery there today for tractors to operate. Some plowing was done following the last rains in August.

The much needed moisture is expected to be a big help to the winter wheat crop. All the wheat is up, but it has been making slow growth. Already there is a noticeable difference in the wheat fields and the pastures.

Finish Corn Picking.

All the corn had been picked and stored before the rains softened the fields. A total of 52.8 acres of corn were grown on the farm this year and 23.2 acres were cut for silage, leaving 29.6 acres to be harvested for grain. This made a total yield of 2,139 bushels, or an average of 72.2 bushels per acre.

The corn yield was higher than usual for the farm, but was less than had been expected during the growing season. Yields varied considerably between different fields and, to some extent, between different strains of hybrid corn growing on similar soil. All the corn was dry and of good quality. The crop matured much earlier than usual this year and the hot, dry weather in September dried the ears so that the corn could be harvested well ahead of the normal corn picking date.

The heaviest yield came from a small field of only 4.1 acres that made 415 bushels, or 101.2 bushels per acre. This field was near a cattle feeding yard and had been manured heavily.

Minimum Yield 59.4 Bu.

The lowest yield was 59.4 bushels per acre. The soil in this field is relatively thin. A more fertile field planted with the same hybrid strain, No. G19, made 81.6 bushels per acre.

A field of 13.7 acres that was expected to make the highest yield of any produced only 64.4 bushels per acre. This field had been in pasture for several years. A heavy crop of red clover was turned under the last time the field was cultivated. The clover was seeded following heavy applications of lime and phosphate.

Steers in the Stalks.

Thirty-nine Hereford steers have been running in the stalk fields since the corn was picked. They now have access to two of the stalk fields and also to open bluegrass and clover pastures and to several acres of woodland pasture.

The steers usually make two trips into the stalk fields each day. They go from the stalks either to the bluegrass or clover pastures to graze and then stroll off into the woods and lie down.

SEALED PROPOSALS, for the furnishing of all labor, material, transportation, tools and equipment for the construction and completion of the Industrial Laboratory Unit and Solvents Storage Building at the Northern Regional Laboratory, located on the Southwest Corner of University and Nebraska Avenues, Peoria, Illinois, for the Bureau of Agricultural Chemistry and Engineering, U. S. Department of Agriculture, will be received by the Chief, Division of Purchase, Sales and Traffic, U. S. Department of Agriculture, until 2 P. M., EST., November 21, 1939.

The work will consist of construction and completion of a sixteen (16) bay Industrial Laboratory Unit located at the rear of the South end of the Administration Unit now under construction and will be four stories in height and attic approximately 65'0"x 258'0"x54'0" high of structural steel framing, reinforced concrete footings, columns and slabs, masonry wall construction and steel sash; built-up roofing on wood plank over first three bays and a steel deck roof and continuous monitor lined with two inches of rigid insulation and covered with built-up roofing over the remaining thirteen bays; two rows of intermediate steel columns shall support the monitor and crane rails and shall be tied to the exterior columns and to one another by means of permanent fixed balconies at the second floor level in alternate bays; each of the other alternate bays will have adjustable balcony with provisions in all bays for placing future adjustable balconies at levels of three inches intervals; all balconies will be provided with removable wire mesh grills and guard rail with decks of removable subway grating; and the necessary electrical, plumbing and heating connections and required equipment.

The Solvents Storage Building will be approximately 16'0"x26'0" and 10'0" in height; concrete foundation, brick walls and a skylight on the roof which will be approximately 12'0"x20'0".

Award of the contract will be made only to a contractor who can show sufficient experience, financial resources, and who executes performance bond of 100% of cost and payment bond of 50% of cost, to insure the satisfactory installation of the work contemplated.

Plans and specifications may be had on application to the Chief, Purchase, Sales and Traffic, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., on deposit of $50.00. Reference must be made to U. S. D. A. No. 7115. Checks must be certified and made payable to the Treasurer of the United States. If drawings and specifications in possession of unsuccessful bidders are not returned to and received by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Agricultural Chemistry and Engineering, Washington D. C., within 60 days after the bids are opened the deposits will be forfeited to the Government.

'PUZZLED' JUDGE REFUSES TO END MOTORS TRIAL

Says Supreme Court Has Him in Quandary.

Motors dealers to use G. M. A. C. facilities in financing sales.

Judge Lindley spoke at some length in explaining his reasons for denying the defense motion. After citing recent Supreme court decisions in which precedents of long standing have been upset, he said:

"The Supreme court of the United States is the supreme judicial authority of this country. It should be, and I think is, the greatest tribunal on the face of the earth. But the decisions I have mentioned place me in a number of situations where there is a question in mind. I am put into a quandary as to when and how often a district judge should express his own solemn convictions.

No Precedent, He Asserts.

"It would mean, if I should allow this motion, that the Supreme court would not have the opportunity to decide what the law is in this case, which is, as I have said, without precedent.

"I have reviewed the evidence carefully. The theory of the case is that there was a conspiracy to restrain unduly interstate commerce in General Motors cars; that is the criminal charge. All else is means to the end.

"It is charged that this conspiracy to interfere unreasonably or unduly with interstate commerce in General Motors automobiles was effected and brought to a head and perfected by certain means and methods, namely, the various acts that are charged by way of specific acts against these defendants in the way of forcing financing thru G. M. A. C.

Discusses Evidence.

"There has been evidence here that I think, makes a prima facie case of all of the facts proved in the indictment, a prima facie case of what is charged.

"The question of fact is: Was interstate commerce in General Motors cars unreasonably and unduly effected? Under our constitution and laws the jury is charged with the determination of that question of fact.

"It seems to me that unless I will say, as a matter of law, that this theory of government must be condemned, and unless I can say that I should deny the chance to go to the Supreme court, it is my duty to deny the motion, because the question of fact must be decided by the jury, and in that situation, gentlemen, I do not feel that I should obstruct it if I had them, views which would terminate this litigation now and here."

Dismisses Later Motion.

After denying the blanket dismissal Judge Lindley rejected a defense motion to dismiss individual indictments.

The government ended its case sooner than was expected. Holmes Baldridge, chief government counsel, had indicated earlier that more than 500 witnesses would be called.

Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman of General Motors, and William S. Knudsen, president, were in the courtroom today when Judge Lindley announced his ruling.

After the ruling was given the defense moved for a recess until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

PLAYING CARDS.

Please send me some information on United States Playing Card company.—I. J.

Answer: United States Playing Card company has had a long record of consistent earnings and dividend payments. The present company was incorporated in 1917. In each year it has operated at a profit and made some return to stockholders in dividends.

The company is the largest manufacturer of playing cards in this country. Brands are maintained in a complete price range. Net income, earnings a share and dividends a common share in recent years:

| Year. | Net income. | Earned. | Paid. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1934 | $510,440 | $2.03 | $1.50 |
| 1935 | 704,273 | 1.78 | 2.25 |
| 1936 | 656,635 | 1.66 | 2.25 |
| 1937 | 843,203 | 2.11 | 2.00 |
| 1938 | 827,808 | 2.11 | 2.00 |

Net income for the first six months of this year was $426,941, equal to $1.11 a common share, against net income of $405,304, equal to $1.04 a common share, in the same period last year. Dividends amounting to $2.40 a share have been declared so far this year.

Financial position is excellent. Current assets totaled $7,872,926 and current liabilities $537,616 at Dec. 31, 1938. There is no funded debt. The common stock, of which 385,773 shares of $10 par value are outstanding, is the sole capitalization. It is considered a good business man's risk.

OUR DEFAULTS.

In your answer to a correspondent you recently stated that certain American southern states borrowed to conduct the civil war and then defaulted. Many southern states borrowed long before the war and their defaults had nothing to do with that war.—I. G.

Answer: You are correct. Between 1830 and 1850 many American states borrowed heavily thru the sale of bonds abroad—particularly in London. Sale was made to private individuals and institutions, not to governments. Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee, and Florida borrowed in this manner and have repudiated such debts.

MANY RAILROADS REPORT INCOME GAINS THIS YEAR

Increased profits for recent periods were reported yesterday by a number of leading railroads. The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha reported September net operating income of $294,792, replacing a loss of $26,184 in September, 1938. The road reduced its net operating loss of $368,576, reported in the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1938, to $352,756 this year.

Net operating income of the Great Northern railway totaled $4,065,689 in September, against $4,011,511 in the corresponding month of 1938. Net income for the month was $2,894,541, compared with $2,799,894 in 1938.

Save the Difference

Commonwealth's charge is less on all loans than the maximum permitted by law. Our monthly rate of 2½% on loan balances of $150 or less and only 2% on loan balances above applies to ALL TYPES and CLASSES OF LOANS. Any one who can make regular payments can qualify; there is no discrimination. EVERYBODY GETS THIS SAME RATE. Of course, persons whose incomes are above average can afford to make larger payments and thus make substantial reductions in their loan cost.

No credit inquiries of friends or relatives. Applications received by personal call, letter, or telephone will receive immediate attention.

Local Loan Gives You the Service You Want

75% of our loans are Signature Only Loans to employed men and women. LOCAL LOAN originated and perfected this salary loan service because the great body of employed people—young or old and regardless of occupation—are entitled to a simplified loan method.

Our aim is to offer you whatever plan will enable you to borrow most easily. LOCAL LOAN makes liberal Furniture and Auto Loans, but if you are steadily employed we prefer to make you a loan On Your Signature Only without mortgages or endorsers. You may borrow $25 to $300—

On Your Signature Only

You make your own repayment terms [repaying any time within 20 months], and you are charged only for the actual time you have the money.

When you deal with LOCAL LOAN you borrow without the knowledge of your employer, friends and relatives.

We cannot tell you all about our service in our advertisement. Just phone one of the following offices. Your loan request can be taken over the telephone so you can obtain the money more quickly when you call in person.

Residents of Illinois have benefited by this new "SPECIAL" Loan Plan.

As little as $2.00 to $2.26 a week repays in full, including all charges, a $150 loan over 20 months at America's largest loan company. No salary assignments.

$2.00 a week on the average is all you need to set aside for every $150 borrowed on Personal's new amazing "Special" loan plan of only 1⅛% per month on the actual balance owed. This plan is for persons with a steady income or salary sufficient to meet payments promptly without undue credit strain and a good credit record. You don't need co-makers, life insurance or bankable securities.

For persons without established credit and employment ratings and who wish to carry a loan larger than 8 to 12% of annual salary or income, Personal offers its "Regular" loan plan. On this plan an average of $2.26 set aside per week takes care of everything on a $150 loan—the charge is based on 3% monthly on unpaid balances of $100 and less and 2% monthly on unpaid balances over $100.

Loans up to $300 on either plan on your personal note, or with furniture or auto. Co-maker loans are also available on "Regular" plan. Seize this opportunity to save on loan costs. Come in or telephone today.
